Asks Governor To Correct ABC Ruling

Improvement Association Adopts Resolution Seeking This Action

At the annual meeting of the Newton Improvement Association held last Thursday evening, the following resolution was unanimously adopted and forwarded to Governor Paul A. Dever:

Be It Resolved:

That the Newton Improvement Association requests Governor Paul A. Dever to do everything in his power to correct the injustice caused by the Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission's overruling of the Newton License Commission, and approving another package goods liquor license in Newton Corner. In making this request, the Association presents the following:

1. The Newton Improvement Association is composed of residents of wards 1 and 7 of the City of Newton. It does not include any package store licensees in its membership. The welfare and improvement of conditions in the community is its only objective.

II. At the present time, there are two all-purpose package goods liquor stores in Newton Corner, plus a number of others only a few blocks away in Watertown and Brighton. This number is more than adequate to serve the convenience of the public.

III. The Newton License Commission refused to grant a license for another package goods store in Newton Corner. It did award a license for such a store in the Thompsonville section of Newton Center, where no such license now exists.

IV. The Newton License Commission has stated in writing that Newton Corner is the worse possible location for another package goods store, and refused to comply with the order of the Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission to do so.

Two honors have come this month to James Remley, Supervisor of Music in the Newton Public Schools. Mr. Remley was reelected president of the In-and-About Boston Music Educators Club at the last meeting at Boston University Commons. This group meets four times each year in Boston, presenting programs dealing with professional development in the field of school music education.

Mr. Remley has also been invited by the Western Maine Music Festival Association to conduct the Festival Chorus of 400 mixed high school voices at Lewiston, Maine this Saturday. He will adjudicate at the festival both Friday and Saturday, May 2 and 3. It is expected that between six and seven thousand students will move into Lewiston for this occasion.

It was your request that induced the Boston Guild for the Hard of Hearing to purchase the first group audiometer in Boston and it was you who alerted surround:

Ottawa Students Here While Newton Group Visits Canada

Glebe Collegiate Institute Pupils Get Taste of American Life and Methods During Exciting Week

Thirty-two students and two faculty leaders of Glebe Collegiate Institute of Ottawa, Canada, who arrived here last Thursday on the School Exchange, are spending an interesting and busy week in Newton and will end tomorrow morning (Friday) when the group will entrain at the North Station for their homeward trip.

A like number of Newton High School boys and girls left last Sunday for Ottawa, Canada, to be guests of the Glebe Collegiate Institute for several days returning home this coming Monday morning.

While here the young Newtonites are busy showing the Glebe students their American life, from high school classes to historic sites around Boston.

This event is the seventh School and School Exchange for Newton High School but marks the first international one.

Director of the Newton student exchanges is Floyd Rinker. According to him this is the most elaborate student exchange ever planned between schools in this country and Canada.

The young Canadian visitors are wide eyed. Biggest reaction of many since their arrival has been to television. "We sat up late the other night watching TV," said Robby Dunlop of Ottawa. "It's marvelous."

Each visitor is staying in the home of a Newton High School student. Thus they are learning about Newton life from the kind of breakfast cereal their hosts eat to the kind of jobs they look forward to. According to Judy Reid, another young visitor, she's richly deserved the honor which the Boston Guild for the Hard of Hearing because of her most valuable aid in this work over the years.

In speaking of Miss Macnutt's work, Harold B. Gores, superintendent of the Newton Public Schools said:

"Ena Macnutt richly deserves the honor which the Boston Guild for the Hard of Hearing has so appropriately accorded her. In her quiet and kindly way she caused the Newton Schools to respond to the needs of hard of hearing children as she saw those needs. It is not always an easy task to cause a public institution to meet its obligations, particularly when limitation of funds prevent it from responding to all the needs of all the children."

"Whenever she made recommendations, particularly if an outlay of funds was involved, the cause was always expressed in terms of help for a child or a particular group of children. As she built up the services of Newton schools to minister to children with impaired hearing, all of us who were privileged to take part, School Committee, Administration, Division of Counseling Services, and teachers, had an abiding sense of doing what was right for a handicapped child."

Mr. Parker, Guild president, paid a tribute to the Newton School System for having created a model department after which many other communities might well pattern.

The citation which was presented by Edward F. Parker, president of the Guild, to Miss Ena G. Macnutt in her office at the Counseling Department in the old Clafin School, 100 Washington Park, Newtonville, stated:

"In honoring you, Miss Ena G. Macnutt, as a pioneer in bringing handicapped children back to their heritage of hearing, ours is merely an attempt to put into words the appreciation due to you for a life of dedicated service.

Cites Need of All to Secure Proper Safety Education

At a recent meeting of the Massachusetts Safety Conference, Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department was a participant and delivered a discourse on the subject of "Community Highway Safety."

Chief Purcell stated: "It seems timely that we give the citizens of Newton an opportunity to learn more about traffic and safety activities in order that all of us might give serious consideration to the soundness of standards established and their related purposes."

"Our Police Departments and our men making up our Police Departments are primarily the enforcement group in community safety. We can and do, however, take some part in the educational phase also. Compared with the total population or the total number of vehicles on our roads, our numbers are small. We have been described as a thin, blue line which stands between right and wrong. Considering the increase in population and number of vehicles, that line is becoming thinner."

"We can adequately take care of that small percentage of drivers who are definitely accident prone, those whose attitudes are contrary to good performance in motor vehicle operation, but these folks do not cause all of the accidents. Many of our accidents are by the so-called average drivers who represent a large percentage of those on the road."

"Selective enforcement, i.e., concentrating on those locations where and when experience has shown us that most accidents happen, is accepted as a definite solution. However, it is not a cure-all by any means. We must depend upon all of our good citizens for vigorous cooperation and support. In criminology, it is widely agreed that reformation and rehabilitation must come from within the individual. True, we can lock them up for a number of years, and the principal value is the fact that the citizens get a breathing spell during this time. Now it is much the same with the general public who have been told time and again that they must do this or must do that, or, what is worse, that they must not do this or that. In our American way of life, this gripes us all."

"Education is defined as the systematic training of the moral

Seek Increase in Bus Fares on Routes Here

Middlesex and Boston in Petition to DPU for New Rate Schedule

As an aftermath of the settlement of the six and a half week strike of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company, notices of a proposed increase in fares were placed in the buses setting May 28 as the date of the change.

John H. Walsh, president and general manager of the M. and B., said the date may be postponed by the DPU as a public hearing on the increase may be held. The proposed increase would establish a straight 15-cent bus fare, elimination of reduced rate tokens, and a student fare of 7½ cents.

Mr. Walsh declared the fare rise, giving the company an additional $100,000 yearly, was made necessary by a "decline in the number of riders and an increase in costs due to the settlement of the strike."

Wednesday the feature of the day was a visit to the House of Commons with remarks by the Prime Minister of Canada, and in the evening witnessed Canadian films.

Today the Newton students will be given a reception by the Governor-General in the afternoon and they will be free to spend the evening at the home of their hosts.

Tomorrow (Friday) in addition to their supervised study periods, the group will be afforded the opportunity of visiting one of the large Canadian paper mills.

Saturday the entire group will go to the Embassy in the morning and the concluding event will be a dance in the evening for all concerned, including parents.

Over 250 Boys Turn Out for East Little League Try-outs

Even the dark, dreary day couldn't dampen the spirits of over 250 boys between the ages of 10 and 11 who turned out last Saturday afternoon at rain-soaked Newton Centre Playground where the Newton East Little League was conducting its tryout for both regular and farm teams. The wet playing fields presented an unwelcome handicap to the anxious youngsters, but also inspired them to Herculean efforts in their attempts to impress the scouts for the four Newton East Teams.

Managers Sidney Borofsky, George Kaplan, Frederick Pagano and Henry Barry, together with their assistants worked diligently under the most adverse conditions to give each boy a fair opportunity to display his abilities. The playground was divided into separate areas for pitchers, infielders, outfielders, batters, and president of the Newton East League, Jason Silverman, kept things running smoothly all afternoon.

Each participant was assigned a large number to wear on his back, and was identified by this number only. As the boys performed, careful notations were made by the scouts. These notations will be used as the basis for selecting the players when the managers meet early in May and bid for players at the players' auction.

The Newton Centre Playground will again be the scene of tremendous activity next Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. when all 8 and 9 year old boys who have made application for the Newton East League will be given their chance to make the grade. Those applicants who missed trying out last Saturday, may do so this coming Saturday morning.

Soap Box Derby to Be Held Next Year After Lapse

This will be a recess year for the Boston Traveler-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby, but the Soap Box Derby will be run again in 1953 on a permanent ramp just like the one in Akron, Ohio, it has been announced by Moye Chevrolet Co., Inc.

Through the co-operation of the Metropolitan District Commission, the sponsors of the Soap Box Derby will build a permanent, asphalt racing strip, modeled after the Akron, Ohio, course. The site will be provided by the Metropolitan District Commission.

The new permanent ramp will give all the Soap Box Derby contestants a chance to use it throughout the year — weather conditions permitting — to test their racers, to time their speed, and to perfect their car control.

The Boston Soap Box Derby has been run in past years over a temporary, wooden ramp at Suffolk Downs. The new ramp will be hard top, about the same distance as the Akron course, and with very similar angles.

Archers Hold Tournament

Newton Archers held the first archery of the tournament recently at Newton Centre Playground. There was a small group but the clubs in the state were well represented.

The men shot a Double American Round while the women shot Columbia and American Rounds.

Newton Nine, Snapping Out of Its Hitting Slump, Appears Set for Foes

Newton High nine, which for a while appeared to lack power, have started hitting the ball hard and are keeping pace with the best of them. Up to date, however, the season has been young, but starting this week the Orange nine will be kept busy and before another seven days roll by should give an indication of where the team will wind up in the League standing.

Beginning tomorrow Friday, when Newton will journey to Cambridge, the Orange nine will play three games in the next seven days. After Cambridge, Newton will again be on the road, meeting Arlington in that community next Tuesday and will play a return engagement at Newton with the same team a week from tomorrow.

These three games should go a long way in telling the story for Newton. After pasting its arch rival, Waltham last week to the tune of 7 to 1, Newton appears to stand an excellent chance of leading the League at least finishing well up at the top. Waltham was no real test, however, as the Watch City boys lost three straight League games to Watertown, Arlington and Newton to share the loop deagoon with winless Rindge.

Newton snapped out of its hitting slump at the expense of Waltham in its outing last week, collecting 11 hits, including a triple by Don Flagg and a homer by Fred Dauten, off two Crimson moundsmen.

In winning its games, Newton has been blessed with some fine hurling which although at times showed wild streaks with many passes, was sufficient to bear down and keep the opposition from scoring while the Orange team was in its hitting slump.

Sophomore Art DeStefano, a star pitcher at the Weeks Junior High School last year, has looked good and much is expected of him in future games. In the ten innings he has pitched to date, Art has allowed only five hits, walked five and fanned three.

That is pitching at its best and with DeStefano's aid, Newton should continue to improve.

The scores made by the women were as follows: Lillian Waternman, Springfield, 159-1197; Doris Nevin, Lowell, 156-980; Fannie Cheney, Worcester, 156-948; Muriel Hayden, Worcester, 154-981; Ella Gay, Worcester, 154-830; Dorothy Morel, 134-724; Helen Considine, Attleboro, 116-542; Lillian MacVicar, Attleboro, 99-393.

Three juniors completed the double American Round: James Mosher, Lowell, 175-1106; Edward Dupree, Worcester, 168-946; Ralph Rideout, Newton, 71-285.

South Little League to Make Final Team Selections May 10

Following the Executive Meeting of the Newton South Little League, President E. H. Bryant announced that final selections of players for the four major league teams will be released May 10. The order followed reports by the managers that the outstanding ability of the boys trying out for the teams makes an earlier selection impossible.

In addition to the major league team, each village will enter a farm team in competition.

An old rivalry will be resumed when Waban and Newton Upper Falls teams meet July 4th, since approval was granted for the transfer of Independence Day games from the home field at Cold Springs to the local playing fields, in order to allow participation in the neighborhood cele- bration.

Players Agent Arthur Walker is most anxious that every eligible boy have full opportunity to display his talent and requests that any applicant not previously considered report to the manager of the district in which he resides. The following tryout and practice sessions are scheduled:

Waban — Saturday 2 p.m. Al- len Avenue Field.

Newton Highlands — Saturday, 9:30 a.m. Newton Highlands Play- ground.

Newton Lower Falls — Every evening — Hamilton Play- ground.

Newton Upper Falls — Saturday, 2 p.m. Upper Falls Play- ground.

Little League Sports Night At Upper Falls Saturday

New Shooting Group Formed

Everyone interested in Little League Baseball is invited to attend the unusual Sports' Night to be presented at Emerson School this Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. The program will feature official motion pictures of League activities. John Donoghue will have the dual role of master of ceremonies and moderator of the panel of experts, who will answer all questions.

The program is intended as a rousing send-off for the Newton Upper Falls "Tigers," who will open the season at Cold Spring Playground May 17. Manager Edward D. Flanders, 18 Vine- yard road, Newton Centre, has been elected president of a new Boston area senior shooting group, the Pioneer Gun Club, the National Rifle Association has announced.

Instructor for the newly chartered club is Al Cleslik, 22 Led- yard street, Wellesley. Other officers are: Thomas P. Goethel, 40 Orchard avenue, West Newton, vice-president; Albert F. Robichaud, 125 Rindge avenue, Cambridge, executive officer; Paul J. W. Arsenault,

William M. Powers Reelected Head of Improvement Ass'n

William M. Powers was re-elected president of the Newton Improvement Association at its annual meeting held in the Underwood School last Thursday night. Other officers elected were: Guy Baker, 1st vice-president; William E. Hopkins, 2nd vice-president; John P. McCarthy, treasurer; Miss Margaret F. Magoley, recording secretary; and Miss Elizabeth Tobey, corresponding secretary.

Directors who will serve for the coming year are:

Ward 7, precinct 1: Henry S. Pinkham, Kenneth B. Backman, William M. Wasson, Earl W. Douglas, Joseph Chevarely, Thomas Dillon, Dr. Arthur Gorman, Julius W. Kohler, and Percy H. Trundle.

Ward 7, precinct 2: State Representative George Rawson, Rev. Robert W. Woodrooffe, Jr., William Chagnon, Mrs. Morris H. Adler, Joseph J. Cura, Lofti Gayzakian, Frank R. Wasson, and John Mullen.

Ward 7, precinct 3: Paul S. Rich, Mrs. Dora Balos, Dr. Harold L. Higgins, Mrs. George Zipp, Philip Harrington, M. A. Pieron, Earl C. Mitchell, Mrs. Stephen Currier, Edward J. Pease, and Miss Rhode White.

Ward 1: Senator Richard H. Lee, William Diman, Mrs. Harold Moore, Miss Adelaide Ball, Harold Wooster, Mrs. Meyer Rivo, Eugene Anderton, and Dana W. Gleason.

President William Powers presided at the meeting which was largely attended. Mrs. Morris Adler, Chairman of the Newton Corner Clean-up Campaign reported progress. A meeting was held Wednesday evening at her house to discuss further activities along this line.

Herbert Frazier of Eldridge street reported on the care of the grounds in front of the public Library. He advised that the work of keeping these grounds very attractive with neat flowerbeds and shrubbery would be continued in the future and would be supported by local contributions the same as in the past.

Dr. Higgins discussed the traffic situation in Newton referring to the fact that the new parking lot on Richardson Street was used almost entirely by all-day parkers who take the train into Boston and was not available for local parkers. The meeting expressed the sentiment that angle parking on Centre Street in Newton Corner should be continued.

A Resolution appealing to Governor Dever to support the action of the Newton Licensing Board before the A.B.C. in connection with a liquor license for Newton Corner was unanimously adopted and the resolution forwarded to the Governor.

Four very capable speakers lead a very interesting discussion on the subject of "Newton's Growth, Its Tax Rate and You."

Alderman Kenneth E. Prior described the rapid increase in the population of Newton which necessitated a rapid increase in public service such as sewers, laying out of new streets, additional street lights, and other requirements. As an example of the fact that this cost money, he stated that every new street light installed increased our cost approximately $25.00 per month.

School Committeeman Haskell Freedman reviewed the work which the School Committee and the School Department are doing to take care of the rapid increase in the number of school children in Newton. He stated that since the war four new elementary school buildings had been completed and three more were now in the process of being constructed. He stated that the school population at the present time was now 12,000, but by 1960 would probably increase to 15,000.

Richard H. Lovell, Chairman of the Newton Planning Board, described the work of his Planning Board in coordinating and planning the physical growth of the city.

Lorenz H. Meuther, Secretary of the Newton Taxpayers Association discussed the financial problems affecting Newton in this period of rapid growth. Indicating some of the problems, he showed that in 1947 the city received $1,162,169 in taxes collected by the state. However, in 1951 this figure had decreased to $1,091,707. During the same period, however, our expenditures covering the state, and county metropolitan area had increased from $662,027 to $797,433.

OTIS D. FELLOWS, first prize winner in Boston Herald and Boston Traveler, Know Your New England Contest, receives 10 Defense Bonds of $1,000 each from George E. Minot, managing editor of The Herald. (Boston Herald)

Newton Man Wins $10,000 in U. S. Bonds as Contest Winner

Expression of his love for New England was worth $10,000 in Defense Bonds to Otis D. Fellows of 17 Winchester road, Newton, who was chosen First Prize Winner by the New England Council in the Boston Herald and Boston Traveler 1952 "Know Your New England Contest."

The 70-year old retired engineer, husband of the late Emma J. (Penberthy) Fellows, who left New England 20 years ago and returned to the place of his youth upon retirement, at first couldn't believe his good fortune when informed he was first prize winner of the contest. "Couldn't have happened to a nicer guy," he laughed, after the first shock was over.

As first prize winner, Mr. Fellows correctly identified 54 photographs of New England scenes that were published daily in the Boston papers. The jumbled correct names of the scenes and a brief description by Haydn S. Pearson, Herald country correspondent, appeared with the pictures.

Mr. Fellows was born in Boston and graduated from Newton High School, class of 1900. He trained at M. I. T. for his engineering career which began in the Michigan copper mines. Upon retirement last year, he was chief engineer of the New England State Planning Board.

Prize winner Fellows now makes his home with his daughter and her husband, Helen and Richard S. Williams, and his two grandchildren, Richard S. Williams, III, and Susan J. Williams, who attend Newton schools. Mr. Fellows' other daughter, Miss Alice M. Fellows, resides at Hartford, Conn.

Mr. Fellows' prize-winning statement was: "I like to live in New England because of its rich historical background, its present opportunities for education, recreation and industry, and its promise for even greater achievements in the future."

Volunteer GOP Workers Meet For Fund Drive

More than 100 volunteer Republican workers from the Newton Ward Three Republican Finance Committee met for a kick-off meeting in the $750,000 state wide springtime drive of the Grand New Party in the Davis School, West Newton, Monday night.

William E. Halliday, Jr., 110 Cherry street, West Newton, chairman of the local committee, was in charge of the orientation session.

Richard Preston of Hamilton, general chairman of the Massachusetts Republican Finance Committee spoke to the volunteer canvassers, outlining their duties and responsibilities.

Walter S. Railsback, 197 Fuller street, Newton, chairman of the Newton Republican Finance Committee, also attended the meeting.

Mr. Preston pointed out that the money raised by the Republican workers in their "Neighborhood" canvass, which ends officially on May 15, will be used for all GOP nominees in the state and nation and not for any particular candidate.

The solicitors are calling on all registered Republican and independent voters in their ward as part of the city wide Republican canvass in Newton.

Death of Tignes

A small village in the French Alps has just had a taste of the kind of "progress" that comes with big government. Several years ago French authorities with U. S. Marshall Plan dollars decided to raise a power dam on a mountain stream which would flood the tiny Alpine community of Tignes. For 300 years the people of this community lived peacefully. During those centuries the bitter struggle of mankind against the age-old tyranny of lords and kings finally culminated in the founding of our own country, where safeguards were set up protecting the individual against oppression and the depredations of the state.

It is the height of irony that after three centuries of unmolested existence the people of Tignes must now feel the mailed fist of oppression through the financial instrumentality of the very country that is supposed to be the refuge and citadel of liberty. The people of this little village watched the bulldozers roll into their valley, heard the dynamite blasts, and declared a day of mourning. Some of them tried to drive the invaders out by wrecking their machines and burning their toolsheds. Their protests were unavailing. Armed guards seized municipal records thus putting the village officially out of existence.

Destruction of Tignes should serve as a warning to all people. Instead of a symbol of progress the dam which wiped out this village is in reality a symptom of gathering political forces that threatened to again reduce the individual to the status of serfs. The overriding of local desires by expanding centralized bureaucracy is becoming an old story in the United States.

Events such as these are the stuff from which tyranny is born. They are not progress for the simple reason that uncontrolled bureaucracy—big government—and real progress are incompatible.

The "Small Man" Pays

There was a time when the average man and woman didn't have to do too much worrying about the cost of running the government. In that long-dead era, it was commonly said the rich paid most of the bill anyhow, and the rest of the people got the benefits practically free.

Anyone who still believes that, lives in a world of sheer fantasy. We have finally reached the point where the cost of government is so huge that even the confiscatory taxes paid by people in the high-income groups hardly made a dent in the total, and the people of small and moderate means must carry the bulk of the burden.

Early in 1951, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder presented some revealing facts to a House committee. They concerned the distribution of surtax net income, which is the income left after deductions for personal exemptions and dependents. In that year, Mr. Snyder said, surtax net income totaled $90,000,000. Of this, $82,000,000 was in the brackets of $10,000 and under—$62,000,000 being in the under—$2,000 classification—and only $8,000,000,000 was in the brackets above $10,000.

This should certainly take care of the illusion that we can keep on meeting the cost of government by "soaking the rich." If we expropriated every nickel of income the rich have, the resulting revenue would carry the government for only a matter of weeks. It's the "small man" who must pay, as tens of millions learned last March 15. And it's the "small man" who has the most to gain from efficient, economical government, and reduced taxes.

Current Comment

Large Democratic Vote for Taft and Ike . . .
General Eisenhower's tremendous victory in Tuesday's historic Presidential primary makes him a favorite to go on to win nomination at the Republican national convention as the G.O.P. standard-bearer for next November's election.

Senator Taft undoubtedly will stage a comeback in his home State of Ohio, and he probably will battle the General all the way to the convention floor and maybe through the early balloting.

But the cold political facts are that the returns which came in from all parts of Massachusetts Tuesday night may have ended any real hope Taft had of every becoming President.

A great many Republican politicians would personally prefer him to Eisenhower. They know where he stands and what to expect of him. He's a politician and one of them. When the chips are down, however, the G.O.P. politicos won't be able to bypass Ike's ability to pull votes.

Republican Governors, Senators and Congressmen, faced with flights of their own, will recognize that their chances of winning election will be better with Eisenhower at the head of their ticket than Taft.

This was probably the General's most spectacular political victory. Taft was able to come back after New Hampshire, Minnesota and New Jersey, but Massachusetts gave Eisenhower a psychological surge that isn't likely to peter out quickly.

Taft supporters can minimize the significance of the Republican returns. They can argue that the opposition of such G.O.P. leaders as Senators Lodge and Saltonstall and Congressman Herter was too much to overcome and that the rank and file of Republican voters followed their counsel.

But that doesn't explain away the percentage of Democratic write-in votes polled by Eisenhower or the fact that he was a very solid and respectable second to Senator Kefauver in the Democratic popularity poll.

It perhaps would be jumping to conclusions to say that Tuesday's Presidential primary voting in Massachusetts indicated a Republican trend. It's too early in the year to make any such interpretation because political trends as such don't develop six months in advance of an election, and the political trade winds can shift between now and next November.

The Democratic figures, however, offered thought for sombre concern and scant encouragement for the Democratic politicians, for there was an unusual ring to the Democratic figures.

If the Democratic politicos have any hope of promoting a draft-Truman movement, they were caught sound asleep by Tuesday's Presidential primary. Certainly, there was nothing about the Bay State returns to cause Mr. Truman to change his mind about retiring from politics and returning to Independence, Mo.

Democratic Boston often is a fairly reliable political weathervane. In the Republican sweep of 1946, the late Senator Walsh lost the Hub to Senator Lodge, and ex-Governor Tobin carried it by a scant 12,000 votes over former Governor Bradford.

Possibly the most astounding phase of Tuesday's voting in Boston was that more Democrats wrote Senator Taft's name on the ballot than indicated any desire for drafting President Truman.

And more than 40 per cent of the Hub's Democratic voters recorded themselves for Republican candidates Eisenhower and Taft. In addition, Ike ran close enough to Kefauver in the Democratic popularity contest to make it a race.

The Democratic politicians will be explaining that they made no effort to get out the vote and that the Republicans were well organized, but it is reasonable to assume that the Democratic leaders would have launched a drive to pull out their voters if they had foreseen what was going to happen.

Senator Kefauver's write-in victory was almost meaningless, one, and the Massachusetts Democratic delegates have reason to shrug it off as of little significance if they choose to do so.

It is rather difficult to explain why Democratic voters, in the Herter congressional district wrote Kefauver's name onto their ballots, but then overwhelmingly defeated the slate formerly and publicly pledged to the former crime prober and elected the party regulars who made up the "official" State committee ticket.

If Kefauver, in addition to polling the greatest Democratic write-in vote, had also picked up four delegate votes in the Herter district, it would have been a political victory of psychological importance.

But the fact that the one delegate slate actually pledged to him was decisively defeated took the sheen from Kefauver's showing in the popularity poll.

It would almost appear that many Democrats wrote Kefauver's name onto the ballot because they couldn't think of anybody else to put down. President Truman had said he wouldn't run. Governor Dever had announced he wasn't a candidate. Stevenson, Kerr and Russell were just three names. Kefauver was the fellow who put on the show on television last year and made the racketeers squirm. He was as good a candidate as any to vote for, but in the Herter district the Democrats didn't carry matters to the point of voting for his delegate.

So Kefauver stands today with one delegate and one-half vote in Massachusetts in the person of Representative John M. Shea of Worcester who was picked by the Democratic State Committee on one of its slates, was unopposed and has announced and reiterated that he is with Kefauver.

Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, who didn't poll enough write-in votes to be worth counting, already has about a half dozen Massachusetts delegates sewed up and may get more.

The Democratic politicians today are in something of a muddle. After 20 years at the White House, they find themselves without a candidate possessing outstanding public appeal. That statement may be challenged by the Kefauver admirers, but he doesn't stand as any powerhouse when he couldn't pull in even one member of his delegate slate.

Between now and the start of the Democratic national convention next July 21, Governor Dever will make up his mind where he will throw the weight of his support, and when he reaches his decision most of the Democratic delegates probably will follow his leadership.

Senator Taft's followers are somewhat bitter over the Massachusetts campaign. They are particularly resentful over the success of the argument that Eisenhower would have a much better chance of winning as the G.O.P. nominee for President than would Taft. There is no question but that this theme, repeated again and again, influenced great many Republican voters, and neither is there much doubt now but that it is also true.

OUR NEW ENGLAND
Hails Changing Tune of Those Who Were Pessimistic About Textile Industry

By JOHN H. CRIDER

One hundred and sixteen years ago a famous Boston clergyman made a statement concerning Boston which has been, to a considerable extent, true of New England as a whole. At that time the Rev. William Ellery Channing said:

"We are a city too much given to croaking. I have been told that we were on the brink of ruin ever since I knew the place. Those whose duty it is to carry forward society despair of it. They despair of the body of the people, despair of our institutions, despair of liberty through the world. I lament our want of faith in human improvement."

It isn't quite that bad any more, but we still have far too many pessimists for our own good. One of them has been Prof. Seymour E. Harris of Harvard, the economist who heads the New England Governors' Committee to Study The Textile Industry, but the more Prof. Harris gets into the study of New England, the more optimistic he seems to become. In his new book, The Economics of New England, he ends upon a hopeful note by quoting from the New England Council's optimistic 1950 report called The Rising Tide Lifts All The Boats, but quickly destroys this optimism with a footnote saying that "in quoting this report I am not endorsing it without reservations." What the reservations were he failed to state.

But recently, speaking to the Rhode Island Textile Association, Prof. Harris sounded a bit happier than in his earlier writings on our region's economics. After promising that his committee would produce "the most intensive study of the New England textile industry yet made," the professor said among other things:

"In the present situation, the (North-South wage) differential is most troublesome. But it is well to stress the long-run historical trend toward a narrowing of the gap, the possibility of resurgence of trade unionism in the South, the prospects of higher minimum wages and especially the capacity of management to offset higher unit costs, not only in wages, but in other items through high standards of management and modernization of equipment."

The foregoing incident is simply another illustration of the outstanding evil of these annual legislative sessions, which only Rhode Island and Massachusetts have among the six New England states. In the mad dash for adjournment practically anything can happen, and often does.

New Englander of the Week
EDWARD S. FRENCH because he has just retired as president of the Boston & Maine Railroad to become its board chairman after 22 years of outstanding service as the road's chief executive. During his presidency the B & M has been completely Dieselized, except for commuter service, and its capital structure greatly simplified. Many other improvements were attributable to Mr. French's regime and it is reassuring to know that he will still be in a position to help guide the railroad under its new president, Timothy G. Sughrue.

Factory Jobs Down
Although New England's population increased by about 25 per cent in the last thirty years, its factory jobs actually declined by two per cent. This he contrasted with the nation as a whole where a population gain of 43 per cent just about matched the factory employment gain of 44 per cent. These figures should be qualified, however, by taking into consideration the fact that whereas New England's industry was virtually maximized thirty years ago, many other areas of the nation were only beginning to industrialize.

It was a pleasant change to hear Harris, himself one time unduly pessimistic, sort of scolding New Englanders for not seeing the brighter side of their own picture.

He said that we are too inclined to emphasize the decline of industry here and the growth of industry elsewhere and that we discount the region's textile advantages such as proximity to markets, skilled help, good research facilities, excellent supervisory labor, and a high level of management.

Here is the way Prof. John B. Calkin, Director of the University of Maine's Department of Industrial Corporation, recently summed up the advantages of New England from the industrial point of view:

"While there are tremendous opportunities for industry in New England, based on raw materials available from Canada, we must also keep in mind that approximately 51 per cent of the region lies within 300 miles of New York City, and approximately 44 per cent of the area lies within 300 miles of the geographic center of the Middle Atlantic region, which is the most heavily industrialized in the United States."

Rhode Island Bust
When the gavel finally rapped the end of the annual session of the Rhode Island House at 5:51 a.m. last Wednesday, Governor Roberts' legislative program was in a very sorry state. Eight of his major bills were left buried in committees of the Republican-controlled Senate. One of these was the much-publicized measure to create an Industrial Development Corporation along lines which Governor Dever of Massachusetts had outlined in his annual message to the Bay State legislators.

Miss Caulfield, Lt. (jg) Russell United In Afternoon Ceremony

At an afternoon ceremony, Miss Rosemarie Therese Caulfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Joseph Caulfield of Waban, became the bride of Lt. (jg) John Alexander Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harold Russell of Society Hill, S. C. at St. Philip Neri Church, April 26. Rev. George Murray performed the marriage rites which were followed by a reception at the Woodland Country Club in Auburndale.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding a portrait wedding dress of alencon lace over slipper satin, and a cathedral train with tiers of accordion pleated nylon tulle. Her imported illusion veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and she carried white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. John Sweeny of San Francisco and Maid of Honor was Miss Lorraine Caulfield, both sisters of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Paula Dewire, Miss Joan O'Shea, Miss Joan Fitzgerald, Miss Betsy McCurran, Mrs. Donald Seaver and Mrs. Charles Malloy. They all wore ballerina style dresses of ice pink chantilly lace over nylon tulle with tiers of accordion pleated nylon tulle, and matching horsehair bonnets. Their bouquets which matched their gowns were of carnations and roses.

Best man was Lt. (jg) Albert Thompson and Thomas Caulfield, brother of the bride, headed the list of ushers, which included: Louis Kane, Lt. William Brennan, Lt. (jg) Vernon Demois, Lt. (jg) M. M. Allen, Lt. (jg) Brennan, Lt. (jg) King, and Lt. (jg) McGoneghy.

The bride is a graduate of the Academy of the Assumption in Wellesley and Lasell Junior College. The groom graduated from Clemson A. and M. and United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. Following their wedding trip to Sea Island, Ga., the couple will reside in Sanford, Florida.

Marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of nylon net over satin with chantilly lace. Her headpiece was a chantilly lace cap with seed pearls with illusion veil. The bride carried a prayer book with a white or-chid and streamers.

Best man, Miss Anne Reilly, sister of the groom, wore a taffeta ballerina-length gown with net stole. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet. Miss Jean Chagnon, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a gown of yellow taffeta and carried an old-fashioned bouquet. Ring bearer, Kevin Patrick McArdle, brother of the bride, wore a cutaway suit with boutonniere.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McArdle chose navy satiny taffeta with red and white accessories. Her corsage was white camellias and red roses. Navy crepe was the choice of the mother of the groom for her gown. Her accessories were pink which complemented her corsage of pink camellias.

John J. McArdle, Jr., of Newton, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were John Chagnon, West Newton, and Edward Reilly, Jr., Newton.

The bride graduated from Newton High School, class of '46 and attended Boston University. The groom graduated from St. Bernard's High School and served four years in the U. S. Army.

After a motor trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will reside in Allston.

Cerebral Palsy Drive Gets Under Way During Enthusiastic Meeting of Volunteers

ABC "Fix" Pledge in Newton Liquor Case Cited in Court

Kenneth J. Merrill, Jr., of the second day of the hearing on Newton, a blind former Army major, testified in Suffolk Superior Court Tuesday he had been told by Thomas W. Gilligan, president of the Garden City Liquor Mart, Inc., that State Boxing Commissioner Peter J. "Tansy" Norton was backing the Mart, and that it was "fixed" with the Alcoholic Beverage Commission to grant the license.

Merrill testified Gilligan, a 90-year-old disabled veteran had applied for a license, which was approved by Newton licensing authorities but turned down by the ABC in favor of the Mart.

Miss Priscilla Schenck Sparks Meeting Held at Warren Junior H. S.

At an open Cerebral Palsy meeting held at the Warren Junior High School last Thursday, Miss Priscilla Schenck, vice-president, sparked the Newton-Wellesley Affiliate with interest and enthusiasm for the May Cerebral Palsy Drive with Dr. David McLean Greely, assistant dean of Boston University Medical School, and formerly chief of the Pediatric Cerebral Palsy Clinic of the Presbyterian Hospital in Newton, as the principal speaker.

A Clinic School which would provide consultation and psychological and psychiatric help for the parents as well as therapy and education for the C. P. child saves much time and money and makes possible much better care and treatment for all afflicted. Dr. Greely further pointed out that in organizing for action Newton and Wellesley would first need to undertake a Case Find Project, to uncover the 100 to 150 cerebral palsied individuals within these two communities.

Miss Ruth Maynard of the Special Education Department of the Newton School department pledged the interest and support of the school department in providing further special teaching and intensive training necessary for cerebral palsied children either in a home, school room or Clinic School situation.

Lending further support and cooperation to the Cerebral Palsy Cause were also Rabbi Albert

Tour of Gardens To Be Held Over This Week-End

This Saturday, Sunday and Monday afternoons from 1 to 5 o'clock, nine Newton gardens will be shown in the annual "Tour of Gardens."

Included in the gardens to be shown in the "Tour" this year are those of Dr. and Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf, 84 Hammondswood road, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Harry N. Cuterman, 6 Country Club road, Mr. and Mrs. Allyn B. McIntire, 16 Country Club road, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Tibolt, 1 Fox place, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Dell Baster, 2 Fox place, all of Oak Hill; Mr. and Mrs. S. Bruce Blak, 180 Kent road, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin D. Canham, 72 Crofton road, and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Powell, 25 Quindie road, all of Waban; and Mr. and Mrs. Quincy W. Wales, 21 Sylvan avenue, West Newton.

The Spring Garden Tour is not only a pleasurable experience and an intimate visit to beautiful gardens, but it also supports the work of the Newton Tribute Foundation, a non-profit organization, whose work and purpose is, "to establish a living tribute in honor of the man and women of Newton who served and are now serving in the armed forces of our country, by a suitable planting on Commonwealth Avenue."

Says City Will Need More Schools in the Near Future

Based on census figures, Newton will need two or three more new schools at a cost of at least one and a half million dollars, asserted Alderman Clyde S. Casady at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night and he called for the adoption of a long range plan on public works after the Board voted to reduce the Street Improvement Fund of borrowing capacity.

Alderman Casady also contend-

Lions Club Pays Tribute to Memory of George N. McNeil

At the last meeting of the Newton Lions Club, a resolution memorializing the recent death of George Neal McNeil, the club's founder and first president, was unanimously adopted by the membership. The resolution reads:

Whereas, George Neal McNeil was greatly instrumental through his untiring efforts in the formation of the Newton Lions Club, and

Whereas, He employed untold hours of energy, perseverance, wit and wisdom in his search for Charter Members, and

Rawson Aids In Defeating Bill Rejection

All Officials Must Waive Immunity in Testifying Before Grand Jury

Among the important measures before the House of Representatives last week was House Bill 1195, which was a part of the Republican program introduced at the current session.

The bill provides that if any holder of public office is called before a grand jury to testify regarding the conduct of his office and refuses to waive immunity, he shall forfeit his office. The Committee on Constitutional law gave the bill an unfavorable report recommending its rejection. Minority Leader Charles Gibbons succeeded in overturning the committee report and substituting the bill April 22.

Last Thursday the bill was before the House for final action. During the debate, Representative George E. Rawson (R-Newton) told the House that public office is supposed to be a public trust. Any public officer who so regards his office and conducts himself accordingly, has nothing to fear from this or any similar bill.

The motion to reject the bill was defeated by a roll call vote of 97 to 124, and the bill was passed to be engrossed.

Mother's Day to Be Observed By Elks Sunday

Newton Lodge of Elks will observe Mother's Day Sunday when appropriate exercises will be held at the lodge, 429 Centre street.

The principle speaker at the exercises will be State Representative Irene K. Thresher, a graduate of Vassar College and mother of three children.

The Newton Police and Firemen's Choral Group, under the direction of Frank Geary, former pianist of Paul Whitman's Band, will render several selections and there will also be a delegation of Newton Gold Star Mothers.

The public is cordially invited to attend these annual exercises.

In charge of the observance is a committee composed of Thomas McNamee, William Higgins and Philip G. Pinkham.

—Cong. Herter To Name Five To Academies

Congressman Christian A. Herter today announced that he has been informed by the military that he will have two vacancies to fill at West Point and three at Annapolis for 1953.

Constituents interested in the possibility of securing an appointment to either institution should communicate immediately with Congressman Herter's office in the Old House Building, Washington 25, D. C.

As usual, Congressman Herter will conduct a competitive examination for all interested in July of this year.

The association regrets losing

Miss Ryder but wishes her success in her advancement to a higher position.

—Bus Fare Hearing Set for May 20

Petition of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company for fare increases to bring in additional revenue of $100,000 a year, will be given a public hearing Tuesday, May 20, at 10 a.m., by the State Public Utilities Commission.

Committee deplored the reduction of the Street Improvement fund by $100,000. He reported there were about 60 petitions between one and one-half to two years old for new streets and that the fund was down to $150,000.

The reduction in the Street Improvement Loan resulted from the fact that the city had previously used up the borrowing capacity available outside the debt limit, it was reported. As the result of a miscalculation of the city's borrowing capacity, the Board had to rescind the $200,000 Sewer Bond issue, which was passed in March, and re-authorized the issue Monday night. Finance chairman Earle D. Wood reported that the issuance of the Sewer Bonds would leave $14,479 in borrowing capacity. The small balance in the borrowing capacity was termed "unfortunate" by Mr. Wood, who said that it has been many years since the city has run so close to capacity.

sel for the respondent began arguments charging the case is not properly before the courts.

The expected naming of a state official in connection with the fight for a Newton package store license was not forthcoming Monday in Suffolk Superior court, where Judge Daniel D. O'Brien began the hearing of a petition of 11 Newton taxpayers.

Judge O'Brien excluded several questions put to Thomas W. Gilligan, former Harvard star and head of the Garden City Mart, Inc., which received the license. Kenneth J. Merrill, Jr. and Joseph J. Hickey, disabled veterans, were granted a license by the Newton board for a package store at 1 Jackson street, only to have it taken away by the state alcoholic beverage commission, which gave it to the Garden City Mart, Inc.

The taxpayers' suit seeks to enjoin the ABC permanently from granting a license to the Mart.

When Merrill was asked if he had had a conversation with Gilligan before applying for the license last October, Judge O'Brien excluded the question because Gilligan is not a party to the suit.

Gilligan, after several questions to which he objected were excluded, was allowed to answer with Merrill at the latter's home in March, 1951. A query as to what the conversation was about was excluded. Gilligan denied calling Merrill the night before the Newton board held its hearing.

In an earlier court action, subsequently dismissed, Merrill contended Gilligan had told him if he would join Gilligan in applying for a liquor license, Merrill would be paid $5,000 in a lump sum, or $10,000 in installments by someone "backing" Gilligan. Merrill also said he told the ABC would grant the license.

Defense Bond Program Offering Revised Series

W. M. Cahill, President of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, has announced that the Defense Bonds Program is offering immediately a revised Series E Bond and two new bonds, Series J and K. Sales of Series F and G Savings Bonds will be discontinued after April 30, making way for Series J and K. A new Series H Bond will go on sale June 1.

Commenting on the "distinguished service in the cause of thrift rendered by the Series E, F and G Savings Bonds since they were first offered to the American people on May first eleven years ago," Mr. Cahill said: "To this date almost one and one half billion units of those Bonds have been purchased, and today individual citizens hold almost $50 billion worth of them, at current cash value. Of this, some $34.8 billion is in E Bonds alone — the most widely-held and popular security in all history."

The face of our land has undergone dramatic changes in these eleven years," Mr. Cahill continued. "Massachusetts is dotted with new homes that Savings Bonds made possible, equipped with labor-saving devices financed through Bond savings, while thousands of new automobiles from the same source travel our highways. On our farms, equipment purchased with Bond savings has helped to produce bumper crops to sustain our rapidly growing population, as well as to improve farm homes. Through Bonds, countless young Massachusetts people have been financed through college and into businesses and professional careers. Time and time again, the Savings Bonds program has made dreams come true for thrifty savers."

The changes announced today are another step in the Treasury's long-range planning to make these bonds more useful for both savers and investors. Back in 1948, the annual limit of Series E Bond purchases was doubled to $10,000 in line with expanding personal incomes. When the first E bonds matured on May 1, 1951, the extension of their accrual period by up to ten additional years, if the owner wished to hold the matured bonds, was authorized by Congress at the Treasury's suggestion. That this was real service to E bond holders is shown by the fact that 75 per cent of the E bonds that matured in the eleven months up to the first of April have been retained by their owners.

Performance to Benefit Church Building Fund

Miss Anne Blackall and Miss Joyce Seymour, both of Newton Center; Miss Carolyn Stoddard, Newtonville, and David B. Loomis, West Newton, are in the chorus of "Down in the Valley", the Kurt Weill southern folk opera to be presented by the Gannett Club of Arlington St. Church, Boston, at the West Newton Unitarian parish house Saturday evening, May 17, at 8 o'clock.

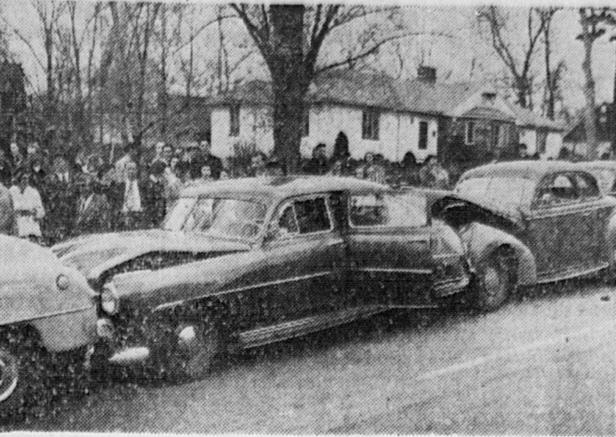

This special performance will benefit the building fund of the First Unitarian Society in Newton. Tickets are available through Mrs. Katheryn M. Holgate at the church office or through members of the Jaynes League, Couples Club and Activities Committee.

Miss Priscilla Darling, who has been a frequent square dancer caller at the West Newton Unitarian parish house, is in charge of choreography. George Sweet and Walter Ellis will direct the lighting. John B. Woodworth, organist of Arlington St. Church, is the musical director. Mrs. Frances Lowrance is stage director.

Parts of the score of "Down in the Valley" are based on American folk songs. Other numbers used in this operetta include "The Lonesome Dove," "The Little Black Train," "Hop Up, My Ladies" and "Sourwood Mountains."

The soloists will be George A. Lowe, baritone; John M. Wilson, tenor; Edward MacMartin, bass; and Miss Sandra Richmond, soprano. Other principals in the cast include Roger A. Lutz, David B. Loomis, Malcolm Reed, Miss Sasha Motrone, Miss Barbara Schnelle and Miss Alice Osborn.

19 Injured In Chain Reaction Crash

NINETEEN CLAIMED INJURIES in this five-car chain reaction crash which occurred last Sunday afternoon on Boylston street, Newton Centre, between Langley road and Dudley street. 10 persons were hospitalized and nine others were less seriously injured. Lavender and Old Lace Gives Promise of League Triumph

On Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10, the Newton Highlands Senior League will present for the first time in Newton for many years, the ever famous play, "Lavender and Old Lace," dramatized by Rose Warner, and to be presented at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church at 8 p.m. both nights.

The cast of 10 include: Nancy West as Mary Ainslee; Wendy Paul as Ruth; Margie Flynn as Hepsy; John Hobbs as Carl; Peter Deming as Joe; Eleanor Hobbs as Jane Hathaway; Judy Shedd as Sophrony; David Nutter as Dr. Patterson; Robert Hohman as James, and Agnes Dowhanecz as Bernice. The director for the play is Mrs. Parkhill, and prompted by Mary Ault, Mary Ainslee, a gracious little New England lady, is a legend in her town because of her lavender and old lace. For years she has kept a lighted lamp, much to the town's curiosity. Ruth Thorne, her neighbor's niece comes to stay with Miss Ainslee during the absence of her aunt, Jane Hathaway who went to them an evening of rare entertainment.

To Hold Parents' Weekend At N. College Of Sacred Heart

The annual Parents' Weekend will be held on May 10 and 11 this year, at Newton College of the Sacred Heart. Highlights of the weekend will be the presentation of Sheridan's "The Rivals" on Saturday, May 10, at 7:30, and an intercollegiate quartette competition to be staged on Sunday, May 11.

"The Rivals" will be the third presentation of the Dramatic Club this year. Under the general direction of Joan Yawman Tucker of Rochester, president of the Club, members have constructed the scenery and executed all costumes to be used in the play. In charge of scenery construction is Miss Beth Wheelwright, of the College Art Department, a resident of Cambridge, especially assisted by Eleanor Murphy, of Milton, Massachusetts. In charge of costumes is Gail Pitts of Chestnut Hill. Vice-president of the Club, especially assisted by Guillermine de Vitry.

Newton Savings Bank Installs New Check System

The Newton Savings Bank is installing a new register check system at its Newton Office, it was announced today by Benjamin F. Louis, treasurer of the bank. According to Mr. Louis, the demand for this type of check has risen to such an extent that it was decided to install the new three part form for added convenience to the bank's customers. He said, "The old system required that a two part form be filled out by the customer prior to his presenting the check to the Teller who would then validate it by printing the correct amount through a check-writing machine. Under the new system the customer will simply ask the Teller for a check for a stated amount. The Teller then validates this amount on the three parts of the new form by one motion thus affecting a saving to the customer of nearly two-thirds of the time formerly required for this type of transaction."

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Schultz of Newton announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marilyn Judith Schultz to Mr. Charles Adler, son of Mrs. Ida Adler of Medford and the late Mr. Nathan Adler.

Both Miss Schultz and Mr. Adler are studying at Brandeis University. They plan to wed in the Fall.

Glad Strike Settled

Riders, Merchants,

Crowd Busses Again; But Company Head Expects 25% Loss in Revenue

Local residents flocked back to the busses, merchants gave a sigh of relief, and the workers themselves seemed happy it was all over last week, as the Middlesex and Boston line went into operation for the first time since March 10.

The 46-day-old walkout of 250 drivers and mechanics was settled by union vote and compromise last Thursday. Busses began rolling the next day.

A quick Graphic survey revealed that business, especially small business, is beginning to pick up again. "It will take several weeks before things are the way they were the first of the year," one manager said, "but at least the customers can get here now." Many of the businesses had been running at a loss since the strike began.

One proprietor was more pessimistic. "I hope they remember I'm here," he said.

Bus commuters and shoppers smiled and joked with the drivers as they boarded the vehicles for the first time in weeks. And the drivers seemed glad to be back behind the wheel.

Actually, however, many of the drivers are not back to work as yet. John H. Walsh, president and general manager of the line, said that many were caught unaware by the abrupt return to work, while others had apparently left permanently. The busses are running on a curtailed schedule until full effects of the strike on business are known.

Mr. Walsh had said earlier that the company expected "a drop of at least 25 per cent" in customers and revenue. "We hope to be disappointed," he added. But it seems obvious that many former customers will have found other ways of reaching their destinations.

The strike was settled at noon last Thursday when the union agreed to: accept an immediate 5-cent an hour wage increase retroactive to January 1, with another 5 cent raise to come later; a one-year contract; have the $3000 severance pay now given after 25 years service be paid to the next of kin in the event of the employee's death; and a $7.50 clothing allowance increase.

Union President Francis M. McIntyre said before the vote was taken that "we do not have Five presidents of the United States have endorsed the sale of the V.F.W. Buddy Poppies since it was launched on a nation-wide scale in 1922. According to Commander Francis D. Foley of Post 2384, letters of endorsements have been written by Presidents Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Harry S. Truman.

During the past 30 years this "first Buddy Poppy" has been conveyed to the nation's chief executives nearly every year by an orphan of a veteran, a child selected from among those being reared at the V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans at Baton Rapids, Mich.

In addition to this White House recognition, the Veterans Administration has also officially endorsed the V.F.W. campaign by recognizing the production of these little symbolic flowers by disabled veterans as a valuable occupational therapy project. The chance to make these Buddy Poppies, V. A. doctors assert, helps stimulate the convalescence of veterans in need of something to make their idle hours pass more swiftly.

Income, Expense, Tax Rate

The Newton Taxpayers Association in a well considered and timely review of the city's income and expense in relation to the tax rate, merits far greater consideration and reading than it is apt to obtain in the mailing of its monthly bulletin to its membership. The Graphic believes that a summation of this excellent review of the facts will prove enlightening to many other citizens of this city and consequently we are going to briefly point out some of the sound facts contained in it in this article.

It is clear that Newton's payments to the State for annual audit, to the M. D. C. for its parks and boulevards, etc., and for the M.T.A. deficit, together with payments to the County for increased cost of the T.B. Sanatorium are on the increase. A 1951 law will substantially increase the latter item if not repealed shortly.

Expenses for City Services, that is, the budget and subsequent appropriations, have increased at the rate of a million dollars a year since 1945. The trend continues with most of this year's increase again going for salaries and wages. Moreover, the city debt has doubled in this period, too, so servicing it now takes about 10 percent of the budget.

On the receipts side the most significant entry reveals that distributions to Newton from the state collected taxes on income, corporations and meals do not now equal those in 1947! This reflects two factors.

First, it reflects the equalizing policy now being developed in Massachusetts whereby the wealthier municipalities are called upon to support educational programs in communities not so well off. Secondly, the lowered distribution reflects the policy of the state to shave off on municipalities financial obligations the state formerly assumed.

This is a suspicion that in some communities chiselers not legally entitled to welfare assistance are drawing payments from the public chest which come from the pockets of taxpayers who themselves are feeling the pinch of inflation and high prices. Both Democratic and Republican officials have declared that this is so and have stressed the need for some kind of check.

The deserving person who is actually in need has nothing whatever to fear from an inspection of the welfare lists since another law specifically forbids the publication of the names of persons getting assistance. But the chiselers, if there are any on the relief rolls, would be weeded out and their illegal or fraudulent payments halted.

This writer doesn't pretend to know whether there are any chiselers getting welfare in any city or town. But we certainly can see no harm in ascertaining if there are any such cases and, if so, in dropping them from the relief rolls.

Democratic Senate Leader John E. Powers offered all sorts of illogical and emotional arguments in his efforts to destroy the bill. Said he in part: "I am not going to destroy the dignity of men and women in this Commonwealth. You don't have to shoot a person to kill them. You can scare them to death and keep them from getting assistance. If that is the type of cash register philosophy being offered here, I don't want to be a part of it."

This is sheer, unadulterated nonsense. No one receiving welfare honestly and legitimately is going to be "scared" to death in these times by a routine checkup by some town selectman or city auditor. And if any "chiselers" are "scared" from the relief rolls, we can see nothing wrong in that.

A good deal of speculation has developed in political circles as to why Governor Dever has delayed the formal announcement of his candidacy for reelection to a third term. The Governor announced early in April that he would make known his political plans within 10 days. More than a month has elapsed since then.

The explanation undoubtedly is that as a matter of political strategy Mr. Dever is not anxious to toss his hat into the ring any earlier than is absolutely necessary. There seems to be no question whatever but that he will run again. It would have been poor timing for him to issue his pronouncement either just before or just after the Presidential primary. The likelihood is that it will come in the fairly near future.

In other words, the stores were able to keep, after all the bills were paid, only a little more than two cents out of each dollar that went through their tills. If they had made no profit at all, the consumer would have hardly been able to notice the difference in the prices of the goods he bought.

Modest profits are one of the results of competition. Consumers are intensely price conscious these days, and every up-and-coming merchant does the best he can to offer more inducements than the merchant down the street or in the next town. But profits can be forced down to dangerously low levels by unsound and destructive government controls and regulations. OPS policies have made it extremely difficult and in some instances impossible for retailers to pass on rising costs which they can do nothing to prevent. This is an artificial form of "profit control" which could do immeasurable harm to the whole economy in the long run. A business, like a worker, is worthy of a living wage.

GOP Senators Block ABC Probe...
Democrats Oppose Opening Welfare Lists

Five Republican members of the State Senate are likely to have a difficult time explaining to their constituents in the coming campaign why they blocked an investigation into the action of the State Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission in overruling the decisions of local licensing authorities in an unusually large number of cases.

Senator Richard H. Lee of Newton summed up the situation rather succinctly when he declared that those Solons who desired to get to the bottom of the rumors involving the ABC Commission could vote for the investigation order and that those who wished to cover up the rumors could vote against the measure.

Five G.O.P. Senators thereupon joined the Democratic membership in killing the probe order.

Those who have followed the controversy between the State agency and the Newton licensing authorities may well wonder how the five Republicans and even some of the Democrats are going to explain away their attitude when they come up for reelection.

No real case was presented by opponents of the probe measure. Senator Michael A. Flanagan of Lawrence made so windy and so illogical an argument against the order that Senator Silvio Conte of Pittsfield asked how many sides of his face he could talk out of at the same time.

Another supposed Republican statesman, Senator Staves, declared that he always has been given "excellent service" whenever he called the secretary of the ABC Commission and that he would be an ingrate if he voted to investigate the body. We wonder if Senator Staves' constituents will be impressed by that line of reasoning.

It is obvious that pressure was exerted to halt the proposed probe, and it will not be at all surprising if some of the Senators discover that their votes on the matter are an issue in the coming campaign.

Democrats Oppose Opening Welfare Lists

One of the most ridiculous public debates to which this writer ever has listened was conducted by Democratic leaders in the State Senate in their unsuccessful attempts to kill a bill which would allow financial officers in Massachusetts cities and towns to examine the welfare rolls in their communities to determine whether they contain any persons not entitled to the assistance they are receiving.

The motive of those seeking the enactment of the law is easily understood, except possibly by some of our elected officials.

In many communities, particularly towns, the officials responsible for raising the tax money occasionally express a desire to inspect the welfare rolls to determine whether any of the money being paid out in relief is being paid out to chiselers not actually in need and not entitled to it.

That seems to be a reasonable request, and a town selectman or finance officer is understandably annoyed when he is told that while he must dig up the money to finance the welfare payments he can't look at the rolls to make sure that it is being spent honestly and wisely.

There is a suspicion that in some communities chiselers not legally entitled to welfare assistance are drawing payments from the public chest which come from the pockets of taxpayers who themselves are feeling the pinch of inflation and high prices. Both Democratic and Republican officials have declared that this is so and have stressed the need for some kind of check.

The deserving person who is actually in need has nothing whatever to fear from an inspection of the welfare lists since another law specifically forbids the publication of the names of persons getting assistance. But the chiselers, if there are any on the relief rolls, would be weeded out and their illegal or fraudulent payments halted.

A FAIR QUESTION

Editor, Newton Graphic:
Since the bus strike has been settled, I and a few hundred other citizens have been confused.

Nobody, least of all the bus company, knows what time the buses run. There has been no public notice of service changes. I waited forty-five minutes for a bus that I later found out runs every sixty minutes. It used to run every thirty minutes.

The company gave enough notice on a fare increase; the least they could do is notify the public of bus schedule changes.

THE STUNNING VICTORY

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The stunning victory scored by Dwight D. Eisenhower in last week's primary is certainly clearly a mandate from the people of Newton. In the seven wards of the city the voting was unusually heavy: 10,176 voters expressing a preference for Eisenhower, while only 3,853 voted for Taft. When one compares this with the last primary, at which only slightly over 700 Republican ballots were cast the results are certainly heartening and undoubtedly can be attributed to the great personal appeal that Eisenhower possesses.

We would like to thank the many volunteers who worked so enthusiastically to help produce this striking turnout. Every job was important and without exception the volunteer workers turned to and worked with a will.

We would also like to thank the Newton Graphic for its kind help in providing good publicity when needed.

We are confident that Dwight D. Eisenhower will not only be the Republican candidate, but also will be the next President of the United States.

EXCELLENT COVERAGE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I wish to express the deep appreciation of the League of Women Voters of Newton for the splendid cooperation of your newspaper during our recent annual Finance Drive, and, in fact, throughout the year. We feel that a large measure of the success of our recent appeal to the community for funds was due to your excellent coverage of League activities, thus informing the public of the League work and purposes.

By publishing League information on local issues and candidates for local office, your newspaper has played a vital role in the League program of bringing non-partisan information before the public, and encouraging active participation of Newton citizens in their local government.

TIME TO REMOVE CONTROLS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The time has come for the federal government to remove all emergency controls over home building and other construction.

Unless both credit restrictions and construction controls are removed promptly, there soon will be an over-supply of metals and other materials commonly used for building purposes.

The latest information from Washington shows that the quantity of steel, copper, and aluminum available for use in building has been increasing steadily and will be more than sufficient to meet normal construction requirements by the time builders will be able to get additional work under way in any volume.

The existing controls, adopted before the materials situation began to improve, are throwing the local home building pattern out of balance by allowing only enough controlled material to build smaller homes.

The credit restrictions also penalize those families who need and want larger homes but are not in position to make the high down payments required under the regulations now in force.

Construction now is the only

being effectively held down below

OUR NEW ENGLAND

Tremendous Importance Of Recreation Industry, Can't Be Overlooked

By JOHN H. CRIDER

With the coming of spring—I guess we can be sure it's here now—a large part of America eyes our New England, while we eye the seasonal vacation and tourist trade. This year we should do better than the $955,615,000 of income derived from the recreation industry last year.

Since recreation is New Hampshire's biggest single industry, Maine's largest or second largest, depending upon the year, and Vermont's second largest, we must not underestimate the importance of this source of regional income. It is for good reason that our regional spring housecleaning is by now reaching a conclusion, or already concluded. Highways, after a destructive winter, are being repaired, new white lines applied, and the hotels, motels, and other rendezvous for visitors painted up for the season.

Although even our 1951 income from recreation put New England fifth in rank after four states, we must not forget that we are a tiny part of this country—even all six states—compared with many single states in the West. Our total land area of 66,608 square miles, which is 2.2 percent of the total land area of the country, compares with 158,693 square miles for California and 121,666 for New Mexico, both competitors in the recreation field.

Nutmeg Ingenuity

The Connecticut Development Commission, which seeks to keep on its toes, has just come up with a "postage stamp" factual evaluation of the State of Connecticut which other New England states might well copy or, if possible, improve upon. It is a little card, approximately five by three and a quarter inches, on which is printed, fore and aft, the most important facts regarding Connecticut, and its industrial claims to fame. It is amazing how much information could be crammed onto a card of such size, and still be highly readable.

On the front center, boxed in large type, are these salient facts—that the state is, among other states of the country—

46th in size; 28th in population, 28th in wholesale trade

Final Square Dance To Be Held Saturday

Bob Brown, president of the Northeastern University Square Dance Society, will again be caller when the Jaynes League holds its third and final Square Dance of the season from 8 to 11 o'clock this Saturday evening at the West Newton Unitarian parish house. Young and old are invited to participate in the dancing or as spectators. Warren Hale will be assistant caller. Square dance music will be provided by Jock Beady, accordion, Calvin Howard, piano, and Leonard Lawrence, violin.

Rudolf Amanh, Jaynes League president, John Caldwell and Winslow Tisdell are on the square dance committee. These three are also named as delegates to the AUY conference week at Star Island this summer.

The square dance will wind up a busy day for the Jaynes League members who will join with other AUY groups in a spring frolic outing of the South Middlesex Federation all day Saturday at Camp Mary Day, Cochituate. Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Carroll and the Rev. Robert Storer of Winchester are assisting with the Federation outing plans, which include cook-out dinner and recreation.

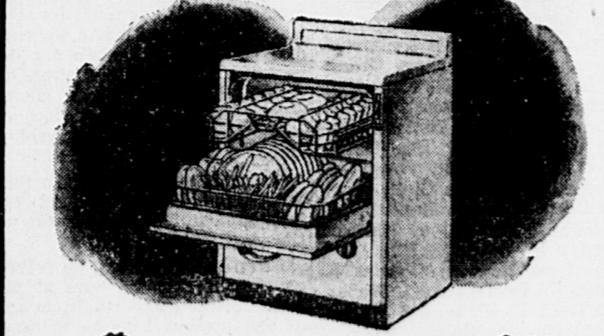

Girl Scouts Plan Clean-up Day

The Girls Scouts in the Newton Corner area are planning a "Clean-Up Day" for this Saturday. This is to be their money raising event for the year. Parents and friends of the scouts may hire them that day for such jobs as: raking the yard, cleaning up the cellar, washing windows, or even washing the family car.

All Girl Scouts are responsible.

Newton Defeats Cambridge Y At Chess, 21-11

In a gala match, Newton "Y" et al defeated Cambridge "Y" et al, 21 to 11. It was agreed that both clubs should corral as many as possible of the best players in and around greater Boston. Sixty-four players competed. Easily twice as many would have competed but for the lateness of the season. Daylight saving, summer homes, and the great outdoors called many away.

It was Newton's "Y" Chess Club's finest hour (four hours). Both teams bristled with power but good will was manifest everywhere. When 31 matches had been arranged there remained two players for the Cambridge side, with no opponents, that patron of chess, Charles Johnson, M.I.T. graduate, and president of the Cambridge "Y" Chess Club, and Mr. Bagnall. Newton won the toss, for choice, and chose Mr. Johnson. That gracious gentleman joyously played for Newton and was one of the first to report a victory for Newton.

Players from M.I.T., Harvard University, Harvard Club, Wells Memorial, Boylston Club, Arlington Club, Cambridge, Quincy "Y," and Attleboro "Y" competed. It might be said that on the Newton lineup there were 17 Newton players who contributed 11 of the wins.

The matches: Boris Siff of Newton, one of the best players in New England, drew with Ray Sachs, M.I.T. student, and champion chess player of the City of Cleveland, Ohio. Jacobus of Harvard, playing for Newton, defeated Harlow Daley, former Mass. State champion Stanley King, captain of Quincy, Class A team, playing for Newton, defeated Lewis. John Hubert, former Mass. Interscholastic champion, graduate of Newton High, now a senior at Harvard, regular Newton player, defeated Mitchell of Harvard Club. Oliver, president of the Harvard Chess Club, was defeated by that veteran Cring playing for Cambridge. Sven Brask of Attleboro, playing for Newton, defeated Herzfeld, W. W. Parshey of Newton defeated Engineer Pritchard. Dreyfus, captain of the Harvard College A team, playing for Newton, defeated Reardon. Dr. Higgins of Newton drew with Paul Travis. Freimer of Newton defeated Dr. Paine of Harvard Club playing for Cambridge. Duehay for Newton defeated Maher. Michel Piper of Newton defeated Prof. Coolidge of B. U. playing for Cambridge. Nitzsche, secretary and tournament director of the Metropolitan League, defeated Benner, Mekota of Cambridge defeated Hollis. Gould of Cambridge lost to Hobart of Newton. Dr. Dutton of Cambridge defeated Healy. Carl Miller of Newton defeated Hyde. Slonimski of Newton defeated John Reed. Klineushoff of Cambridge defeated Paul Worcester. Gustafson of Newton defeated Blythe. Richard MacGregor of Newton defeated S. Lorris. Paul Lorris of Cambridge defeated Commander Stacey. Carlton Garfield of Newton defeated Berrini. King of Cambridge defeated Dr. S. W. Kramer. Wiesenbach of Cambridge defeated Louis McCartney. Fred Rosene of Newton defeated Weiss. Aston of Cambridge defeated A. Rose. Fine for Newton defeated Fishbein. Fred Yorgenson of Newton defeated Evans. Harrison Coggeshall of Newton defeated Lourie. Wesley Drew of Cambridge defeated Warren Blaisdell. Charles Johnson playing for Newton defeated Bagnall.

Score: Newton 21-11. Co-captains for Newton: Stanley King of Quincy, Freimer of Harvard College and Harrison Coggeshall of Newton. Co-captains for Cambridge: Wesley Drew of Cambridge, President Charles Johnson of Cambridge "Y" Chess Club, and Franklin Sanborn of Cambridge.

The Newton "Y" Chess Club meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Colonial Room, 276 Church street, Newton. If you enjoy chess, come and play with us.

Many Newton Students Attending Boston Univ.

Two hundred twenty-one students from the Newtons are attending Boston University, the nation's fifth largest educational institution, which has started its second semester under the leadership of Pres. Harold C. Case, who is completing his first year at the helm of its 16 schools and colleges. On March 1, a year ago, he succeeded Pres. Daniel L. Marsh, who is now Boston University's first Chancellor.

Concentrating its physical plant along the Charles River and Commonwealth avenue just west of Kenmore square, the university has administrative departments and seven colleges on the campus. Plans for additional college buildings and a student union are in progress.

Of the 221 students from the Newtons, Newton Centre and Newton number 81; Newton Highlands, 40; Newtonville, 39; Newton Lower Halls, 6; and Newton Upper Falls, 5.

Dr. Peter Bernfeld In Cancer Research

Dr. Peter Bernfeld of 17 Payne road, Newton, assistant professor of biochemistry at Tufts College Medical School, will help administer an American Cancer Society grant of $4800 for research aimed at contributing to knowledge of cancer, it was announced by the Society's Massachusetts Division.

With Dr. William H. Fishman, research professor of biochemistry, Dr. Bernfeld will study the chemical and physical properties of B-glucuronidase, an enzyme which is found in human cancer tissue in much higher concentration than in normal tissue. It is hoped that the research may add to knowledge of what makes a cancer cell so dangerously different from a normal cell.

The campaign will continue through April, in order to gain more funds for cancer research. Contributions may be addressed to Cancer, in care of the local post office.

Offer Special Course In Care of Handicapped

Graduate nurses from the Newtons who are interested in qualifying as nurse specialists in the conservation of sight and hearing, are eligible for the new course of graduate instruction now being offered at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, Boston, according to a recent announcement.

The course, which is for three months, provides full maintenance plus a monthly stipend, with classes starting four times each year. The next class begins on June 1.

The course includes field trips to special schools, where the nurses may observe special techniques used in caring for the handicapped, and in helping them toward economic independence.

Treasure Chest at First Baptist to Aid Organ Fund

At the Parish House of the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre, whose minister is Rev. Russell H. Bishop, a Treasure Chest was filled for the benefit of the Organ Fund. The treasure consisted of articles or broken pieces of old gold or silver.

The collection was sponsored by one of the circles of the Woman's Union under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Jigger, Mrs. Prentiss Pemberton and Mrs. Edward Broad.

The chest was opened yesterday, May 7, after the Annual Ladies' Night Dinner of the Men's Fellowship, whose president is Mr. Donnell Garr. Miss Charlotte Webster, a professional assayer, was present to weigh the articles and value them.

It is surprising how much old watch cases or fobs, old spectacle rims, earrings, stick pins, and broken silver spoons and a hundred useless articles of by-gone days helped toward the new organ console which is to be installed during the summer months.

Celebrity Six Gain Fame As Dance Band

It was in the "Blue Room" of the "Warren Plaza" that the "Celebrity Six" dance band made its first public appearance, together with a company of 25 entertainers. The event was an assembly program presented by members of Jr. II and III. So popular had this band become that it was featured in a talent program, "On With The Show," which was presented by pupils of the Warren Junior High School on Friday evening, May 2, in the school auditorium.

The "Celebrity Six" is a group of eighth and ninth grade boys who have formed their own dance band, with Alfred Graceffa, who plays saxophone and clarinet, acting as their director. Also playing saxophone is Donald Quinn with Fred Giordano at the piano, David Flegel playing trumpet, David Wayman the trombone, and Anthony Farring on the drums.

The dance band has a supporting cast of over eighty pupils from Jr. I, II, and III. The program included vocal and instrumental selections, dance numbers, and comedy skits.

Guild of Saint Philip Neri

The Guild of Saint Philip Neri, Waban, will hold a Luncheon at one o'clock, Wednesday, May 7, in the Church Auditorium, followed by the Annual Meeting. Reverend Walter L. Flaherty, Diocesan Director of Radio and Television, will be Guest Speaker.

Warren Jr. High Boasts Talent in "On With the Show"

Dr. J. Clark Named Full Professor at Colby College, Me.

A capacity audience of friends and relatives was highly entertained and proud of the talent displayed by the pupils of the Levi F. Warren Junior High school as they presented "On With The Show" in the assembly hall on Friday, May 2. It was given under the direction of Miss Ethel D. Green, assisted by Mr. Carl M. Penny, coach, Miss Geraldine Seaver in charge of vocal music, and Mr. Vincent J. Matto in charge of instrumental music, while Miss Alice Willey and Mr. John Pennington directed the dancing. Donald Lane was general chairman of the pupil groups who served admirably in many capacities. Guy Vassalotti was master of ceremonies and Johnathan Kelley page boy. The cast included more than ninety boys and girls.

The Warrens of the 20's, a group of junior one girls, gave, through a style show, their conception of the dress which a typical family, their parents and relatives, wore at the time when Warren School was opened, twenty-five years ago.

Vocal solos by Regina Dobro, Judy Currier, and Robert McAndrew, a duet by Josephine Messina and Frank Pace, and a Barber Shop Quartet; instrumental solos by David Flegel, William Tower, Donald Quinn, Marilyn Gazzola, Ronald Grammont, and Mrs. Sheila Ahern, Richard Alan Hatch; and numbers by the Celebrity Six and other group selections demonstrated the great interest shown in the musical activities at Warren.

Many pupils will be at work demonstrating their school activities, particularly in the Art, Home Economics, and Industrial Arts rooms. Throughout the building will be displayed exhibits and samples of class work and special projects carried on in the various subject fields.

The Parent-Teachers Association will conduct a food sale throughout the evening.

It is from events such as this that the Association secures the funds it so generously contributes to the school for the purpose of providing special assembly programs for the pupils of the Warren School.

Paul C. Scarborough, Principal of the Warren Junior High School, announces Saturday, May 24, as the date of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary Reunion Banquet and Open House.

Present and former faculty members of the school will meet for a dinner and social get-together in the early evening.

From 8:15 to 10:30, open house will be held for all former pupils of the Warren Junior High School. Class reunions will be planned and dancing will be provided throughout the evening.

Many former teachers have already expressed their intention to attend, and with the present faculty, welcome former pupils.

To Hold Reunion Banquet, May 24

Paul C. Scarborough, Principal of the Warren Junior High School, announces Saturday, May 24, as the date of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary Reunion Banquet and Open House.

Club Activities of the Newtons

John A. Clark, former Newton resident, associate professor of philosophy, has been named full professor at Colby College, Waterville, Maine. Professor Clark is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Alden Hyde Clark, former residents of Newton. Dr. Clark was secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions in Boston.

Professor Clark attended Newton High School from 1922-24. After graduation from Amherst in 1929, he did graduate work at Harvard for his M.A. and Ph.D. He joined the Colby faculty in 1946 and since 1950 has headed the department of philosophy and religion.

Dr. Clark was born in Ahmednagar, India, where his parents were Baptist missionaries. He took his preparatory school work at Newton High School and Deerfield Academy, Deerfield, Mass.

To Hold Open House

The annual spring Open House at the Warren Junior High School is planned for Friday evening, May 9. Teachers will be in their classrooms throughout the evening from 7:15 to 9:30 to meet the parents of their pupils.

This event is one of the outstanding events of the school year, and one of the few opportunities when it is possible for both mothers and fathers to visit their children's classes.

Many pupils will be at work demonstrating their school activities, particularly in the Art, Home Economics, and Industrial Arts rooms. Throughout the building will be displayed exhibits and samples of class work and special projects carried on in the various subject fields.

The Parent-Teachers Association will conduct a food sale throughout the evening.

It is from events such as this that the Association secures the funds it so generously contributes to the school for the purpose of providing special assembly programs for the pupils of the Warren School.

Paul C. Scarborough, Principal of the Warren Junior High School, announces Saturday, May 24, as the date of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary Reunion Banquet and Open House.

Present and former faculty members of the school will meet for a dinner and social get-together in the early evening.

From 8:15 to 10:30, open house will be held for all former pupils of the Warren Junior High School. Class reunions will be planned and dancing will be provided throughout the evening.

Many former teachers have already expressed their intention to attend, and with the present faculty, welcome former pupils.

Last week-end provided the opportunity for all of the Cornell hotel students to display their knowledge and ingenuity to hotel executives from all over the United States and Canada in the form of a complete hotel operation with banquets, displays, publicity stunts, and entertainment.

A Square Dance with Dudley Briggs as caller was planned and will be held June 21 at the Odd Fellows Hall, 15 Southgate Pk., West Newton.

Mrs. Christine Walsh will be chairman with Mrs. Ruth Lucas co-chairman. Also assisting will be Mrs. Helen Leone, Mrs. Rita Spang, Mrs. Ruth Hay and Mrs. Rita Prescott.

Miss Blood Bride of Mr. Wilkins At Recent Double Ring Ceremony

A Holy Bible with two camel-hair covers was carried by Miss Jean Dahl, bridesmaid. Both wore Munson Blood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aretas Bailey Blood of Hopedale, for her marriage to Mr. John Howard Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Howard Wilkins of Newton Highlands, at the Swedish Congregational Church of Medfield and Seth in Milford, April 27. Rev. Walter Riley of Needham, Mr. Carlson A. Steen of the Calvary Covenant was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Church, Philadelphia, Penn., officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception followed in the church vestry.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina gown with chantilly lace bodice and net over a taffeta skirt. Her headpiece was a shoulder-tip net veil, which was caught to a chantilly lace cap.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Karl Erik Fast of D. C., the couple will make their home in Dover.

Altar Banked With Flowers As Mr. Olsen Marries Miss Jacobs

Ferns and mixed spring flowers banked the altar at the Piety Corner Chapel, Waltham, for the wedding of Miss Helen Elizabeth Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobs, Sr., of 26 Heard street, Waltham, and Mr. Bernard Raymond Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olsen, Sr., of 22 Jefferson street, Newton, on Saturday afternoon. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Roger W. Palmquist, pastor of the Covenant Congregational Church. A reception followed at Governor Gore Hall on Woerd avenue, Waltham.

The father of the bride gave her in marriage. For her wedding, Miss Jacobs chose a princess-styled gown of ivory slipper satin with seed pearl trim. Her finger-tip veil of nylon tulle and chantilly lace was caught to a tiara of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Doris Verhille, Matron of Honor for her sister, was gowned in lavender frosted nylon. Bridesmaids, the Misses Eleanor and Norma Jacobs, sister of the bride, and Miss Bernice Olsen, sister of the bridegroom, all wore matching lace-trimmed picture hats and gowns of lavender frosted nylon. They all carried old-fashioned bouquets of bachelor buttons, iris and sweet peas.

The mother of the bride chose a rose gown with champagne accents.

Five Republicans Join With Democrats To Kill ABC Probe

Five Republican members of the State Senate joined with a solid Democratic bloc Monday night to kill a proposed probe into the action of the State Alcohol Beverages Control Commission in overruling local licensing authorities on a number of occasions last year.

Two G.O.P. Solons declared during the debate that the investigation should be conducted so that rumors of "influence peddling" and "suspicions of graft and corruption" might be sifted and the actual facts ascertained.

"Do you want to get to the bottom of these rumors?" demanded Senator Richard H. Lee of Newton. "If you do, adopt this order. If you want to cover them up, vote against it."

The probe measure was killed by a vote of 20-15 when five Republican Senators—Harry P. McAllister of Worcester, Edward W. Staves of Southbridge, Ralph Lerche of Northampton, Charles W. Olson of Ashland and Newland H. Holmes of Weymouth—lined up against it.

Supporters of the order calling for an investigation by a three-member Senate committee admitted that they had no evidence of any wrongdoing by the State A.B.C. Commission but maintained that a probe should be made to "clear the doubts from the minds of the public."

One of the matters which Senators Lee and Silvio O. Conte of Pittsfield asked be investigated was a report that a blind Newton veteran, who was denied a package store license by the A.B.C. Commission after the Newton licensing authorities had voted to grant it to him, was told a "high State official" was behind a rival petition.

Kenneth J. Merrill, Jr., the blind veteran, allegedly was informed that the State official would pay him $10,000 to abandon his own application and join in sponsoring the package store petition in which the official reportedly was interested.

At one point during the debate, after Senator Michael A. Flanagan of Lawrence, in opposing the probe order, hit at an "investigation mania," Senator Conte pointed out that Flanagan himself not long ago voted for a crime investigation.

"How many sides of your mouth can you talk out of at the same time?" asked Conte.

"It may be that the A.B.C. Commission is entirely honest and ably administered," said Conte. "If an investigation is held and this is found to be so, then there is a need for a revision of the law."

Senator Lee, who with Conte spearheaded the fight for the investigation, said he did not know whether there had been "bribery and corruption, influence peddling and favoritism," adding that an investigation "might dislodge such an idea."

The Newton Solon asserted that the investigation was favored by authorities from Billerica, Williamstown, North Reading, Springfield, Waltham, Newton, Lakeville, Bourne and Agawam, all of whom had seen their decisions overruled by the State commission.

Senator Staves told fellow members that whenever he felt an injustice had been done by local licensing authorities in his district, he called the secretary of the A.B.C. Commission and always has been given "excellent service." He said he felt the commission has done a good job.

To Wed In Spring

Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Mackintosh of 27 Austin st., Newtonville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Jean to Mr. Donald Hyer Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Nash of 200 Church st., Newton.

Miss Mackintosh was graduated from Newton High School, and was a student at the Massachusetts Radio School in Boston where he graduated as an Electronic Technician. He was a member of the Newton YMCA, and also of Company K, Newton National Guard, and was employed by The Raytheon Mfg. Co., of Waltham. He enlisted in the Navy and received his basic training at Newport, R. I. and graduated with honor from the Great Lakes Naval School where he studied electrical and electronic communications.

Dessert was served by Mrs. Payson T. Lowell, Jr., Mrs. John Manning, Mrs. Donald G. Morse and their committee, assisted by Mrs. Duncan Edmonds, in charge of waitresses.

Mrs. Roger Wheeler and Mrs. Howard C. Thomas arranged the tables. Mrs. Henry C. Jones, Jr. presented the prizes. The proceeds from this event will benefit Welcome House, a home for adolescent girls with behaviour problems, maintained and operated by the Florence Crittenton League and its affiliated Circles.

Present Musical At Memorial School

The auditorium of the Memorial School was filled to capacity both Friday and Saturday evenings, April 25 and 26, when the Oak Hill Park Association presented "78-20 For Basic," a show with music, written, produced, and staged by Ruth Green, Claire Kravetz, Mat Hallett, and Bert Thorquist.

Enthusiastically supported by a large cast of talented members of the Park, the show depicted, by story, song, and dance, various incidents in the life and times of Oak Hill Park from its inception to the present.

The cast included Whitey McMahon, Bill Doherty, Bernice Hurwitz, John Kerr, Eileen Ellingwood, Harriet Litvin, Polly Maier, Rose Pinkney, Cricket Shaw, Martha Wickson, Nancy Wiest, Dick Chapman, Dick Cotter, Mel Darack, Em deLolles, Bob Jamron, John Phillips, Bernie Plotkin, Syd Rosenberg, Bert Thorquist, Charlie Gallagher, Ruth Green, Jean Thorquist, Dave O'Connell, Bill Ellingwood, Clark Fisher, Bill Fagan, and Sid Hurwitz.

The Production Staff included Sid Knight and Lou Martin, Music; Allegrine Reid, Choral Director; Mrs. Haywood Vincent, Dance Director; Dave Greer, Lighting, assisted by Bob Green; Whitey McMahon, Properties; Mary Dodd, Wardrobe; Shirley Knox and Marcia Jamron, Make-up; and Dick Hart, head of Stage Crew. Reception and Refreshment Committees were in charge of Jane McMahon and Betty FitzGerald.

Members of the Business Committee, headed by Bill Doherty, were Norm Berkowitz, John Birtwell, Bob Green, Art Hughes, Jack Lasoff, and District Representatives.

This highly successful production under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee, Fred Fisher, Jr., Chairman, was the Oak Hill Park Association's first venture into the field of footlights and grease paint. All proceeds will go towards maintaining the Nursery School sponsored by the Association.

"Do you want to get to the bottom of these rumors?" demanded Senator Richard H. Lee of Newton. "If you do, adopt this order. If you want to cover them up, vote against it."

The probe measure was killed by a vote of 20-15 when five Republican Senators—Harry P. McAllister of Worcester, Edward W. Staves of Southbridge, Ralph Lerche of Northampton, Charles W. Olson of Ashland and Newland H. Holmes of Weymouth—lined up against it.

Supporters of the order calling for an investigation by a three-member Senate committee admitted that they had no evidence of any wrongdoing by the State A.B.C. Commission but maintained that a probe should be made to "clear the doubts from the minds of the public."

One of the matters which Senators Lee and Silvio O. Conte of Pittsfield asked be investigated was a report that a blind Newton veteran, who was denied a package store license by the A.B.C. Commission after the Newton licensing authorities had voted to grant it to him, was told a "high State official" was behind a rival petition.

District Nursing Association

The monthly meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association's board of directors was held recently, with Mrs. Matt Jones, the president, presiding. Wesley Sprague of the Newton Wellesley Hospital was the speaker. He described how the hospital, a non profit institution was a large center of health for the purpose of improving the health of the community.

Reports of chairmen were interestingly told and Miss Hilga Nelson's monthly report proved the association was still an active Red Feather agency. Mrs. Jones reported the following new chairmen:

Mrs. Thomas Lanman, nursing; Mrs. James B. Palmer, program and education; Mrs. Charles E. Megarel, well baby conference; Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes, public relation; Mrs. John F. Brown and Mrs. Joseph B. Jamieon, Jr., house and supply; Mrs. Sheldon D. Dunlap, hospitality; and Mrs. Joseph C. MacDonald, aid, finance.

Oak Hill Park Woman's Club

A buffet dinner will precede the annual meeting and election of the Oak Hill Park Woman's Club on Wednesday evening, May 14, at 7:30 p. m. at the Memorial School, Oak Hill Park. Mrs. Vernon G. Phipps will be in charge of the dinner, and each member of the club will bring some part of the menu.

After the annual meeting and election of officers, the club choral group will present several songs and a colored film, "Ren-dezvous on the Reef," will be shown. Mrs. Allen Reid, music chairman, will lead the choral group, which includes Mrs. Albert A. Wickson, Mrs. William Ellingwood, Mrs. Edwin H. West, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. Alan O'Farrell, Mrs. Victor E. Haven, Mrs. William C. Hurter and Mrs. Edward M. Hallett, Jr.

Another feature of the evening will be a flower arrangement competition, sponsored by the garden committee. Judges will be Mrs. Henry S. Cummings, chairman of the Newton Centre Garden Club, and Mrs. George Engle of the same club, who has won first prizes for her flower arrangements at the Boston Flower Show. Flowers entered in the competition will be used to decorate the tables at dinner.

Mrs. Alden Sanderson and Mrs. George D. Grimm, Jr., will assist Mrs. Phipps as co-hostesses for the dinner. Other members of the dinner committee are Mrs. Norman S. Berkowitz, Mrs. Cornelius Dalton, Mrs. Ernest deMoss, Mrs. Richard J. Dore, Mrs. Robert G. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Wilfred A. Grapes, Jr., Mrs. Bruce Gray, Mrs. Charles Holly, Mrs. William C. Hurter, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. Wendell M. Mick, Mrs. Russell J. Nagle, Mrs. Henry Pollard, Mrs. Richard D. Reynolds, Mrs. Norman E. Stone, Mrs. Frank D. Sullivan, Jr., and Mrs. Paul W. Swift.

The dinner was served by members of the Weeks Jr. Tri-Hi-Y which is a YMCA group under the direction of Miss Doris MacDonald.

Mrs. Arthur Burgess, president presided and new officers for the coming season were elected.

They are President, Doris MacDonald; Vice President, Nancy Holmes; Corresponding Secretary, Joan Schilpp; Recording Secretary, Mary Cahill; and Treasurer, Edna Day.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell, Mrs. Edward R. Aldrich, and Mrs. John L. MacNeil. All ladies were presented with corsages and an enjoyable evening was had by all.

Junior Mother's Rest Club

The annual meeting of the Junior Mother's Rest Club was held on Wednesday, May 7 at the home of Mrs. Thomas E. Shirley, 69 Annawan road, Waban. Luncheon was served by the associate members under the supervision of Mrs. W. Edwin Porter, Jr., Mrs. Helen M. Pennypacker and Mrs. Lawrence C. Farwell.

The Newton Council of Parent Teacher Associations held a regular meeting at the Williams School in Auburndale. Horace Ransom, the president, greeted the members and welcomed Mr. Clark, the principal of the new Bowen School.

The Council is composed of the presidents of the 23 P.T.A.'s in Newton as well as two delegates from each school. Various committees are formed which spend many hours in studying problems pertinent to the school program.

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Kantack will speak on invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, in the church edifice, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville, at 8 p.m. His subject will be "Christian Science: Its Call to Healing and Redemption." The lecture is open to the public without charge.

The lecturer, now on an extended tour, was for many years prominent in the field of design and decorative arts in New York City. During his business career he served for 10 years as a member of the Advisory Committee on Industrial Art at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City. He gave up his business pursuits in 1942 to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing.

Jewish Day Camp To Open June 30

Community Center Day Camp in

Newton is now underway, according to Ira Grishaver and Miriam Kallen, co-chairmen of the Center's day camp committee. Through the courtesy of the Newton school committee, day

camp programs will be conducted this season at the Ward school for children age 4 through 12.

Under the supervision of Miss Pauline Klein of Newton, member of the day camp staff for the past three seasons, a comprehensive program led by skilled and experienced counselors will be carried on for a period of 8 weeks beginning June 30 through August 22. Registration may be made for either the first period of 4 weeks or the second period which begins on July 28.

The Playschool Division for 4 and 5 year olds will offer modern indoor and outdoor play equipment under the direction of nature leaders with special training in handling children of this age level. Children age 6 and up will go swimming two days a week.

According to Sumner N. Greenberg, day camp director, registration is open to children of all faiths and preference will be given in order of application. A descriptive brochure may be obtained by telephoning or writing

as follows: Jewish Community

Off-Street Parking Area's and Parking Meters

As early as 1933 when the population of the City was about 65,000 the Chamber of Commerce recognized the growing problems created by the automobile and the vital need for off-street parking facilities. At that time we recommended that such areas be constructed at Newton Corner,

Newton Centre, Newtonville and

West Newton and that receipts

from the sale of City owned prop-

purchase. Since then many parking areas, some of them privately owned, have been constructed but

if Newton is to keep pace with

torized traffic, additional areas

will need to be provided and several of the early spaces greatly enlarged. It should be emphasized that money spent in creating parking areas is not an expense, it is rather a sound and profitable investment as has been proven in many other communities as well as in our own City.

In 1948 the Chamber went on record in favor of Parking Meters as an aid in handling the ever growing traffic, we also pointed out that the revenue over and above that needed for maintenance of the meters should be used to construct additional off-street parking areas where most needed.

ing in 1948, Mr. Edgar T. Copell, at that time Chief Traffic Engr.

of the State Department of Public Works, on Traffic and its Control said in part that meters have not been a major factor in solving Traffic problems in other Communities and speaking as a citizen of Newton he said that they would be of real value here.

(That was four years ago—the need is far greater now.)

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors in March 1950, following a discussion of off-street parking and meters, went on record by a unanimous vote in favor of in-

ner, Newton Centre, Newtonville and

West Newton and that receipts

erty be applied towards their

purchase. Since then many parking areas, some of them privately

owned, have been constructed but

if Newton is to keep pace with

the demands of the growing motorized traffic, additional areas

will need to be provided and sev-

Awarded Credo
For Services

SEN. RICHARD LEE

At a meeting of the American Veterans Committee of the Massachusetts State Council held at the City Club, Boston, last Saturday night, Senator Richard H. Lee (R-Newton) was awarded a credo for his public service.

The credo was awarded Senator Lee for his integrity and honesty in behalf of the people.

Armed Forces Day to Be Observed Here

Anti-Aircraft Site on Nahanton Street to Be Scene of Activities

Armed Forces Day this Saturday will be observed at the Anti-Aircraft Training Site on Nahanton street near the Working Boys' Home with open house to all Newton citizens wishing to visit the installation.

The site is at present used in training Battery B, 685th AAA Gun Battalion, with Lieut. George J. Moore as commander.

Lieut. Moore invites all to visit this site between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., when gun drills will be held every two hours, also the Radar detector and the men's quarters will be open for inspection.

Members of the battery will explain the proceedings and guides will be provided to show the guests around the site.

The company is at present manned with 100 soldiers who are equipped with all the modern weapons to combat enemy air.

Observance will end at 4 p.m. with a company parade and retreat for the benefit of the guests.

The company will take part in Newton's Memorial Day parade to be held on Friday, May 30, at 10:15 a.m. with services in the Newton Cemetery honoring Newton's dead of all wars.

UVON Votes to Keep Hands off
License Issue

Due to Fact All Parties
Are Veterans; Memorial Day Route Changed

The regular monthly meeting of the United Veterans' Organizations of Newton, held this week at the Wa. Memorial Building, Chairman William Maloney presented to the delegates an editorial that had appeared in a Boston newspaper concerning the State Alcoholic Beverages Commission's reversal of the Newton Commission's granting a liquor license to Kenneth J. Merrill, Jr., a wounded and blind veteran, also Col. Joseph Hickey.

Maloney announced that he had received several requests from Newton citizens asking that the UVON go on record as condemning the State Commission's stand regarding this case.

After much discussion, the delegates decided that this was a "Hands Off" affair, due to the fact that all parties concerned in the case are veterans, but they also declared that the UVON is in favor that, in the future, a law might be enacted, taking this power of reversing a local board's decision in such cases, due to the fact that our local commission is better fitted to know their clients than a state board and that a local board has more interest in its city affairs than a state board that has business with many cities.

Plans were completed for the decoration of all Newton deceased veterans' graves wherever they may be located. Edmund T. Dungan, commissioner of Veterans Services, announced that he will supply maps to these organizations showing the location of these graves in both the Newton Cemetery and Calvary Cemetery in Waltham, where many Newton veterans' bodies are located.

Maloney announced the change of the route for the Memorial Day parade, which will start from Washington street at Thornton street, near the Newton Corner Fire Station and told the delegates that due to the longer route, some may not feel able to march that distance so in this event they may assemble at Crafts street and join the line of march as it passes this location.

Says Mother's Duties
Extend Beyond Her Home

A mother's duties extend beyond her home, State Representative Irene K. Thresher, mother of four children, told more than 150 persons Sunday night at the traditional Mother's Day program at the Newton Elks Home.

Such interests as Parent-Teacher Associations, public health laws, grandchildren, the American foreign policy, church functions, and local governments should complement the mother's daily household duties, she added.

Seek Ways to Improve Newton Corner Business District

The Newton Corner Clean-up and Planning Committee of the Newton Improvement Association met last week at the home of Mrs. Morris Adler, 130 Washington street, Newton Corner. Those attending were Newton Fire Chief John E. Corcoran, Police Lieutenant O'Neill, Dr. Kingsbury, assistant to Dr. Morris; Newton Health Officer; William Ford of the Newton Savings Bank; William Powers, president of the Newton Improvement Association; Edgar Pray, principal of the Bigelow Junior High School, and Harry N. Gorin of the Gorin & Leeder Management Corp., and John J. Twhig of Gorin & Leeder.

Considerable progress has already been made in the Clean-up, Paint-up, Spring Campaign in Newton Corner. The Fire Department is cooperating wholeheartedly, particularly in trying to eliminate fire hazards as well as improving the appearance

Outstanding Adult Scouters Are Presented Silver Beaver Award

Three outstanding adult Scouters were presented the Silver Beaver Award, to highlight the annual meeting of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, held Tuesday evening at Norumbega Park's Normandy Room. The meeting also heard an inspirational talk by Gerald A. Speedy of New York, the National Council Assistant Director of the Division of Program, learned about the acquisition of additional land at Nobscot Reservation, and elected officers for the coming year.

The Silver Beaver Award, which is the highest honor the Council can bestow upon volunteer adult Scouters, went to Richard E. McKown, the retiring president of the council; Richard P. Schroeder, scoutmaster of Troop 4B, and John B. Starkweather, the retiring chairman of the camping and activities committee. The setting for the presentation of these awards was an impressive three-part panel depicting Scouting scenes with which these men have become associated.

Guests at the meeting were the presidents of the three Red Feather Agencies from which the Council obtains its operating funds: William M. Cahill, of the Newton Community Chest, Robert H. Smith, of the Wellesley Community Chest and Counter.

Cornerstone-Laying of New Temple Emanuel School Mon.

Impressive cornerstone-laying growth has presented many situations where lack of facilities have made efficient operation of Temple activities extremely difficult. Through the years of growth, first consideration has always been given to proper schooling for the younger generation. In the face of great need for additional space for the Temple, a new school was built first so that proper rooms would be available for the children as soon as possible. On this foundation of the best possible educational facilities for the younger generation, Temple Emanuel is building for a greater Newton Jewish Community.

In the short space of less than 15 years, Temple Emanuel has grown from a nucleus of about 30 to a congregation of more than 800 families. This rapid

Three delegates and three alternates were voted to represent the First Unitarian Society in Newton at the annual May meetings of the American Unitarian Association, to be held in Boston May 22-27. H. J. Davidson, Mrs. Joseph C. Skinner and George A. Johnson will be the official delegates, with Mrs. Morris H. Adler, Mrs. Robert L. Townsend and Dr. Hans Waine as alternate delegates.

Chairman Joseph C. Skinner presented the report of the board of trustees, emphasizing the plans for early building of the addition to the church plant.

Robert H. Loomis, chairman of the trustees, to fill out an unexpired term, was confirmed by vote of the parish as a trustee for one year.

The three endowed trustees, Robert H. Loomis, Frank L. Richardson and Thomas A. West, were reelected for three-year terms.

The slate of officers was presented by Robert H. Cobb, chairman of the nominating committee, which included Mrs. Rudolf Amann and A. Bela Sziklai. Unanimously approved, the clerk was instructed to cast one ballot.

To Present
American Premiere Sun.

The annual Spring Vesper Service of the Newton High School will be presented Sunday, at 4:00 p.m.

The A Cappella Choir, the Glee Club, and the Symphony Orchestra will present a program of interesting religious music.

Magnificat in C by Johann Pachelbel (1653) will be the major presentation by the combined groups.

Don Malin, president of the C. C. Birchard Company, publisher of the work, states that as far as he can determine, this will be the premiere for this country.

The work was edited by the Englishman, Henry Woodward. It is especially suited for high school voices and instrumentalists.

The Magnificat (sung in Latin) was a portion of the Lutheran service at least until the time of Bach.

There will be no admission charged. All are cordially invited to attend.

Emerson School Students Enjoying Peterborough, N. H.

Thirty-eight boys and girls of the sixth grade at Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls are spending Monday through Friday in a well organized field trip to Boston University's Sargent Camp at Peterborough, New Hampshire.

Under the guidance of their teachers, Miss Catherine E. Harvey and Mrs. Ruth P. Sherman, these children have worked many months preparing for this event. To help defray expenses of the trip, they accumulated a bank account of $250 by means of conducting a scrap drive, selling old comic books, making and selling Christmas corsages, showing movies in the school auditorium, and by holding a cake and cookie sale with the help of interested parents.

"Cap'n Bill" Vinal, program coordinator and nature consultant at Sargent camp, will be at the camp to welcome the group from Emerson School. The children will be comfortably housed in dormitories, and will have indoor activities, including a bird lecture by Miss Mary Lou Turner; games, a square dance, and a talent show. Outdoor activities will predominate, however, with

Cancer Fund Reaches 85% Of Quota

Dr. Lewis S. Pilcher, chairman of the Newton Committee of the American Cancer Society, reports that as of Monday, 85 per cent of the $15,000 quota had been reached in the recent fund drive. It is hoped that the 100 per cent mark will be reached.

The Newton Committee's appreciation goes to all who have aided in this fund-raising. Individuals, clubs, organizations and business groups contributed to make the Newton Division the second largest in number of contributors in Eastern Massachusetts.

Special thanks are due Wilfred Chagnon, President of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and Theodore Morrison and the Community Cooperation Committee of Temple Shalom, who are responsible for distributing the cancer coin boxes to the various Newton villages. Special appreciation goes to William H. Rice, President of the Newton Centre Savings Bank and Treasurer of the Cancer Crusade, Newton, for his tireless efforts in supervising collections in the Newton area.

If you overlooked mailing your contribution during the active period of the campaign there is still an opportunity to help by sending checks to: Mr. William H. Rice, Box 75, Newton Centre, or directly to Cancer, Boston, Massachusetts.

Dr. Strieder's Talk Highlights Meeting

The quarterly meeting of the trustees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, held April 29 in Usen Auditorium, was highlighted by a talk by Dr. John W. Strieder, chief of Thoracic Surgery at the hospital. Dr. Strieder's talk mentioned present-day trends and operations of the chest, and was illustrated by a film made during one of his operations on the heart of a living patient. In addition to the reports of the director, Dr. Hamilton, and the chairman of the medical staff, Dr. Richard I. Smith, the usual trustee reports and reports from the Board of Governors were read and approved.

Miss Ruth Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Johnston, 22 Howard street, Newton, has been initiated into the Beta Chapter of Delta Delta Delta social sorority at St. Lawrence University, where she is a freshman. Projects such as this field trip are the outcome of untiring efforts and study of Newton teachers in their endeavor to make the process of learning broader and more interesting for the children. Home and school are also brought into closer relationship as they work together for the benefit of the children.

Counselors accompanying the children are: Robert Parker and John Goggin, Boston University student teachers at Emerson School, and Robert Spayne and Charles Bopp of Worcester Teachers College.

Counselors at Sargent Camp are: Jim Newcomb, Ann Lewis, Marilyn King, Jane Campbell, Frances Macomber, Pat Lotham and Rosemary Ryan.

Lisa Loeb Proves Star Sales Girl

The youngest Blue Bird in Newton Centre, Lisa Loeb, a second grader from Oak Hill School, was star salesgirl in the recent Camp Fire Girl candy sales. In her neat blue and red Blue Bird Costume she would go off on her bike, with her basket full of candy boxes to sell to the homes in her neighborhood—and then come back for more. All her tradesmen friends—the laundry man, the milkman, the didey service driver—found themselves enjoying her candy. Other good salesgirls were Jane Renker, Lee Porter, Jane Gilber, Marjorie Jacobs, Sandra Smith, Sonya Loeb and Marjorie Monto.

From the profits of the sale, Mrs. Charles Renker was sent to New York City last week to represent Newton Centre leaders at the Triennial Conference of the Camp Fire Girls at the Hotel Statler. Mrs. Renker's group, Blue Birds for three years, are ready to become Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Peter Coogan also attended the conference, representing the executive board of the Greater Boston Camp Fire Council.

Mrs. Coogan has prepared the report—both serious and humorous which delegates to the conference from the Boston area are presenting at the annual meeting and luncheon of the Greater Boston Camp Fire Council today in the Grill Room of the Red Feather Building. Newton residents attending are Dean Elisabeth Melville of Boston University, Mrs. Leo Milner, Mrs. Leon Freeman, Mrs. Charles Renker, Mrs. Montague Ford, Mrs. Richardson Rice, Mrs. Peter Coogan and Mrs. Charles Mason.

Miss Victoria Barbo, 246 Linden avenue, Newtonville, was one of 33 new members recently elected to Life Membership in Scarlet Key, Boston University's Honorary Activities Society, which singles out students whose leadership has contributed to the development of a more meaningful college life.

Food Festival At A&P Stores Here to Be Held May 15-31

Twenty-one prizes valued at more than $1000 will be awarded A&P visitors during a food festival to be observed at the company's super markets at 916 Walnut street at Beacon and 332 Walnut streets, Newtonville, May 15-31.

The prizes will be displayed at the new A&P located at Walnut and Beacon streets. However, patrons of the firm's Newton Centre store will receive chance slips and may deposit them at that location.

The A&P at 916 Walnut, opened only a few months ago, is one of the firm's largest and most modern super markets. Thousands of shoppers visit both stores each week, and the festival is being conducted in appreciation of this patronage.

The grand prize will be an Admiral refrigerator. Other prizes include six watches, two vacuum cleaners, six coffee makers and six electric clocks.

One of the most up-to-date features of the A&P at Walnut and Beacon streets is the bundle pickup station. The popular innovation eliminates the necessity of carrying heavy orders from store to car. A special track conveys the bundles out to the pick-up station.

The shopper merely drives alongside the station and receives the order from an attendant.

Other features are special departments for cosmetics, housewares and magazines. Self-service food departments regularly stock more than 3,000 different items.

Miss Eva Gregg, 51 Holly road, Waban, student at the New England Conservatory of Music, will sing in a Student Recital in Recital Hall 5 of the Conservatory, Thursday afternoon, May 15 at 1:05. She will sing selections from Mozart's Le Nozze Di Figaro.

For A Common Cause

A good home town is "the kind of place where the local merchants and their customers know one another and share a common pride in making their community a wholesome, prosperous place in which to bring up their families." John W. McTherlin, publisher of the American magazine must have been thinking of Newton when he made that statement.

We have been reminded by some of our readers that most of the men and women who share this common pride in Newton are members of one or more local organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce, the civic clubs, women's clubs, parent-teacher associations, religious and fraternal groups. We agree. We know that in every hometown the most popular local groups are those that have done the most for the community. That's why we believe in them.

We believe in them so much that we wish all of these local groups of men and women would meet together more often to discuss their common problems as citizens of the community. Such meetings would provide a wonderful opportunity for the local business men and women of the community to get better acquainted with one another.

Better understanding between the Public and Business is greatly needed today. It is the best antidote to the anti-business propaganda that attempts to destroy free enterprise by creating public distrust of business.

Like the women of the community, every businessman wants good schools, good city management, and all the other attributes of a wholesome hometown community. They want a good hometown because they are not only businessmen, but husbands and fathers. Furthermore, as good businessmen, they know that they can do more and better business in a thriving community than in a sick one.

Therefore, the good businessmen of any community can be relied upon to join with the women in any worth-while project that can make the community a better place to live in. It is to their advantage to co-operate and work with the women of the community. Likewise, it is to the advantage of the members of women's clubs and parent-teacher associations to recognize the civic importance of the local businessmen and to get their advice and support on every important community problem.

By working together for the good of Newton, the businessman and their customers will learn to know and understand each other as people. There is no better answer to the rabble rousers who would like to destroy public confidence in private enterprise.

It is desirable that local businessmen and their customers should work together for Newton's good.

CURRENT COMMENT

Stevenson or Russell to Get Nomination . . . Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois will be the Democratic candidate for President if the Republicans nominate Senator Robert A. Taft as their standard-bearer, but if General Dwight D. Eisenhower is the choice of the Republican convention, the Democratic nomination may go either to Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia or Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

That's the way some shrewd and sound Democratic politicians size up the Presidential picture at the present time. The fact that the Republican national convention will be held before the Democratic conclave will enable Stevenson to determine the identity of the G.O.P. candidate before giving a final go-ahead or a stop signal to the forces willing to launch a draft movement on his behalf.

The blunt fact of the matter is that Stevenson is probably willing to run against Taft but that he would not be at all enthusiastic about giving up the Illinois Governorship for the dubious political risk of battling Eisenhower who has demonstrated tremendous vote-drawing power.

As far as that goes, President Truman himself might allow Democratic leaders to set a movement in motion to draft him, if Taft emerges triumphant from the Republican national convention early in July.

Since formally withdrawing as a Presidential contender and announcing that he would seek another term as Governor, Stevenson has been putting on a strange political act.

He travelled 1900 miles to the Pacific Northwest to speak at a Jackson-Jefferson Day dinner in Portland, Ore., at the same time urging that no one mistakenly interpret this as meaning that he is again a Presidential candidate and insisting that he is a candidate only for the Governorship of his own State.

Stevenson asked the people of Oregon not to vote for him and probably got more support as a result of it than if he had pleaded for their ballots.

Many political observers have concluded that Stevenson is just playing hard-to-get and that when the right time comes he'll throw off his cloak of reticence and step forward as the Democratic standard-bearer.

That could be so, but we doubt that Adlai will do much stepping forward if Eisenhower is to be his opponent. He's in the position where he can put up his hand and solemnly declare that he meant exactly what he said—if Eisenhower is the G.O.P. choice—and where he can yield gracefully—if Taft is the candidate.

Whatever happens on the Republican side, it is apparent that the attempt to boom W. Averell Harriman as Presidential timber isn't likely to get far.

One Democrat who is campaigning on the theory that Eisenhower will be the Republican candidate and who is asking support on the ground that he is the only Democratic standard-bearer who would have a good chance of defeating Ike is Senator Russell of Georgia.

Russell asserts that he is the one Democrat who can depend on the solid South, that he could get 146 electoral votes in 13 Southern States and that he would need only 120 more votes from the rest of the country to win election.

Whether Russell would have a good chance of defeating Eisenhower is a moot political question, but it would appear that he would have as good a chance, at least, as anyone being considered for the Democratic nomination.

The Georgia Senator is probably the most able of all the candidates in the Democratic race. The only thing northern politicians have against him is that he is a Southerner. Yet, he took no part in the Dixiecrat revolt four years ago, refused to be its standard-bearer and stood by President Truman.

It's very likely that he will go into the Democratic national convention with a much bigger bloc of votes than any other candidate, and it's barely possible that the Democratic leaders might agree to let him make the run, if Eisenhower is the candidate.

In all probability, Russell probably could not stand up to Ike in a State such as Massachusetts, but for that matter neither could any other Democratic prospect on the basis of the present popularity ratings.

What the Democratic politicians presumably are depending upon is that Eisenhower's popular appeal will gradually drop when the time arrives for him to declare himself on controversial issues and when more and more people discover that the General doesn't see eye to eye with them on as many things as they thought.

That may be partly offset by the fact that the Democrats themselves will face a tremendous task in building up their own candidate in the three and a half months to elapse between their convention and election day. For unless President Truman should be drafted, no Democratic standard-bearer will be as well known to the people of the nation in late July as either Taft or Eisenhower.

New England Has Scenic Beauty Which Is Envy of Rest of Country

By JOHN H. CRIDER

We are now getting well into one of the seasons of the year that the rival vacation areas of Southern California, Florida, and New Mexico just don't have. And, as you drive around New England in the spring, viewing our area in one of Nature's prettiest gowns, you also are struck by the orderliness of our highway aprons, villages and towns, compared to what you see in other parts of the country. It is all so neat and tidy as everybody from state and municipal authorities down to the individual householder, gets out the paint brush and broom to clean up for spring.

But, we needn't be smug about this. We should keep making the most of what we've got, and even do better. We've really got something to work on with the hand-some village greens our forefathers bequeathed to us, and natural scenery unsurpassed anywhere. Let's keep it clean, keep rubbish off the highways, and make the tourists realize that what we preach to others we practice ourselves.

Foreign Trade
Too few of us here in New England realize what a tremendous stake we have in foreign trade. Being primarily a manufacturing area we are not only dependent in considerable degree upon countries abroad for markets, but we are even more dependent upon some of them for the raw materials which go into our manufacturing processes.

The Department of State has come up with a valuable analysis of foreign trade as it affects Massachusetts, but the conclusions and data are generally applicable to all of the manufacturing areas of New England. The document is, of course, a "plug" for the government's reciprocal trade agreement program, but even discounting the propaganda purpose of some of this information, it is basically sound and something we cannot afford to overlook in keeping our factories humming.

The most important point is that lack of foreign desire for American products has never been a major barrier to exports of our goods, but rather the inability of foreigners to earn the dollars which are necessary to purchase our exports. Unless we want to give or loan those dollars the only way they can get them is to sell us their own raw materials or manufactured products.

To some extent, of course, tariffs and quotas which they impose upon our exports are a deterrent to their dollar-earning ability but these are not of major importance. Where such barriers do exist the principal way of getting rid of them is through reciprocity—in other words, by our agreeing to lower some of our tariffs or removing quotas in exchange for their doing the same. After all, trade reciprocity was a Republican idea, first introduced as American policy by McKinley before he became President of the United States. It should not be a political issue.

Foreign purchases of New England goods could probably be multiplied many times if the foreigners could get the dollars they need to buy. Paul Hoffman, when he was head of the Economic Cooperation Administration, estimated that European countries alone could buy annually $15 billion or more of American goods if they could get the dollars. Actually, we exported to Europe only about $4 billion.

The Federal Power Commission at first urged the two companies to get together rather than divide up the market. The FPC said one pipeline would be cheaper than two, to the companies and to the customers. But the two companies could not get together.

As an alternative method, the power commission then split up the territory, the northern and western portions going to Northeastern and the southeastern section to Algonquin. The FPC issued certificates to each company and the problem appeared settled. But it wasn't.

Northeastern filed a new petition with the commission asking that it be made the sole distributor for the whole region. The commission denied that petition and Northeastern went to court.

In the meantime Northeastern completed its main pipeline and now is supplying gas to users in its section of Massachusetts. Algonquin had spent $19,000,000 and hoped to have its pipelines in operation by the end of this summer.

Then came a decision by the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia a few weeks ago telling the FPC it must go back and consider the petition in which Northeastern asked for the whole New England market.

Northeastern contended in court that the FPC had erred in not hearing the relative merits of the abilities of the two companies to serve the whole region. The court agreed.

Algonquin already has served notice of an appeal of the court decision. The FPC still is considering its next move. It too can appeal.

If an appeal goes into the Supreme Court new delays and new problems are inevitable. And if Northeastern won in the Supreme Court also it would mean the case would have to go back to the commission for new hearings on the merits of the two applications.

Back at the commission the issue would come before new minds. Mon C. Wallgren was the FPC chairman when the decision not to hear Northeastern's petition was made. The new chairman is Thomas C. Buchanan, who originally voted in the commission against dividing the New England market.

The United States Supreme Court may have to lend a hand in pumping natural gas to consumers in southeastern New England.

The question of whether New England is to be served by one or two natural gas distributors is headed in the direction of the high court after a lower court decisions put the problem back about where it was two years ago.

The only thing certain about the picture at the moment is further delay in getting natural gas to Boston, most of southeastern Massachusetts, Rhode Island and part of Connecticut.

The fight started back in 1949 when the Northeastern Gas Transmission Company and the Algonquin Gas Transmission Company both went out for the New England natural gas market, which has been the last big territory of the country to be without natural gas.

The Federal Power Commission at first urged the two companies to get together rather than divide up the market. The FPC said one pipeline would be cheaper than two, to the companies and to the customers. But the two companies could not get together.

SPOTLIGHT ON THE NEWTONS

By RALPH and TUNNI COOLIDGE

ROLAND MAHER, FOUNDER of the 12 1/2 Cent Club, all ready to notify Shut Ins that their lives will soon be brightened when he hears from the Newton Representative.

Have you ever had to stay at home on a dreary rainy day when all your friends were at work, or too busy to call? Or have you ever been confined in a hospital for a long period and known the loneliness that illness brings? Let us hope that you won't ever know the bane of shut-ins, the heartache, that the newly formed, 12 1/2 Cent Club is trying to alleviate.

You may be hearing much of the club all over the country in the near future, but this fledgling organization is taking its first flight right here in Newton.

Through a personal knowledge of the sufferings of shut-ins, though she herself has not been afflicted, Miss Helen Gesmini, 17 Bowers st., Newtonville, in her unselfishness, has consented to be the club's Newton representative.

Miss Gesmini is a member of other charitable organizations, such as the Red Cross and Community Chest. She is well versed in organizational work and its purpose. She says of the 12 1/2 Cent Club, "The plight of the shut-in is pathetic, but their loneliness may be easily remedied. So little is required of the 12 1/2 Cent Club members that everyone may participate."

Here in Newton, many residents are often members of several clubs, the 12 1/2 Cent Club has special appeal. Membership fees are low; the time required is little and the rewards are great.

to fighting the battle from his wheel chair. But there was never a more cheerful warrior. Roland's eyes shine of something deeper than glowing health, he radiates more than surface cheer. He reflects the courage, the stamina, and faith in the Above that is the guiding light of all men.

The club will visit various hospitals and aid in bringing together the afflicted and infirm. Volunteers who own cars are urgently needed in order to distribute items and spread sunshine. The club is also in need of those who could arrange club meetings and distribution of effects. The founder of the 12 1/2 Cent Club, Roland Vernal Maher, 81 Penfield st., Roslindale, is a gentleman who took to heart the phrase, "necessity is the mother of invention". Himself a victim of muscular dystrophy, Roland has many friends who are also "in the same boat" or wheelchair, as it were.

Now 42 years of age, Roland has been smiling through his sentitive, is LA 7-1283. Here is misfortune for 25 years. Nine years ago he resigned himself "little things" in life!

To those who wish to join the 12 1/2 Cent Club, we comment the above. The phone number of Miss Gesmini, Newton representative, is LA 7-1283. Here is an opportunity to remember the

Highland Glee Club To Sing Saturday

The defending champion, the Highland Glee Club of Newton, will appear on Saturday, May 17 in the annual contest and concert of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs at the High School Auditorium in Medford. At 1 p.m. the clubs will meet and each organization will present two selections of their own choice, without accompaniment, to be rated by concealed judges.

While the contest is a tradition of the past twenty years, it will be the second year that competition will be for the General Electric Company trophy. The judges of the contest this year, all leaders in the world of music, are Messrs. Malcolm H. Holmes, Carl McKinley, and Everett Titcomb, members of the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music.

After a supper enjoyed by the choristers, their families, and friends, the evening will be devoted to a joint concert of the Federation members in the same auditorium at 8 p.m. A group of about 400 male singers will present three groups of songs and by unanimous choice of the combined clubs, D. Ralph MacLean of the Highland Glee Club has received the position of honor as conductor.

The assisting artists will be the Medford High School Band under the direction of Ralph Schoonmacher. The 110 instrumentalists will present an overture and two groups and will share in the finale with the chorus. The concert band is widely known as a national champion and in 1953 will make an invitation trip for a tour of Norway. It is the first United States school band to receive such an honor.

This annual festival event is open to public audition with tickets available from any of the participating organizations or at the auditorium.

To complete registration please bring birth certificate, vaccination certificate and immunization records.

Local Garden Clubs Meet For Annual "Garden Day"

The president and the horticultural or conservation chairman of the Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, Newtonville, West Newton, West Newton Educational, and the Auburndale Garden Clubs, were invited to be among the guests at the sixth annual Garden Day, which was held last Monday, May 12, by the Wellesley Department of Wellesley College. Representatives of 89 garden clubs and the officers and committee chairmen of the Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs met on the Wellesley campus and had luncheon in a college dormitory.

Trips through the Wellesley botanic gardens, greenhouses, botany library and museum, the observation of demonstrations in the laboratories, and the viewing of films on plant reactions and the Kew Gardens in London, completed the day's program.

Description of Programs Planned Is Feature of Community Club Discussion

Description of the programs planned for next year was a special feature of the meeting of the Newton Community Club's Executive Board held last Friday morning, May 9, at Grace Church Parish House. This was led over by the newly-elected president of the club, Mrs. John L. MacNeil.

Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell, program chairman, told of plans for club meetings beginning in the fall. A varied group of programs is being arranged, the object of which is to inform and mentally enrich club members as well as to give enjoyable afternoons. Subjects range over the arts: music, art, literature, photography, travel and world events.

Guild of Saint Francis to Hold Annual Communion Breakfast Sunday

The Annual Communion Breakfast of the Guild of Saint Francis will be held at the Sacred Heart School Hall this Sunday, immediately following the 8:30 Mass at the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre.

Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie will be the main speaker. Mrs. Vincent J. Kelley will act as toastmistress and Mrs. Thomas P. Maloney will be the guest soloist.

The retiring President, Mrs. John R. Hogan, has appointed the retiring secretary, Mrs. Edward J. Montana, as chairman, with Mrs. James W. Boggs as co-chairman.

Installation of the following newly-elected officers will take place: Mrs. John F. Shea, President;

A SCENE at the Reapers' Stand at the Eliot Congregational Church which will be open to the public this Friday from 11 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Reapers Stand at Eliot Church Is Open to Public Tomorrow

This Friday the "Reaper's Stand" at the Eliot Congregational Church in Newton will be open from 11 in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon. The public is urged to come and see this phase of the Reaping of the Talents Festival in operation, and while browsing around among the many attractive and useful articles which are for sale, to have a cup of tea or coffee for refreshment served at small tables.

Baked goods are always in demand and the "Stand" is well stocked with these. Pies, cakes, breads, muffins, casseroles, dishes, baked beans, brownies, donuts and holes, fancy cakes and sandwiches, preserves, jams, jellies and pretzels. There are serviceable and fancy aprons, costume jewelry, children's toys and clothes, handknitted articles such as string gloves, baby bonnets and sweaters, lovely carriage robes, stationery and paper napkins, useful household articles, and other products.

Also African violets with directions for their successful care, Burping Bibs, a grandmother's patented invitation; children's bathrobes, fuzzy teddy bear toys, handpainted metal goods, leather goods, hammed metal ware and magazine subscriptions. Also a fine line of used clothes in first-class condition.

The men of the Church also are busy with their projects and have cord wood, home tied flies for fly fishing, garden furniture for children, home blanched and roasted peanuts, a service for re-caning and fixing the seats of piazza furniture. The children and young people are making home-made candy, brownies, cookies, adjustable leather belts, bridge talles and place cards, ceramic ash trays, cork coasters and place settings, hand-knit socks, doing old English printing to order, offering stamps for stamp collections, collecting papers, doing odd jobs such as baby-sitting, dish-washing, car and window washing, lawn mowing and trimming at small tables.

In case you know of a group interested in securing entertainment, the church members offer a variety of lectures, mostly illustrated, on travel, dogs, old quilts, churches, and Williamsburg. One ambitious lady offers a bridge-party service complete with prizes.

The "Reaper's Stand" will be open to the public this Friday and on the third Friday of each month through October, 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. All are invited to attend.

Centre Garden Club

A unique and striking color film entitled "The Pageant of the Trees" by Mrs. Roland W. Ure will provide the program for the regular meeting of the Newton Centre Garden Club to be held on Tuesday morning, May 20th at the Newton Centre Womans Club. Coffee will be served before the meeting at 10 o'clock by Mrs. Clifton H. Curtis, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Bentley, Mrs. Charles Dean, Mrs. Lorraine Hopkinson, Mrs. H. Bristol Nelson, Mrs. Early Pierce and Mrs. Sidney Sholley. The president, Mrs. Edward W. Leonard will preside at the brief business meeting before the program.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae

Frances Galvin, well-known throughout the Newtons as mezzo-contralto soloist, will present a program of operetta and light musical comedy selections at the Luncheon of the Dramatic Workshop Group of the Professional Women's Club, May 28, at the Hotel Bradford, Boston. Kitty Knight of Newton will be a accompanist.

Bigelow P. T. A.

Under the direction of Miss Julia Hubbard, 200 Junior musicians will give a program of song and instrumental music for the Bigelow P.T.A. Monday, May 19, at the school auditorium at 7:45 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Included in the program will be numbers by the Girls' Glee Club, the Boys' Glee Club, the Boys Double Quartet, the string Ensemble and the entire Bigelow Orchestra.

This musical feat is planned as the climax of the program which is also the annual meeting and election of officers for the Bigelow P.T.A.

Vassar Club

Vassar graduates of this area are making plans for Vassar Night at the Pops, to be held at Symphony Hall on Friday, May 30, for the benefit of the Vassar Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Lloyd D. H. Anderson of Pickwick rd, West Newton is the Chairman of the Boston Branch of the Vassar Club. Among the attractive flower vendors who will have trays of gardenias to sell that evening are Miss Helena Hyde, Sarah Danner, Mrs. Douglas Danner and Mrs. N. Rust Cutler, all of Newton.

The Newell Club

The annual meeting of the Newell Club will be held at the Wellesley Country Club on Thursday, May 22. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. followed by the business meeting and a bridge party for members of the Club.

Arrangements for the luncheon and bridge party are being made by Mrs. Oswald F. Banks of Wellesley Hills, assisted by Mrs. Henry C. Jones, Jr. of Newton who, with her committee, is in charge of floral decorations.

Award Blue Ribbons At Pomroy House

Proud mothers recently visited the Pomroy House, a Newton Red Feather Agency, to view the exhibit in which their daughter had taken part.

Blue ribbons for excellent cooking were awarded to Antoinette Leone, Catherine White, Patricia Shea and Lucia Melansen for their light, tasty muffins and to Lilla Curley for a colorful, vitamin-filled salad. Janet Farrell won a blue ribbon for her attractive summer cotton dress, and Katherine Neville won two blue ribbons, one for a practical gabardine suit and blouse, the other for her excellent note book in which she has kept her records over the years of her work in 4-H work. Mary Maguire, too, won a blue ribbon for her pretty yellow two-piece pique dress.

Following the awarding of the blue ribbons, the Sewing girls put on a skit in which style and lines were judged by a jury. Miss Mary Maguire was the judge of the court. Miss Katherine Neville the attorney, the Misses Rita Caira, Josephine Leone, and Dorothy Boughan, the jury, with the Misses Lucy Colella, Martha Maguire, Eileen O'Mara and Elizabeth Tobin the stylists.

Leaders of the club groups present were Miss Emmy Lou Townsend, Miss Kirk Sideri, Mrs. Grace Lepore and Miss Helen I. Sandstrom.

Crittenton League

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Circle, Inc., of the Florence Crittenton League will be held on Monday, May 19 at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Fred G. Stritzinger 3rd, 162 Fuller street, West Newton.

Luncheon will be served by Mrs. A. Harry Hutchinson, assisted by Mrs. Robert S. Bolan, Mrs. Maurice E. Peters Jr., Mrs. Irving L. Seiler, Miss Dorothy L. Simpson, Mrs. Ralph D. Thompson, Mrs. John Turner and Mrs. Scott H. Wells.

Mrs. George B. Bullock Jr., president, will conduct the business meeting and announce appointment of Committee Chairmen for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Ruth K. Wellman, chairman of the Nominating Committee, will present the slate of officers to be elected annually.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Miss Virginia Drew, well-known Handwriting Analyst.

pany, who will also preside over the cooking demonstrations.

In addition to the new cooking helps and food ideas, many valuable prizes and all food used in the demonstration, will be given away to lucky ladies attending the sessions.

Miss Susan Mack, head of the Home Service Department of the Boston Gas Company and her staff of culinary experts, are not strangers to Greater Boston women. They talk to some 60,000 women every year at cooking schools, women's clubs, civic groups and in customers' homes. In the Boston Gas Company test kitchen, these experts constantly experiment with new recipes and food stuffs and keep in touch with the nation's top food authorities on the latest happenings in the food world.

Recipes created by these fine cooks are always available to customers. Call or write the Boston Gas Home Service Department, 100 Arlington street, Boston, and just state the type of recipes you wish. They'll be forwarded promptly.

Many local businessmen are also participating in the Cooking Party to make it even more exciting for those attending.

Another feature of the school at the Centre Women's Club auditorium will be a demonstration of meat selection and cutting and trimming by A&P Food Store experts. All the meat used in the demonstration will be given away to those attending the school.

Newton women are asked to save the date of May 26 and to remember that it's a one-day school. All women of Newton are cordially invited to attend the cooking class, and are urged to invite their friends.

The A&P specialist will explain government grading and inspection of meats. He will also cil, and Robert B. Whittemore of the Weston Community Chest.

Also present at the meeting was John F. Goodnow of South Sudbury, from whom the council has just acquired 21 acres of land adjoining the northern end of Nobscot Reservation. F. Brittan Kennedy, chairman of the camp properties committee, in announcing this acquisition, explained that about half the land was purchased with funds donated specifically for this purpose, and that the balance of the land was the gift of Mr. Goodnow. Mr. Kennedy expressed the appreciation of the council to Mr. Goodnow for his generous grant, to Richard B. Peirce for his untiring efforts towards enlarging Nobscot Reservation, and to E. W. Pettigrew, master of the Sudbury Grange, for his surveying work done at no cost.

Mr. Speedy's address was concerned with "bridge building," which he defined as the fundamental business of all Scouts. He developed this theme by explaining that Scouts build international bridges which reach across the world and contribute to better relationships between peoples. They build a Scouting bridge from the world of an adult—really a bridge between two worlds, which must be spanned if the father is to understand his boy. They are building bridges between today and tomorrow, for in everything a man does for a boy, he is making his influence felt directly upon the world of the future.

Nel W. Swinton was elected president of the council for the coming year. Other officers elected at the meeting were: Vice-president and scout commissioner, George M. Shannon; vice-presidents, Frederick R. Garon and James C. Walton; treasurer, Philip VerPlanck; members of the executive board, John B. Starkweather, F. Brittan Kennedy, Daniel Mordecai, Arthur F. Veinott, Richard E. McKown,

The annual report of the council distributed at the meeting showed that there was a slight increase in boy membership during the year. The report also disclosed that, related to the number of boys eligible to become Scouts, boy membership in the council leads all of New England for the fourth successive year.

Newton-Wellesley Participates in May Day College Event

The last meeting of the season of the Board of Directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association was held in the nurses home Tuesday morning. Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., presided at the business meeting and introduced the speaker, Mrs. Harry B. Duane, Jr., executive secretary of the North Shore Babies Hospital Auxiliary of Salem. Mrs. Duane discussed in detail the recent successful fund-raising plan which has been carried on by her Auxiliary for the past two years.

Miss Maida Flanders, treasurer of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association announced that check for seven thousand dollars was being turned over to the hospital. This sum represents the final payment on a fifty thousand dollar pledge made by the Aid to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital building fund. The Hospital Aid Association sponsors several sustaining revenue earning projects including the Coffee and Gift Shops located in the Hospital. The Newborn Photo Service and Gift Cart have been inaugurated during the past year. The organization has also been responsible for many occasional fund-producing activities including bridge parties and fashion shows, concerts by the Highland Glee Club, lecture by Lowell Thomas, Jr., and a recent successful musical revue.

Mrs. Harold C. Wiswall and Mrs. Edward P. Garland were hostesses for the coffee and social hour which preceded the meeting.

Teams of Three Little Leagues Swing Into Action Saturday

Great Day Near -- Parades and Doubleheaders to Be Features

Newton's Little League baseball season will open in grand style this Saturday, when the three leagues swing into action with parades and double headers at each of the three newly cut diamonds at Albemarle playground, Newton Center playground and Cold Springs playground.

Newton East league leads off with a parade starting at 12:30 p.m. from Weeks Jr. High School through the business section of Newton Center to the Newton Center playground, where opening day ceremonies will be followed by Newton's first Little League game.

The South league will parade each of its four teams through their respective villages to meet at 1:30 p.m. at the Hyde School in Newton Highlands. The entire group will then march up Lincoln street to Walnut street to Dunklee street to Cold Springs playground. Game time has been set for 1:45 p.m. following brief opening ceremonies.

Last but not least, the Newton North league starts its parade at 1:30 p.m. at Elm Road in Newtonville. The future big leagues will march up Walnut street through Newtonville Square to Crafts street to Albemarle Field. After brief ceremonies the opening game of the double header will start at 2 p.m.

Little League Commissioner James E. Murphy, of West Newton, and Evan Johnson, head of the City's Recreation Department, will attend the opening ceremonies of the three leagues.

Each league will play a regular schedule of 36 games as required by national Little League regulations. When the regular season is completed each league will select an "all star" team which will compete in district, regional and possibly in the Little League World Series.

Selection of Four East Little League Teams Made

After 2½ gallons of coffee and 7½ hours of continuous spirited bidding, the squads of the four teams comprising the Newton East Little Baseball League were selected last week at the home of Jason Silverman, league president.

Auctioneer George Cleary allowed each manager to bid 100,000 credits for the purchase of players and managers. Fred Pagano and Haskell Freedman of Thompsonville; George Kaplan of Chestnut Hill; Syd Borosky of Oak Hill, and Richard Devlin of Newton Centre -- bid for each player. Identification of applicants was by number only. No information was available to the bidders other than the score obtained by each boy on his tryout day.

George Cleary, as player agent, presented each candidate by his number, and endeavored to draw the managers into competitive bidding. The highest bidder got title to the player, and his account was charged for the points bid. As a result of this procedure, four well rounded equal squads should be competing against each other this season.

Following the players' auction, each manager will notify the men purchased by him and all embryo DiMaggios and Fellers will report to their respective fields for further screening for first and farm teams. Birth certificates should be obtained by all boys before today (Thursday) when uniforms will be distributed.

Plans have been made for a gala launching of the Newton East Little League season on opening day this Saturday when little league comes to Newton with all the color of our great national pastime.

Make Final Selections of North Little League Teams

Newton North Little League managers announced today that they had made final selection of the 3 to 12 year old boys who will make up the rosters of the four league teams. The selections were made after a week of daily practice sessions with the 25 man squads the managers had "bought" during the player auction a week ago.

Competition among the 11 and 12 year group was particularly keen. A number of good ball players in this group had to be eliminated because Little League regulations limit each team to five 12 year olds and five 11 year olds. The remainder of each 15 man squad was made up of one 8, one 9 and two 10 year old boys.

The managers also announced that the "farm" teams would practice next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Boys who live in Newton, Nonantum and Newtonville will practice at Albemarle playground. Those who live in Auburndale report to the Auburndale playground, and the West Newtonites to the Warren Junior High playground.

Names of boys who were selected for the major teams are as follows:

Wrestling Returns To West Newton Armory Saturday

To say that wrestling will return to the West Newton Armory under the auspices of the Burns-Kerr Legion Post Saturday night would be something of an understatement.

The matmen will be there all right, but along with them will be talented group of professional vaudeville entertainers, singers, dancers, comics and acrobats. The vaudeville troupe will put on a one-hour show just prior to the main event on Matchmaker Fred Bruno's four-match card.

Labelling his novel experiment "Ring Time and Show Time," Bruno hopes to attract a large crowd to the Armory, which is well adapted to such a double-barreled attraction because it has a fine, wide stage. Bruno's "variety" show will start at 8:30 P.M. and there will be no increase in prices.

Camp Holdings and Expansion Plan Program Is Announced By Newton YMCA Officials

POLICIES AND PROGRAM for Camp Frank A. Day are planned by group of members from the Board of Directors of the Newton Y.M.C.A. Left to right are: Harry W. Bassett, former general secretary of the Newton Y.; Lester E. York, head of the Fathers' Club; Dwight Colburn, vice-chairman; William A. Hopkins; Frederick A. Hawkins, vice-president of the Y and chairman of the Camp Day committee; George R. Strandberg; Frank A. Day, and Fred J. Cartier. Members of the committee not in photo include Harold B. Gores, Thomas E. Shirley and Charles Sprague.

Representative George Rawson Is Candidate for Re-election

Representative George E. Rawson of 22 Marlboro street, Newton, has announced that he will be a candidate for renomination in the Republican primary to be held in September. He now represents the Fourth Middlesex District, comprising Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of this city.

Rep. Rawson is a life-long Republican. Born in Holliston, Mass., he has resided at 22 Marlboro street for 33 years. For nine years he served as Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7.

While a member of the Board, he was chairman of the Committee on Claims and Rules for seven Appoint Two New Chaplains For Fire Dept.

Rev. John J. Mulcahy and Rev. W. Edge Dixon Named to Positions

Chief John E. Corcoran announces the appointment of two new chaplains to the Newton Fire Department.

Rev. John J. Mulcahy of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes' Church, Newton Upper Falls and Rev. W. Edge Dixon of Newton Methodist Church, Newton.

Father Mulcahy prepared for the priesthood at St. Clement's Hall and St. John's Seminary, Brighton, and was ordained at the Cathedral of Holy Cross on May 1, 1947. He has been assistant at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes' Church since 1947.

Rev. Mr. Dixon attended Gardner, 1946 until June, 1949, re-entered 1946 until June 1949, receiving the Bachelor of Divinity Degree. Served as pastor of the Allston Methodist Church from June, 1949 to March, 1951 and has been pastor of Newton Methodist Church from that date to present time. Since September, 1949 he has pursued graduate studies at Boston University.

He served in the United States Navy from September 1, 1942 to May 11, 1946. He was discharged with the rank of Senior Lieutenant.

He is married and has one son.

Other improvements planned by the camp committee and approved by the Newton Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors at their May 5 meeting, include improvements to the camp kitchen and food preparation departments, and new grading and terrain preparation.

Frank M. Simmons, director of physical education and conservation in the Newton schools, will return as director of Camp Day for his eighth season.

Camp Day, founded in 1916, will open for its 37th season Wednesday, June 25. A second four week period will open July 23, and the season will close August 20. Maximum camp enrollment is set at 158 boys.

Although enrollments for the first period are now complete, there are still a few opportunities for boys 8 to 15 years of age to enroll for the second period, opening July 23 and closing August 20, according to Mr. Simmons.

Sendoff ceremonies for five Newton registrants, even fewer than last month's low quota of 11, were held from Selective Service Headquarters, 430 Walnut street, Newtonville, at 6:15 o'clock this morning.

Reporting from Local Board 115 this morning were James A. Ingwersen of Phenix City, Ala., formerly of 40 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville; Harry W. Mathews, 95 Court street, Newtonville. From Local Board 116, Neil W. Nettleton, 26 Linden street, Needham, formerly of 89 Ridge road, Waban; and John N. Whitney of 61 Erie avenue, Newton Highlands. From Local Board 117, Paul M. McGrath, 142 Washington street, Newton.

The group entrained from Newtonville at 7 o'clock for the Boston Army Base, where they will be assigned to the armed forces.

Before departure each inductee was presented with a pen and pencil set, the gift of the city, by Edmund T. Dungan of the Veterans Services Department.

Hirsch Sharf, alderman from Ward 6, represented Mayor Lockwood, and Rev. Robert W. Woodroffe, rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Newton, represented the clergy.

New Cabin and Cottage Among New Projects

Improvements to Be Made in Food Preparation Department, Kitchen

Plans for expansion and improvement of the camp holdings have been announced for Camp Frank A. Day, residence camp of the Newton Y.M.C.A., by Fred A. Hawkins, chairman of the Camp Day committee, and Frederick S. Bacon, president of the Newton Y.M.C.A.

Included in the improvements all being installed this spring and summer are the addition of a new cabin for the waterfront director and a cottage for the mid-unit director.

Reginald Smith of the physical education staff of the Newton schools, will again be in charge of waterfront safety and activities. John E. Danielson, boys' work secretary of the Newton "Y," will be the mid-unit director for the 1952 season.

Other improvements planned by the camp committee and approved by the Newton Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors at their May 5 meeting, include improvements to the camp kitchen and food preparation departments, and new grading and terrain preparation.

Frank M. Simmons, director of physical education and conservation in the Newton schools, will return as director of Camp Day for his eighth season.

Miss Barbara Paddock Is Bride Of Frederick Myshral At Longmeadow

Before an altar banked with white gladioli and white pom poms, Miss Barbara Hazel Paddock, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Wood Paddock of Longmeadow, was married to Mr. Frederick Joseph Myshral, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boudrot of 29 Dalby street, Newton, May 3, at St. Mary's Church in Longmeadow. Mr. Albert Cooney gave the bride in marriage at the double ring ceremony.

The bride chose for her wedding, a white slipper satin gown fashioned with fitted bodice, tapering sleeves and a court train. A seed pearl tiara held in place her fingertip veil of nylon net. She carried a prayer book with gardenia markers and white satin streamers with white pom poms.

Miss Faith Dunlop of Springfield was bridesmaid. She wore a pale pink net gown and a matching hat and carried a bouquet of assorted spring flowers.

Junior bridesmaid, Miss Judith LeBrun of Newton, niece of the bridegroom, wore pale yellow organdy and carried a matching yellow bouquet.

Best man was Mr. Eugene Dooley of Lynn. Ushers were Mr. Eugene Champion and Mr. Raymond Swanson. A reception followed at Huntin Hill, Hampden, and at St. John's Church Hall in Newton.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a blue chiffon gown with a matching hat. The mother of the groom was gowned in rose crepe and wore a white hat. Both gowns were accented with corsages of pink flowers.

Barnes-Peters Rites Solemnized At Waltham Recently

The Rev. J. Burdette Charles officiated at the double ring wedding ceremony of Miss Cynthia Lorraine Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Putnam Barnes of 120 Eliot avenue, West Newton and Mr. Max Eugene Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peters of Clinton, Illinois, which took place at the First Parish Unitarian Church recently, in Waltham.

A white ballerina-length lace gown and fingertip veil of nylon illusion with lace cloche, was the ensemble of the bride. She carried a bouquet of white iris and gardenias as she was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of Honor for her sister-in-law was Mrs. Russell W. Barnes, who was gowned in aqua net and wore a matching aqua lace cloche and mitts. Pink and red roses made up her bouquet.

Best man was Mr. Eugene Schindler of Dorchester, who is in the Navy with the bridegroom, stationed on the USS Shangri-La. Ushers were Donald Smith of Waltham, also on the Shangri-La, and Mr. Russell Barnes of West Medway, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Barnes chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy blue taffeta dress, white picture hat and accessories. She wore a gardenia corsage. Soloist for the wedding was Mrs. Henry Smith of Lynn. Mrs. Estelle B. Kenyon was organist.

The bride and groom will make their home at 120 Eliot avenue, West Newton until the groom receives further orders. They are on a wedding trip to Clinton, Illinois, the groom's home town.

A reception at the Hotel Somerset in Boston followed the wedding of Miss J. Janette Hull, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Hull of Brighton and Mr. Paul Emerson Fair, son of Mrs. Nan G. Fair of Newton and the late Dr. George F. Fair at St. Columbkille's Church on May 3.

They will make their home at Patchogue, Long Island, New York, where the groom is on the advertising staff of the Patchogue newspaper.

Mrs. Anthony Gallelo

Flowers Bank Altar at Our Lady's For Boissoneault-Gallelo Rites

White snapdragons, baby's breath and carnations banked the altar at the Church of Our Lady in Newton for the May 11th wedding of Miss Jeanne Boissoneault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Boissoneault of Biddeford, Maine, and Mr. Anthony Gallelo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gelvano Gallelo of 56 Oak street, Waltham. A reception followed at Columbus Hall in Newton.

The father of the bride, Mr. Boissoneault, gave his daughter in marriage. The bride's gown was fashioned with a bodice and tunic of chantilly lace over ivory slipper satin. Her fingertip veil of maline net was caught to a tiara of pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli.

Mrs. Barnes chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy blue taffeta dress, white picture hat and accessories. She wore a gardenia corsage. Soloist for the wedding was Mrs. Henry Smith of Lynn. Mrs. Estelle B. Kenyon was organist.

The bride and groom will make their home at 120 Eliot avenue, West Newton until the groom receives further orders. They are on a wedding trip to Clinton, Illinois, the groom's home town.

A reception at the Hotel Somerset in Boston followed the wedding of Miss J. Janette Hull, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Hull of Brighton and Mr. Paul Emerson Fair, son of Mrs. Nan G. Fair of Newton and the late Dr. George F. Fair at St. Columbkille's Church on May 3.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Anne McGlynn and Mr. Geary

A traditional white satin and chantilly lace gown was worn by Miss Anne Virginia McGlynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Michael McGlynn of 1401 Washington street, West Newton, for her wedding to Mr. Henry Francis Geary, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Francis Geary, Sr., 991 Watertown street, West Newton, at St. Bernard's Church, also in West Newton, May 3.

The Rev. Charles McCarthy, cousin of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony at which Mr. McGlynn gave his daughter in marriage. A reception at Sudbury Inn followed the Nuptial Mass.

Best man was Mr. John Geary. Ushers were Mr. Robert Hartley, Mr. Edward Desmond, Mr. Francis Carrelli, and Mr. Robert Cloran.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McGlynn wore a dusty-rose gown which was trimmed with lace. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of blue and white.

The bride and groom will reside at 219 Commonwealth Avenue, Chestnut Hill, when they return from their wedding trip.

Matron of honor was the bride's attendant, Mrs. Charlotte Wise. She was gowned in a ballerina style with peach lace and matching hat. She carried

Miss Nancy S. Fair, of 20 Morton street, has returned from a trip to Bermuda.

At the Unitarian Church in Amherst recently, Miss Ruby Estelle Kent of North Amherst, and Mr. William O. Wise Jr., of 276 Church street, Newton, were married at a double ring ceremony. Rev. Nathaniel Lauriat officiated at the wedding which was followed with a reception in the Alliance parlor. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Wise of St. Albans, Vermont.

The bride is a graduate of Higgins Commercial School, Boston. Mr. Wise was graduated from Proctor Academy, Andover, N. H., and Bryant Stratton, and is presently a brokerage clerk. When they return from their honeymoon in Miami, Florida, the wedding couple will make their home at 67 Church street, Waban.

The bride wore an embossed white nylon ballerina length gown and her headpiece was a matching face veil caught to a skull cap. Mixed flowers made up her white bridal cascade.

Eighteen Models of Other Makes of Cars Cost More!

Official price lists show that there are eighteen different models of American motor cars, produced by five separate automotive manufacturers, which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac—when similarly equipped.

If you find this difficult to believe—then you're in good company!

For the record also shows that, during the past few years, literally hundreds of thousands of motorists have taken title to these costlier models. And there can be little doubt that many of them did so simply because they failed to realize how relatively modest the cost of a Cadillac can be.

They simply assumed that exclusive in quality means exclusive in price! And it is doubtful if a single misunderstanding ever cost so many motorists so much!

It cost them, first of all, the satisfaction of owning a Cadillac! For there is no substitute for the sense of pride and well-being that comes from owning a motor car that is universally recognized as the "Standard of the World."

It cost them, too, the pleasure of driving a Cadillac! And this, beyond any question, is the greatest penalty of all! For in missing out on the many thrills to be found behind its wheel—they're missing out on motoring's finest rewards.

And, of course, it also cost them Cadillac's many long-range economies—its almost unbelievable gasoline mileage, its unsurpassed dependability, and its legendary long life.

We know that you wouldn't want to make such a costly mistake in the selection of your next car. But you'd better be careful—because there are eighteen different ways to make it!

So when the time comes—investigate! And if you pay the price of a Cadillac—be sure that you get one!

State Government and The Local Taxpayer

The attitude of the present state government toward the local taxpayers combines excessive supervision with a desire to squeeze out all the dollars the traffic will bear, and then some.

The state's action with respect to two proposed constitutional amendments this year illustrates the prevalent attitude. The amendments concerned the question of a graduated state income tax and the question of more local home rule.

In neither case did the House and Senate agree on a date for a joint convention to consider the issues. But in the case of the graduated state income tax, the Governor quickly called the necessary convention, though as it turned out the amendment was defeated. In the case of more local home rule, a fast double shuffle was given this proposed amendment (it was to have been decided by a joint convention but was ignored) and now the state's argument is that the deadline, May 14, for considering the matter has passed, so it cannot be taken up.

In short, where more money is to be found, our state officials presently are eager to consider the matter, but where local authority is to be strengthened, our state officials balk at the prospect. Human, understandable, but mighty poor judgment from the point of view of the local taxpayer.

CURRENT COMMENT

Democrats Expect Hailer to Oppose Curtis...

Democratic leaders on Beacon Hill are now making their plans for next fall's campaign on the assumption that City Councillor Frederick C. Hailer, Jr., of Roslindale will be their party's candidate against former State Treasurer Laurence Curtis in the fight for the seat in Congress now filled by Christian A. Hailer.

Hailer's entrance into the field and the fact that his organization already is swinging into action for a four-months drive to the September primary probably will mean that some of the other political figures who have been looking over the field will revise their plans.

School Committee Chairman Isadore H. Y. Muchnick would have considered making the race if he could have had a clear field in the primary, but there is no likelihood of Hailer withdrawing from the field.

Former City Councillor Francis P. Tracey of Roxbury, deputy director in the State department of veterans' services, who was mentioned as a prospective contender, has indicated that he will back Hailer.

Metropolitan District Commissioner Milton Cook of Roxbury, former member of both the House and City Council, is looking over the field but has made no decision up to the present time. Ex-Representative James L. Valley of West Roxbury also is a potential candidate.

In the meantime, however, Hailer is getting the jump, building his fences and lining up support.

Taft Forces Look for Help From MacArthur...

A Taft leader in the Middle West, who has been visiting in Boston, privately expressed the opinion to this writer that General Eisenhower will win the Republican nomination on the second or third ballot at the Chicago convention—unless Senator Taft stages an unexpected comeback.

He was vehement in denouncing the idea of running a General P. President, but he also conceded that Taft has been all but floored as a result of his succession of defeats at the hands of Ike wherever the rival camps have met on an equal footing.

This opinion was based on surveys made in the Middle West and the South, where Taft has his greatest strength.

The Taft lieutenant went on to express the conviction that the one person who might lift the Ohio Senator's stock enough to put him back in the race is General Douglas MacArthur, and he felt that MacArthur's recent speech in Michigan did real harm to the Ike campaign.

The argument advanced by the Eisenhower leaders that Taft cannot win election, if nominated, has proved extremely effective and has just about proved disastrous to the Taft campaign, it was declared, with people who would prefer Taft as President turning away from him because of a defeatist complex.

That is probably the frankest appraisal of the Republican Presidential race that has been made by any member of either camp. One psychological factor in Eisenhower's favor is that Ike apparently will make a much greater gain on the second ballot in Chicago than will Taft who evidently intends to shoot the works on the first ballot and conserve little of his strength.

Taft's strategy is to sell the idea that his election is inevitable and sway delegates who want to be riding on the right bandwagon. But the use of those tactics probably means that Taft must win by the second ballot or not at all, since Eisenhower can depend on the Warren and Stassen votes when he needs them.

Congressman Christian A. Herter has been making enough progress in his drive for the Republican nomination for Governor that there now is no doubt whatever as to the outcome of next month's G.O.P. State assembly in Worcester.

The only chance of Herter being supplanted on the Republican State ticket by G.O.P. House Leader Charles Gibbons is if Senator Taft is nominated for President at Chicago and Herter voluntarily steps down to make way for Gibbons, a Taft backer, on the State ticket. That, conceivably, could happen.

Herter appears to be steadily picking up strength, and more and more he shapes as a very formidable contender against Governor Dever for the November election.

One of the big surprises of the recent Presidential primary from the standpoint of Republican politicians was that Senator Saltonstall ran slightly ahead of Senator Lodge in the complimentary vote the two polled as unopposed candidates for the G.O.P. national convention.

Saltonstall had the top spot on the ballot with Lodge in the second spot just below him, and the margin of difference was not great, Saltonstall polling 304,696 votes and Lodge 300,660.

But Lodge is considered the stronger voter of the two, and he was expected to be the high man by a fairly comfortable margin. It can't be charged off entirely to the fact that Lodge is Eisenhower's campaign manager because Saltonstall also has declared himself for Ike.

Some observers interpret it as meaning that Saltonstall, who has been a less controversial figure than Lodge, is stronger today in the Republican party than his fellow Senator.

Truman Men Will Direct the Convention...

Politicians all over the country must have chuckled the other day when they read that President Truman had told newspaper reporters he didn't plan to attend the Democratic national convention until after it had nominated its candidate for President because he wouldn't want anyone to get the idea he was trying to dominate the convention.

Mr. Truman said that all the candidates seeking the right to carry the Democratic Presidential banner are very fine fellows, that anyone the convention picks will be satisfactory to him and that he will go out and make whistle stop speeches for the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be.

There may be some Democratic politicians seeking the right to carry the Democratic Presidential banner are very fine fellows, that anyone the convention picks will be satisfactory to him and that he will go out and make whistle stop speeches for the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be.

The foregoing dispatch came from this column's Washington correspondent, Paul A. Kelly. Ordinarily, Mr. Kelly's contributions will be woven into the column, but where dispatches stand on their own as the above, they will be used from time to time in their original form.—J.H.C.)

Simultaneously with the southern raid in the United States Senate on the rights of other regions of the country, Prof. Seymour E. Harris of Harvard, chairman of the New England Governors' Committee on Textiles, released a personal interim report which provided conclusive proof that the South, which contributes much less to federal revenue than New England, has been consistently getting more government textile assistance from the government than New England.

In other words, the southerners won't let us have any special assistance from the government by way of preferential contracts, but they don't mind a bit insisting upon, and getting, a discriminatory amount of help for themselves to New England's detriment.

Governor Dever was chosen as the keynote speaker not only because he is an exceptionally talented orator but also because he has been an outstanding champion of the Truman administration.

Congressman John W. McCormack selected to head the important resolutions committee at the convention, has been one of the President's first lieutenants on Capitol Hill. That's the way it will be all the way down the line.

The Southern Democrats will stage a tremendous fight for the nomination of Senator Russell, but they will not get any further than the Truman forces want to let them go.

Either President Truman doesn't actually know yet what he's going to do and has been making up his mind and changing it, or he's deliberately creating an air of mystery concerning his intentions.

He created the impression at one press conference that Governor Adlai Stevenson is his choice for the Presidency when he refused to deny a published report that he had offered Stevenson his support, if the latter were willing to run.

Newsmen naturally concluded that if Mr. Truman really were neutral, if he intended to maintain a hands-off policy and if he had not offered his backing to Stevenson, he would have said so.

At a subsequent press conference, President Truman lavished such praise upon W. Averell Harriman that the President's friends were convinced that "Honest Ave," as Harriman is known in Washington, was his choice. While this caused a momentary splurge for Harriman, the latter actually is considered pretty much a political dupe by Democratic leaders.

Last week the President for all practical purposes endorsed every Democrat running and declared he "thinks highly" of them all. When he was asked specifically about Senator Russell, he said he thought highly of him and that he could say the same thing about all the other candidates in the field.

It is very doubtful that the President thinks highly of Senator Kefauver, for example. At times in the past he has demonstrated a noticeable lack of enthusiasm for the former crime-prober. But Mr. Truman has been going around in a circle, and he has just about completed the swing.

OUR NEW ENGLAND

Fulbright's Amendments Would Be Serious Blow To New England Textiles

By JOHN H. CRIDER

Washington—A southern attempt to scuttle the Walsh-Healey Act, which provides minimum wage standards for firms accepting government contracts, is seen by New England senators as another shot in the north-south industry war.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) is sponsoring amendments to the Defense Production Act that would take away from the Secretary of Labor the right to set national minimum wage bases by industries and would substitute a provision that the minimum wages on government contracts be set by "localities."

The New England senators—especially Senators Saltonstall and Lodge of Massachusetts and Senator Green of Rhode Island—charge that would be just one more move to give southern textile plants a competitive advantage over New England in bidding on government contracts.

Fulbright's Amendments

Incentives as textiles. On the basis of official figures and communications, I find:

1. The Federal Government has issued $114 million in tax amortizations to expand the production of synthetics, and $57 million for textiles in the narrow sense. To some extent these tax subsidies were justified by need of additional capacity for fabrics required by the military. But this is far from a complete explanation. The vast proposed expansion of synthetics not only gives the South special advantages through shifts of processing to the South, but also accentuates the decline of New England textile centers.

Southern members of congress have succeeded during the past few months in beating down every attempt by the federal government to help the distressed New England textile industry. The southerners argue that any assistance given New England textiles will take something away from the South and that contention have squelched the best laid plans of the government to relieve unemployment in New England textile centers.

The office of defense mobilization had a plan for getting more government contracts into New England textile mills by allowing procurement officers to negotiate contracts at prices higher than those available in the south.

That was the plan, but the protests from southern congressmen have succeeded in removing textiles entirely from participation in a "distressed area" relief program. The government appointed a fact-finding panel to determine what aid could be given textile plants in distressed areas. Southerners swarmed all over the panel objecting to any aid. The panel now has come up with a determination that there should be no special help for depressed textile areas. It said if there is any help it ought to go to the entire textile industry, not just to the areas which have the most unemployment. The panel urged the government to speed up defense orders for the whole industry.

The foregoing dispatch came from this column's Washington correspondent, Paul A. Kelly. Ordinarily, Mr. Kelly's contributions will be woven into the column, but where dispatches stand on their own as the above, they will be used from time to time in their original form.—J.H.C.)

This is part of a general pattern of favoritism to the South. It is reflected in the large outlays of the Federal Government in the South—roughly twice as large relative to income as in New England; in the more favorable treatment on contracts (as suggested by allotments of scarce materials and tax incentives.)

"Political Influence"

Prof. Harris attributes the success of the southerners to their "greater political influence." One might suppose, then, that if we get a Republican Congress it will be perfectly fair retribution for the "greater political influence" of the Republicans.

In other words, the southerners won't let us have any special assistance from the government by way of preferential contracts, but they don't mind a bit insisting upon, and getting, a discriminatory amount of help for themselves to New England's detriment.

licans to be used to "get back" at the south.

The greater thing it proves, I think, is how much our very existence depends these days upon distant government bureaus over which we seem to have little control. Even more, it proves that such bureaus are not guided by equities but by the opportunities of the ballot box. (Who has the most votes for my side?)

This is the iniquity of "big government," far removed from the people. We become helpless at the hands of a government which is supposed to be our own.

As that famous New Englander, Benjamin Franklin said, in putting his name to the Constitution, this form of government would work all right for a time while well administered, yet could "only end in despotism, as other forms have done before it, when the people shall become so corrupted as to need despotic government, being incapable of any other."

There must be some criteria higher than mere regional advantage by which our supposed rulers can rule.

Candidate—

First elected to the House of Representatives in 1942, he has held the post continuously since then.

First as clerk and later as chairman of the Committee on Election Laws, he had a major part in the first complete revision of the election laws in over 30 years. He is the author of many improvements in those statutes. He was vice-chairman of the Recess Commission on Election Laws in 1945-46. In that capacity he rewrote the Corrupt Practice Act. The then Secretary of State Frederick W. Cook called it the best corrupt practices act he had ever seen. All it needs is executive enforcement. William E. Mullins of the Boston Herald has on numerous occasions editorially commended his work on Election Laws.

While clerk of the Military Affairs and Public Safety Committee he had a large part in securing the enactment of sound legislation to aid veterans, particularly the act which enabled Newton to build Oak Hill Park. He was also instrumental in legislation for the building of Logan Airport. A study of the Cocoanut Grove disaster in 1942 led him and Senator Clampeit to write the Public Safety Act of 1943, which became the basis of the subsequent complete revision and modernization of the building inspection and fire prevention laws made by them.

Rep. Rawson has consistently opposed waste and extravagance in government and has fought bad tax legislation. In 1946 he secured the defeat of a proposed inheritance tax on life insurance proceeds, and in 1947 the defeat of a proposed increase in the State income tax. In 1949 and again in 1951 he led the successful fight to kill attempts to tax deposits in savings banks, cooperative banks and other thrift institutions. With Senator Richard H. Lee and Rep. Howard Whitmore he is still fighting to secure tax relief for those dependent upon so-called "unearned income."

Rep. Rawson has kept a constant fight to secure reimbursement for our voluntary hospitals for the full cost of care of welfare and old age assistance patients, as a result of which such reimbursement has been doubled since 1946. He has also had a large part in defeating efforts to tax Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

From the time his service on the Board of Aldermen, Rep. Rawson worked to complete removal of Route 128 from Newton, and kept after it until it became a reality last August.

Rep. Rawson has been active in Newton Community Chest campaigns since the original drive in 1942, serving as worker, captain, major and finally as assistant district chairman for Newton last Fall. He was also district major in the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Fund campaign in 1949. He is a trustee of Stone Institute and is a member of Eliot Church.

Educated in the public schools of Holliston, Rawson was graduated from Amherst College in 1908, magna cum laude, and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He has been secretary of his Amherst Class since 1923, and a life trustee of his fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta, at Amherst. He has spent his life in the insurance business and is a member of the Republican City Committee for many years, and is chairman of the Ward 7 Republican Committee. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Newton Improvement Association.

groups. The Portland chorus in winning the trophy for most points also took first place in Group 1, and the Andover Male Choir topped Group 2. Each competing club sings two numbers of their own choice.

In the evening, the combined male choruses sang a concert in the same auditorium with D. Ralph MacLean, director of the Highland Glee Club, wielding the baton as guest conductor, and Herbert Irving was accompanist. The assisting artists were the Medford High School Concert Band under the leadership of Ralph I. Schoonmacher. At this time announcement of the contest award and presentation of the "GE" trophy was made by Dr. Harold L. Margeson of Melrose, president of the Federation.

From the local club, President George H. Wight and Albert T. Carpenter served on the contest and concert committee. Mr. Carpenter is also the active treasurer of the Federation.

In approaching the end of their singing season, the Highland Club has been active over several days of the past weekend. Last Thursday evening, a concert was given for the 36th annual guest night of the Thursday Morning Musical Club of Watertown in Dwight Hall of the Perkins Institution. Soloists with the Glee Club were Edgar Randle and Norman D'Low, tenors. The assisting artists were Emma R.

highlight when it can be arranged. Sometimes there is a visit to some Newton industry. The children see where John Elliot preached to the Indians on Nonantum Hill and learn first-hand why Echo Bridge bears its name.

A tour of the Jackson Homestead, with its graceful fence and inviting flower-beds, its fascinating kitchen and two interesting wells, makes the trip a memorable occasion. To quote from recent letters of thanks to Mrs. Arnold, "I was so excited I almost fell out of the seat!" "I Learned a Lot About Newton." "I Liked Best the Jackson Homestead."

The Garden Clubs of Newton are continuing their active interest in the grounds. Under their leadership, the City Forestry Department has added shrubs and hemlock trees, transplanted shrubs to better locations, and prepared an herb bed and a rose bed for planting by the women. The Chestnut Hill Garden Club has now joined with the other seven to see that the property is developed and maintained as a period garden.

The recent mailing concludes as follows: "With the expansion of services, there is a growing call for volunteer assistance. Guided clerical aides, and people interested in historical research can be used in considerable numbers. A few hours of time will prove a highly satisfying community service and will help to fill a real civic need." This opportunity will continue right through the summer with the exception of one three-week period when the house will be closed. Anyone interested should call DE 2-3920.

There will be no visiting hours on Memorial Day, May 30.

Mrs. John C. McClintock Heads The League of Woman Voters

League affairs of the past and coming year were brought before the membership at the well-attended Annual Meeting of the League of Women Voters of Newton held at the home of Mrs. William J. Macdonald, 170 Lake ave., Newton Centre.

A new slate of officers and directors was presented by Mrs. Robert Y. Hoeh, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, who was adopted by the members. The new president, Mrs. John C. McClintock, succeeds Mrs. E. Segal, who held that office for the past three years. Other newly elected officers are: First Vice President, Mrs. Lloyd C. Fogg; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Richard T. Mitchell; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Charles R. Williamson; Directors for 1952-1954 are, Mrs. George S. Alberts, Mrs. Erwin Cooper and Mrs. Seymour S. Getter. The new Nominating Committee includes Mrs. J. Ernest Smith, Chairman; Mrs. Albert R. Beisel, Jr.; Mrs. John W. Locke, and Mrs. Gertrude J. Wheeler.

Mrs. Aaron Cole, who continues as Recording Secretary for another year, read a comprehensive report of the League's activities and the accomplishments of its various Committees during the past year. The areas for League activity within the community for 1952-1953 were indicated when the members approved the proposed Local Agenda as presented by Mrs. Louis Winokur, Chairman of Local Affairs. The Local Agenda includes: 1. Voters' Service, 2. A comparative study of types of City Charities, 3. Working toward the abolition of the Preferential Voting System in the City of Newton and 4. Interpretation to the community of the changing objectives in modern education, as applied to Newton schools. The last two items were adopted after considerable discussion by the League membership. The League members decided to support the Act to Abolish Newton's Preferential Voting System (which will appear on the ballot as a Referendum next November) because, they feel, the present system is cumbersome, difficult for voters to understand, and a de-

Newton Art Assoc.

The last meeting of the current year for the Newton Art Association, with 90 members and guests attending, took place at the Smith House in Cambridge. Following the dinner was the election of Officers for the ensuing year, and interesting motion pictures of various painting techniques as employed by well-known artists.

The meeting was in charge of Retiring President Sherwood Blodgett's leadership. The Association has reached its limit of 100 active members with a substantial waiting list as well as many associate members. With his customary modesty Mr. Blodgett attributed this accomplishment to the untiring energy of his fellow officers and the various committees. At the suggestion of Former President James Bonnar, a rising demonstration of approval was given by the members.

The Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Harlan Riker; First Vice President, Helen Cleaves; Second Vice-President, Elizabeth DeVicq; Recording Secretary, Marietta McCarthy; Corresponding Secretary, Margaret Stone; Treasurer Stewart Miller; Assisting Treasurer, Chester Read; and Member of the Board of Governors, Roy A. Randall.

Exhibition of Paintings by members of Association which continue throughout May are those by Mrs. Jo Barker White at the Newton Highlands Library, and Roy Randall at the Newtonville Library.

PRESENTING GAVAL of leadership to the new president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Newton YMCA, Mrs. Frederick A. Hawkins, 28 Sargent Park, Newton, left above, is Mrs. Albert T. Carpenter, 158 Upland road in Waban, the past president. Mrs. Carpenter has served for the past two years as the Auxiliary's head. Mrs. Hawkins has been active in the Auxiliary for several years and is the wife of the vice president of the Newton YMCA.

Mrs. Frederick A. Hawkins Elected To Head Newton 'Y' Women's Aux.

Mrs. Frederick A. Hawkins was elected president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Newton YMCA at the Auxiliary's annual meeting held May 14, in the Newton YMCA building. Present were 50 members and guests.

Also elected to office were Mrs. Robert K. Burns and Mrs. Samuel E. Cutler, vice presidents; Mrs. Ashley D. Burt, recording secretary; and Mrs. Robert C. Lee, treasurer.

The importance of the work of the Women's Auxiliary was emphasized by Alex R. Miller, general secretary of the Newton

Y. He cited the work of Auxiliary members at such functions as the annual New Year's Open House, the annual Committee men's Dinner in December, and providing camperships for Camps Frank A. Day, Massasoit, and Chickama, all of which are camping projects of the Newton YMCA. In the year ahead, Mr. Miller pointed out, the Auxiliary will be invited to take large responsibilities in connection with the 75th anniversary of the Newton YMCA in October.

The annual meeting's program included a humorous skit by a

Newton Council P. T. A.

Horace U. Ransom of the Oak Hill P.T.A. was reelected as president of the Newton Council of Parent Teacher Associations at the annual meeting held at the New Bowen School in Newton Center, last Monday night. A dessert and social hour under the direction of Mrs. George Zipf preceded the business hour.

The business meeting was called to order by Mr. Ransom. Prof. W. C. Greene, Mr. Everett Kinchla, and Mr. George Koller, the three past presidents of the Council, were introduced.

Mr. Harold Burke, chairman of the Recreation and Playground Committee, explained that Little League Baseball was not a school or a P.T.A. activity, but that the Governing Board of the Little League had requested that two representatives of the Council be members of the board. Mr. Burke showed in his report that the city has done in developing three new baseball diamonds, explained the department supervision of Playgrounds on Saturdays, and reported on the improvements made in the various playgrounds.

The Radio and Television Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stanley Robinson, has made an intensive study as to the effect of television on our children. Mrs. Robinson reported that the reading habits of Newton children had not altered and that just as many books had been read by children this year. The committee felt the answer to a television problem was discriminating parents who would exercise discipline. The Newton Council has been asked to send a representative to the newly formed Listening Council of Boston.

Mr. R. Casper Swaney, chairman of the Building Committee, showed clearly the rapid growth of the city of Newton and the school population. Although the city has completed 10 new schools or additions to schools these do not meet the demands of the increasing population. The new Junior High School on Meadowbrook Road, in Oak Hill, youth.

Newton Council of Church Women

Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, of the Newton Centre Methodist Church, became the sixth president of the Newton Council of Church Women at the 10th anniversary party held at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church on May 12.

The Council, comprised of delegates from and members of Protestant churches throughout Newton, was organized ten years ago in Newton Centre when five women, representing the five Newton Centre churches, met to discuss possibilities of working together toward better understanding of mutual problems and larger contributions to similar projects. Since then the Council has grown until it includes twenty-three churches in the Hanson, Mass., who showed color slides of the camp.

The Order of the Rainbow for Girls held their Installation of Officers at a chicken pie dinner in the Masonic Temple, Newton, May 17. Guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, directors of the Rainbow Camp in Hanson, Mass., who showed color slides of the camp.

The installing suite, included Diane Lord and Grace Quilty of the Newton Assembly, No. 60. Those appointed for the coming year are the following officers:

Worthy Advisor, Joan S. Pickett; Associate Worthy Advisor, Roberta Norley; Charity, Alice Crandall; Hope, Jean Ryder; Faith, Lorraine Seymour; Chaplain, Nance Bell; Drill Leader, Lesley Keene, and Love, Laurie Alcott.

Also appointed were, Religion, Sydney Pratt; Nature, Ann Seyfarth; Immortality, Judith Field; Fidelity, Faye Horsman; Patriotism, Gail Connally; Service, Zoe Davis; Confidential Observer, Barbara Baker; Outer Observer, Elaine Spence, and Musician, Jean Van Buskirk.

Other officers for the coming day, as presented by Mrs. Marshall Stone, program chairman, and by Mrs. Clifford Gunsallus, Christian International Relations chairman. A ten-year history of the Council, written by Mrs. Jaureguy, was also presented. The theme of the day was "Spiritual Security for Today's Family," and in this connection Mrs. George Brookheiser presented a "Self Evaluation Chart." The past presidents, Mrs. Kristian A. Juthe, Mrs. Frank Jennings, Mrs. Randolph Merrill, Mrs. Horace Briggs and Mrs. Jaureguy, and the incoming president, Mrs. Parkhurst, lighted candles on the birthday cake at the close of the meeting.

Other officers for the coming year, as presented by Mrs. Harold Tisdale, chairman of the nominating committee, are: Vice president, Mrs. Hugh S. Robinson of Second Church, Congregational; secretary-treasurer, Miss Ethel Woodbury of Second Church, Congregational; assistant secretary-treasurer, Miss Ethel Perry of Central Congregational; nominating committee, Mrs. Marshall Stone, of West Newton Unitarian, chairman; Mrs. Raymond Dudley of the Auburndale Congregational; Mrs. Thomas Fox of the Newton Methodist Church; Mrs. Herbert Gezork of the Newton Centre Baptist Church, and Mrs. Townsend Cushman of the Newton Centre Trinity Episcopal Church.

Cadet James G. Strathern son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Strathern of 177 Varick Rd., Newton, a Junior at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio, will attend a six-week R.O.T.C. Summer Camp at Fort Sill, Okla., beginning June 21.

The hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Carl Johansson and Mrs. Merrill B. Smith.

Newton Little League Season Opens With A Bang

11-Year-Old Dave Seeley No Hit, No Run Game; Parades, Ceremonies Feature Day

Newton's Little League season opened with a bang last Saturday afternoon as the teams composing the East, North and South Leagues squared away amid parades and ceremonies prior to the calling of play ball. The feature of the day was without doubt, 11-year-old Dave Seeley's pitching of a no-hit, no-run game for his Dodgers against the Indians and wound up with a 4 to 0 whitewash in the North League. In the same league, the Cardinals capitalized on errors to chalk up a 3 to 1 win over the Indians.

The Thompsonville Athletics, in the East League, defeated the Newton Centre Senators, 8 to 5 and in the second game in the same league, the Chestnut Hill Mass. defeated the Oak Hill Cubs 3 to 2.

Over in the South League, the Highland Red Sox won 4 to 1 over the Waban Braves and the Upper Falls Tigers clawed the Lower Falls Giants, 9 to 1.

The Newton North Little League inaugurated its baseball season last Saturday with all the pomp and ceremony of a big league opening day. The parade, which preceded the doubleheader program, started at the High School and traveled over Walnut street through Newtonville square to the Little League diamond at Albemarle Playground.

One of the most interested participants was C. Evan Johnson, head of the Newton Recreation Department. Accompanying Mr. Johnson were Newton Little League Commissioner James E. Murphy, Chief of Police Philip Purcell, Fire Chief John Corcoran and Newton North Little League President T. Frank Copp.

Brief pre-game ceremonies were held while the Little Leaguers lined the first and third base lines raring to go. Mr. Johnson then win the first ball and the season was underway.

Dave Seeley who led his Dodgers teammates to a 4-0 win over the Yankees. Spectators were amazed at the speed and control displayed by the 81 pound, 11-year-old chucker. Pitching no-hit ball is not new to Seeley. He turned in the same masterful performance on two occasions, last year, while pitching for the Waltham Little League. Seeley attributes his unusual ability to the extensive training he has undergone during the past four years and the patient coaching of older brothers.

In the second game the Cardinals gave the Indians a lesson to the tune of 3 to 1. The Cards cracked the scoreless tie in the fifth inning and racked up two more in the sixth while the Indians did well to save a shutout by scoring one.

The North League will be playing every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night at the Little League diamond at Albemarle Field for the next nine weeks. All games are scheduled to start at 6:15 p.m.

Last Saturday marked the opening of the first game of the Newton East Little League baseball season with all the pomp and dignity of big league baseball.

The four squads of the East League met at the Weeks Junior High Playground under the supervision of program director George Cleary. Pictures of all the boys were taken prior to parade formation. At 12:30 the procession started behind a girl scout color guard accompanied by the stirring strains of "Our Director". The 60 boys comprising the major leagues, dressed in the snappy authentic uniforms of the Athletics, Cubs, Phillies and Senators, marched briskly behind the managing personnel of the East Little League. Following each major league team made its minor league group attired in regulation caps and inscribed T shirts, proudly displaying the team banner. The parade continued down Centre street, through Newton Centre to the strains of "Take Me Out to the Ball Game", then to Homer street and the Newton Centre Playground where the boys were greeted by the cheers of an enthusiastic audience.

The four squads formed a large U on the base lines of the perfectly proportioned little league field. Master of ceremonies Cleo Jaitlet introduced the following dignitaries who each praised the work and purposes of little league: Recreation Commissioner C. Evans Johnson, Police Chief Purcell, Commissioner of Little League in Newton Jim Murphy, League Doctor Arthur J. Gorney, Minor League Commissioner Clark Fisher, and the President of the East Little League of Newton Jason Silverman.

C. Evans Johnson threw out the first ball which was then presented to Jason Silverman as a memento of his untiring efforts on behalf of the East League. The ceremonies were concluded with the raising of the flag and the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner".

The official season opened with a six inning contest between the Thompsonville A's and the Newton Centre Senators. The fans were treated to a tight one to one duel until the A's exploded in the fifth with a seven run inning. The Senators picked up three runs in their half of the fifth and one more in the sixth, to make the final score Thompsonville A's 8 and Newton Centre Senators 5.

The second game of the afternoon was a real thriller. Announces Two Cases Pending Against Alcoholic Beverages Commission to Be Abandoned

Is Result of Recent Court Decision

Attorney Paul S. Rich in Statement Gives Reason For Action Taken

As a result of the decision of the Court in the suit of Powers et al. vs. Alcoholic Beverages Commission, together with the testimony of chairman Edward L. Baker of the ABC and the written pleadings filed by the attorney General's office in its behalf, there will be no appeal made by the plaintiff property owners. The basis for this decision not to appeal the matter to the Supreme Judicial Court is, according to Attorney Paul S. Rich, due to the following:

(1) Chairman Edward L. Baker of the ABC testified in court that the application of Garden City Mart, Inc. at 245 Washington street, Newton Corner, the plaintiffs agree to take the admission of the ABC at face value.

The Newton License Board, it is expected, will receive applications for the available 1952 license, and after hearings, award the license to the successful applicant. It is hoped that the Newton License Board will shortly make known dates within which it will accept applications for this license.

The appeal of Kenneth J. Merrill, Jr. and Joseph J. Hickey, from the decision of the Court in Merrill et al. vs. Baker et al., is likewise being withdrawn by Mr. Rich, their attorney.

other licensing authority; that said license cannot now be issued by the respondents or any other licensing authority; that the questions involved originally have become moot.

(3) Mr. Justice O'Brien stated in the Court's Findings of Material Facts, as follows: "Although it could be found that the issues in this case have become moot, the Court feels that the suit is so important to the Newton License Board and the Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission that a decision on the merits will prove more satisfactory than a ruling that the issues have been settled by the passing of time."

Inasmuch as the only purpose of the suit has been to prevent the granting of an all-alcoholic package store license to Garden City Mart, Inc., at 245 Washington street, Newton Corner, the plaintiffs agree to take the admission of the ABC at face value.

The Newton License Board, it is expected, will receive applications for the available 1952 license, and after hearings, award the license to the successful applicant. It is hoped that the Newton License Board will shortly make known dates within which it will accept applications for this license.

The appeal of Kenneth J. Merrill, Jr. and Joseph J. Hickey, from the decision of the Court in Merrill et al. vs. Baker et al., is likewise being withdrawn by Mr. Rich, their attorney.

Wilderness Patrols Vie for Honors at Camp Camporee

The woods at Nobscoot Reservation were filled with Scouts the past weekend with Boy Scouts and Explorers demonstrating their prowess in wilderness camping at the annual Norumbega Council Spring Camporee.

It was the boys' own show, and the biggest Camporee ever held. Competing in it were 407 Scouts from Newton, Wellesley and Weston, divided into 78 Patrols and Explorer Crews of four or more boys each. They were judged on the excellence of their foresight in constructing and operating a wilderness camp, with the more experienced Explorer Scouts competing separately from Boy Scouts Patrols.

The idea of the Camporee is to test the ability of the Scouts to take care of themselves, to do all of the things necessary for safe outdoor living. This involves the use of skills that the Scouts have learned and practised all year long, only at those times when they had their Scoutmaster or some experienced adult to guide them. The Camporee is the final exam: the pupils become the practitioners, the teachers become the judges.

Another feature of the Camporee was the "tap-out" ceremony conducted by the Order of the Arrow is an honorary society of Scouts dedicated to service, and each year the Scouts may elect to membership qualified members of their Troop or Explorer Post. A Scout didn't know he had been elected to membership until he was "taped-out", or pushed, at this ceremony by an Order of the Arrow Scout dressed in Indian garb. This year there were a record number of 28 boys taken into the society, including these Newton Scouts: James Mitchell of Troop 22; Zoltan Voross of Explorer Post 11; Jack Farrington of Explorer Post 7; Robert Everett of Troop 24; James Dangel of Troop 7C; Edson deCastro of Troop 7; Richard Marquis of Troop 100; Thomas Gaffney of Troop 21; Mark Peterson of Troop 19; Charles Cobb of Explorer Post 19; Fred Amdeman of Troop 25; Matthew Cohen of Explorer Post 17; Paul Montan of Explorer Post 21; Henry Hudson of Troop 27; John Scabia of Troop 11; William Van Note of Explorer Post 4; David Ryer of Troop 4A; Bruce Dow of Troop 9; and Robert Hohman of Troop 4B. They will become full-fledged members of the Order of the Arrow following a work weekend at Nobscoot Reservation.

To provide maximum safety at the Camporee, there were in attendance Drs. Raymond Johnson and Frank Springer, the Red Cross Newton Chapter Ambulance driven by David Blackall, and the Nobscoot Fire Patrol under the direction of Fire Commissioner Alwin E. Hodson, Jr.

On Sunday morning religious services were held for all Scouts. Father Martin J. Dolpin conducted the Catholic Service, Rabbi Albert I. Gordon the Jewish service and Nobscoot Chaplain Larry Huntley the Protestant service.

The Camporee was under the general supervision of John B. Starkweather, Chairman of the Council Camping Committee, Marston Boden and J. Clifford French were Chief Judges, and Thomas Doyle and William Cruckshank were Assistant Chief Judges of the 50-man judging staff. George Shannon and William Lowery were the recorders. The cooking staff for the judges was comprised of Parker Williams and George Thompson, assisted by several Scouts.

All Scouts participating in the Camporee were presented a 1952 patch segment for their uniforms, as evidence of their experience in learning to become better campers and better Scouts. The winning Patrol and Crew will receive their awards at the June Court of Honor.

Enthusiastic Housewives Enjoy Graphic's Cooking School -- Best Ever Held In Newton

Scores of Prizes Awarded at Events Held Monday Afternoon

The Newton Centre Women's Club auditorium was the Mecca for more than 300 enthusiastic Newton housewives Monday afternoon at the cooking school sponsored by THE NEWTON GRAPHIC in cooperation with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. Co-operating with the sponsors was the A&P Super Markets and over a score of Newton merchants. It was proclaimed the finest cooking school ever held in Newton.

From the time the doors opened it, it sure is wonderful." After posing for a picture at the conclusion of the program she had to hurry home to prepare an early supper for her two boys, Brian, 12, and Brendan, 10, who are members of Newton's Little League and had to report to play ball at 6 o'clock. Her other child, a daughter Michaela, 14, was with her mother at the school and shared her delight.

The beautiful dinette set consisting of a Duncan Phyfe table with gray mother-of-pearl plastic top and four sturdy chrome chairs was donated by the Allen Furniture Company of Roslindale, one of Greater Boston's most modern and complete furniture stores. It is located at 2 Robert street in Roslindale.

The prospective Newton merchants who participated in the event by donating valuable and useful merchandise prizes expressed gratification at the success of The Graphic cooking school and made further plans for next year's session.

Assisting Miss Susan Mack as lecturers were Miss Jean Wright and Miss Margaret McPherson.

Summer Session To Be Held at High School

Classes To Be Available For Students Who Wish To Make Up Credits

For the eleventh year a six weeks summer session will be held at Newton High School from June 30 to August 8. Classes will be available for students in grades nine through twelve who wish to make up credits lost during the year to secure a better foundation. Sessions will be held during the morning hours, two hours per subject, five days a week. All regular curriculum subjects will be offered.

Review courses in eighth-grade English and arithmetic will also be given. In addition, there will be courses in stenography and typewriting which are open to adults as well as undergraduates.

A unique feature of this year's summer session will be the Driver Education course with instruction being given in a dual control car.

Newton Pastor Heads Boston Methodist Area

Rev. Dr. H. Daniel Hawver Named To Position At Worcester Conference

The new superintendent of the Boston Methodist District will be the Rev. Dr. H. Daniel Hawver, for nine years pastor of the Newton Centre Methodist Church, it was announced at the 156th annual convention of the New England Methodist Conference at Worcester.

The six-year term of the Rev. Willard Arnold as superintendent of the district expired Sunday at the closing session of the conference. Dr. Hawver's appointment was announced at that time by Bishop John Wesley Lord when he read pastoral assignments for the entire conference.

Dr. Hawver was ordained in 1926 after serving eight years at Newport, N. H., and three years in Haverhill. He served a six year term as district superintendent of the New Hampshire Northern District. He has been at Newton Centre since 1943.

Rev. Arnold, whose six-year term has expired, will take over the new superintendent's pulpit at the Newton church.

Vote Against Pegging Price Of Liquor

Representatives Christian A. Hertler, Jr. (R), Irene K. Thresher (R) and Howard Whitmore, Jr. (R) all of Newton, have supported a proposal which would bar state alcoholic beverages control commission members from pegging the minimum price to be charged for bottled liquor, until the public could have an opportunity to be heard on the fairness of those prices.

The House of Representatives voted 82 to 125 against public hearings on prices suggested by the distillers and wholesalers. The bill as approved would leave it to the state agency to sanction the price schedule.

It was pointed out by Republicans, that the administration has been striving to set up state price control agencies in the state with the promise of keeping prices down, while in this instance the same men are working to keep prices higher.

D.A.V. Holds Installation Of Officers

Robert E. Womboldt Heads Chaplain in William J. Farrell Chapter No. 23

Robert E. Womboldt of 13 Churchill street, Newtonville, was installed as commander of the Chaplain William J. Farrell, Chapter No. 23, Newton Disabled American Veterans Tuesday evening, May 27, at Twin Trees restaurant in Maynard. Walter Morgan, past state commander of the D.A.V., was master of ceremonies and Edward Edmunds acted as chaplain for the occasion.

Mr. Womboldt is the secretary of Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood's Veterans' Advisory Board, chairman and director of the Nonantum boys' club, a Red Feather agency, and was recently appointed member of the governing board of the Newton Community Chest. Also installed were Robert Redding, senior vice commander; Gordon Hawes, junior vice commander; Edward Terrio, judge advocate; Raymond Miller, chaplain, and Mr. Womboldt appointed Louis Antonello to the post of adjutant. Fred Farrington, who has served as treasurer for ten years was re-elected. Music and entertainment was in charge of Benjamin Marchand at Newton Centre since 1943.

Guests included Mrs. Etta Haverty, Mrs. Austin Morgan, Mrs. Rose Castagnino, Mrs. May Gallagher, Mrs. Florence Alfredson who are Gold Star mothers; a State Dept. D.A.V. delegation, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Butler, Newton Lodge of Elks and numerous friends.

—Housing for Aged Will Be Discussed—

Officials and Others to Explore All Possible Steps to Take Here

A meeting of Newton city officials and representatives of private trust funds to explore the possibilities of privately-financed housing for the aged in this city, will be held at the City Hall on June 8 at 10 a.m., it was announced this week by Rep. Irene K. Thresher (R-Newton).

Rep. Thresher is chairman of a sub-committee on problems of the aging in the Special Legislative Recess Commission on Public Welfare Laws. In a recent report, the sub-committee urged greater private initiative in helping to solve the problems of the aging in Massachusetts.

Gifts in Memory of 54 Former Newton Citizens Announced

Gifts in memory of 54 former Newton citizens were made to the Massachusetts Heart Association during the past six months to help in the conquest of heart disease, Charles A. Gates, executive director said today.

Those honored by family, friends and business associates included:

Jacob Henry Abbihl, Morris Altman, Max Andelman, Ida Aronson, Franklin E. Bancroft, Henry Barone, Edith Franklin Beckwith, Eleanor F. Bell, Asa D. Blakeslee, J. Aurelia Blomquist, Paul Bowley, Miriam Buchine, George Hamilton Burnett, Norman B. Carter, Albert A. Cerf, Helen B. Coleman, Walter H. Coombs, A. DeNapoli, Charles E. Domling, Wilson Case Dorr, Mrs. Arthur Douglas, Myer Ginsburg, Alexander Goldkranz, Henry P. Griffin, Creighton J. Hill, Daniel Hoffman, Isidor Holtz, Chester E. Homer, Howard V. Jones, Isadore Koresky, Jesse A. Leonard, Israel Levine, Joseph A. Levin, Celia Levine, Alfred Loring Lincoln, Marie Logan, Donald F. Lynch, Emily Parker MacDonald, William Magner, Edward N. Marcus, Jean Mitchie, Mrs. Stephen Morse, Adolph Myers, Sadie Pariss, Marion H. Prince, Osilda V. Robinson, Davis Sax, Louis Shapiro, Jacob Silverman, Ethel W. Skinner, Mrs. Frank Solis, Herman Tobias, John D. Wallstrom, and Rose Weinstein.

Mr. Gates stated that an increasing number of individuals and organizations are using this method of "doing something about heart disease" while honoring the memory of loved ones who have died of the disease.

He pointed out that each gift, whether large or small, is acknowledged by the Heart Association to the donor and a card with the donor's name, but never the amount of the gift, is sent to the nearest of kin.

Dr. Dabney Gives Baccalaureate at Andover Newton

Rev. Dr. Vaughn Dabney, dean of Andover Newton Theological Seminary, told a large class of graduates in a baccalaureate sermon Sunday that "In these days of godless Communism, moral laxity and personal frustration, men and women need to find meaning and courage in a fresh vision of God upon His throne."

"The church must be the conscience of the community," Dean Dabney said, "emphasizing principles and not programs."

Also participating were Rev. Dr. Herbert Gezork, president of the seminary; Rev. Dr. Harold W. Tribble, president of Wake Forest College, N. C., former president of the seminary, whose son is a graduate; Rev. Russell H. Bishop, pastor of the First Church, Congregational, Newton Centre.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS on Outdoor Advertising in Newton?

Statements have been made in Newton about Outdoor Advertising at Newton Corner that call for this explanation of our position so that the public may judge the facts

The application to the Outdoor Advertising Authority for a permit to place advertising in the completely business section of Newton corner has caused surprising reaction.

Widespread publicity seeking to evoke a wave of protest, urging civic and other groups to object to this routine transaction of business is difficult to understand.

Outdoor advertising in Massachusetts is strictly regulated. In the past three decades of control, advertising has been subject to increasing restriction, and today outdoor advertising is operated only in business areas. In no other section of the United States is there so stringent a regulatory system.

The basic policy behind this regulation is to protect the rural, scenic values of the Commonwealth from intrusion by advertisers who might be inclined to disregard such considerations were there not some method of control.

John Donnelly & Sons have always abided by the letter and spirit of existing regulations in the conduct of its business.

The application for advertising in the business area of Newton Corner is entirely consistent with this policy. Here, there are many commercial activities with which the presence of advertising is in harmony.

Advertising is the stimulus of trade. It is essential to our system of competitive free enterprise. Outdoor advertising, serving the interests of many national, sectional, and local businesses, is a vital link in this highly developed and economically-efficient method of communication.

To penalize and hobble outdoor advertising is to break down the effectiveness of advertising generally and disrupt the important sales and promotional efforts of the countless industries and businesses that rely on this medium.

Nor is this all. There are many national and local social and public-spirited organizations who count heavily on the freely-given service of outdoor advertising to place before the public their respective appeals. To name a few, there are Community Fund, Red Cross, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, American Cancer Society, Heart Fund, Cerebral Palsy, Salvation Army, and YMCA. Last year alone to such causes, $1,888,588 worth of advertising was contributed by outdoor advertising companies.

In addition, there are a vast number of other community activities aided by outdoor advertising who are otherwise unable to afford the advertising and publicity required to advance their work for civic betterment. This policy of advertising cooperation in public interest is consistent with support given by other advertising media—newspapers, magazines, radio, and television.

The time has come to face facts.

Emotional appeals divorced from reason, protests without substantial basis, are neither fair-minded nor just.

John Donnelly & Sons, with the experience of over one hundred years in advertising, is confident that its position in this matter is sound. We simply ask for unprejudiced consideration.

A clear look at the facts as they exist shows that the presence of advertising at Newton Corner, where traffic meets trade, is entirely proper and appropriate.

Let Us Remember

The heroes who died to free America and keep her free live on in our memory and our hearts.

Visualizing the embattled farmers who faced the enemy at Lexington in 1775, we feel their tension as the first shots rang out on the village green, and share their avenging anger as they chased the redcoats back toward Boston.

The bitterness of Bull Run, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg and Atlanta, fade into the past as the great grandchildren of those heroes play "war" in the blue and gray forage caps they buy in the corner store. The "Boys of '98"—tropical khaki and broad-brimmed hats—the survivors are aging, but the boys of World Wars I and II are almost as vivid in our memories as the veterans who have survived Korea.

America's crises have always found men ready to give their lives for freedom. Remembering their sacrifice, let us dedicate ourselves to safeguarding the freedom they saved.

GOP State Assembly to Name Candidates...
Ike's Supporters Await His Homecoming...

Four weeks from next Saturday, Republican delegates from all sections of Massachusetts will gather in Worcester for a G.O.P. State Assembly, at which a State-wide slate of candidates will be endorsed for the September primary and the November election.

It will be a strictly informal and unofficial convention, but an unwritten agreement appears to be in force that any office-seeker who refuses to abide by the convention's decisions will be just about reading himself out of the Republican party.

The G.O.P. leaders aren't quite as blunt as that, but that's what their statements add up to after the polite verbiage is stripped away, and there isn't much doubt that they would try to blackmail any contender for State-wide office who was passed over by the so-called Assembly and then sought a nomination in the September primary.

This is an attempt to select a strong and well-balanced Republican ticket and to avoid another costly primary campaign such as drained off many thousands of G.O.P. dollars in 1952, leaving the party treasury almost bare for the subsequent election.

Former State Auditor Russell A. Wood, who was able to win a party endorsement two years ago over the opposition of party leaders, will defy them again and seek some nomination. He has proved himself a pretty potent vote-getter, but this time he's likely to find support pretty well organized behind the convention-endorsed slate.

Top Republican leaders, who insist that they will give the convention delegates a free hand in making their choices, have been very guarded in expressing any preferences beyond asserting that their objective is the strongest slate the G.O.P. can put together. Sentiment among Republican legislators and G.O.P. office-holders, however, indicates that there is little doubt as to the outcome of the contests for places at the head of the ticket and that a few contenders for lesser offices have support which makes them stand out.

This is how the G.O.P. ticket may ultimately shape up:

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., for U. S. Senator; Christian A. Herter for Governor; State Senator Sumner W. Whittier of Everett for Lieutenant Governor; Mrs. Beatrice Hancock Mullany of Fall River for Secretary of State; David J. Mintz of Newton or John Volpe for State Auditor; Frederick Ayer, Jr., George Fingold or District Attorney George Thompson for Attorney General, and Roy C. Papalia of Watertown for State Treasurer.

From a racial standpoint this may well be the most balanced State ticket the Republican party ever has nominated in Massachusetts. It probably will contain at least one candidate of Italian descent and one of Jewish faith.

The liveliest fight undoubtedly will be waged for the G.O.P. nomination for Attorney General. Both Fingold and Ayer have been campaigning for two years. They probably have done so much work that District Attorney Thompson, extremely popular in Middlesex County, may be unable to overtake them.

Rarely in the past has the Republican party had three such able campaigners as Lodge, Herter and Whittier on its State ticket at one time, and while the colorful Whittier isn't as well known as the other two he's likely to provide much of the fireworks when the battling starts next autumn.

General Eisenhower's lieutenants are privately jittery over the prospect of their candidate's pending return from Europe. As they see it, Ike is coming home at a time when the Republican Presidential nomination is almost within his grasp, and they are worried now lest something happen to tip the political applecart.

The political seers anticipate that the outcome of the balloting on Tuesday of next week in South Dakota, which has only about two-thirds as many voters in its entire State as there are in the city of Boston, will have an important psychological effect upon undecided delegates in other States.

South Dakota's is the last Presidential primary to be held in the country. It will come just after the General has arrived back in this country and a day before he delivers his homecoming speech in Abilene, Kansas.

The publicity which will be given Ike's return home and the tumultuous reception which undoubtedly will be accorded him may help his supporters to achieve a victory of impressive proportions. Taft supporters somberly recognize this, and the Ohio Senator has been campaigning at a furious clip through the South Dakota farm lands.

While the experts are assuming that Ike's return to this country will give added momentum to his campaign for the President, there also is the possibility that it could put on the brakes, for no one is certain just what the General's attitude will be.

General Eisenhower has recently reiterated that he will not seek the nomination, that the convention must seek him out, and the implication has been that he will bid for no votes, will ask for no support.

Whatever his attitude may be on that point, he will be expected to declare where he stands on important issues. He is likely to lose some support when he states his position on such measures as the Taft-Hartley law and compulsory FEPC, but he could well be hurt even more if he fails to speak out.

Up to now the General has had what Governor Dever refers to as a "khaki curtain" around him. Newspaper reporters could ask him questions only when he chose to be interrogated, and they were told in advance that he could not be quizzed on certain subjects.

That will be changed when Ike steps down from a plane onto the soil of the United States. Then there will be no protecting guard or military police to keep away inquiring newsmen; or if there is, it might create a public reaction that would hurt the General's candidacy.

There'll be no matter of military security involved in having Eisenhower state his position on domestic issues. This is going to be a situation which will have to be handled with the sound political judgment which the men around a potential President are expected to possess.

Meanwhile, Taft backers are hopeful that they can explode an upset in South Dakota, and while the odds seem heavily against them, nothing is certain in politics. Should Taft carry that State, which appears unlikely, he might well go on to win the nomination.

One factor which some political observers may be overlooking is that Taft is likely to control the credentials committee of the Republican national committee and the national convention which will rule on disputes between Taft and Eisenhower delegations in Texas, Louisiana, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida.

The more than 80 votes in doubt in those States could play a real part in deciding the Taft-Eisenhower fight.

When the commissary at the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus was robbed of 50 cartons of cigarettes and assorted boxes of candy, Warden Ralph W. Alvis sternly announced: "There's a thief in here somewhere." He might almost have said a "thief among thieves."

After trying 51 different remedies, George Patterson of Glasgow, Scotland, finally stopped a 10-day attack of hiccups with a drink of hot mustard and cold water.

Charged by Cincinnati police with stealing three white-wall tires, Charles Atkins, 22, explained to police: "I found one and I needed three more to match it."

St. Paul, Minn., has some strong-armed thieves. They carried away 450 two-foot-square concrete sidewalk blocks weighing a total of 16 tons.

The Better Business Bureau in Fort Wayne, Ind., received a call from a woman who wanted to know the name of a shyster lawyer. "I figure it will take a crooked one to win this case," said she.

Accused of forging his own name to a death certificate, Private Anthony Rose explained when he was arrested in Kings Lynn, England, that he didn't like life in the Army.

Thomas Joseph O'Shea was freed on a charge of insulting a police officer in Melbourne, Australia, after he explained to the court that it was a cough that caused him to stick out his tongue and not a passing officer.

A reporter named Bruce Hilton, trying to prove a point for a story, stood on an Indianapolis street with dark glasses, a guitar, a tin cup and a sign announcing: "I am not blind, deaf, dumb or crippled, and I do not want any money." In 40 minutes he collected 29 cents.

When Santa Fe, N. Mex., election officials notified him that the reason his name had been dropped from the voting list was because he was dead, Jose Ramon Garcia wrote back: "If I'm dead, why is my boss paying me for working?" His point is well taken.

OUR NEW ENGLAND
Bankers Don't Like Tax
Free Southern Bonds;
Missing Link in Air Merger

By JOHN H. CRIDER

The South has been running into real difficulties in carrying forward its schemes for luring northern industries, time and justice are catching up.

One of the most formidable hitches is the opposition of the Investment Bankers' Association of America to the sale of the type of tax-free bonds which are employed by the Southern communities in financing their favors to the Yankees. The underwriters just won't sell the bonds for them.

So desperate has this situation become that only last week a high Mississippi official, banging his head against a stone wall trying to get some New York bankers to sell municipal bonds to aid new industry, that he made rather dazzling offers through intermediaries to at least one New York public relations firm which had very good Wall Street connections. He was trying to buy the influence that would find him a willing banker. The firm of my personal knowledge which rejected this offer did so on the simple basis that the operation was just plain unsavory.

Bankers Unwilling

When Governor Hugh White of Mississippi was in Chicago recently, trying out the bankers there, he told a newspaper correspondent with an air of defiance:

"If they don't (change their position), Mississippi will prepare to take care of its own bonds."

But later in New York, still finding no willing bankers, he kept trying so hard that there was certainly no evidence he would return to Mississippi with any glee to let his state "prepare to take care of its own bonds."

It was Mississippi, back in the mid-Thirties, which started this whole Southern movement with the slogan, "Balance Agriculture With Industry." Curiously, it was somewhat the same idea of balance between agriculture and industry in New England which motivated the business leaders of this region many years ago to start the Eastern States Exposition at West Springfield, Mass. But that was merely to foster better agriculture and livestock production, not to steal industries from other areas.

Under the Mississippi law, municipalities can sell municipal bonds to raise the funds for building the plants, which they want to incoming industries.

55 Million Unsold

However, although some $63 million of such bonds have been approved by Mississippi voters, only about $8 million have been sold to date. Paradoxically, as things turned out, one of the biggest bond issues thus far sold—$4,750,000 for a broadband carillon mill under construction for Alexander Smith, Inc., of Yonkers, N. Y., at Greenville, Miss.—was handled by the grand duke of Wall Street houses, J. P. Morgan & Co.

Asked about this, D. B. McElroy, head of the Morgan firm's municipal bond department, said:

If the proposals seem complicated enough the New England interest in the case may be more so. Northeast takes the position that any one of the combines it has in mind would benefit New England by providing one carrier (the trade's term for a single ticket although not necessarily a single plane) connections with nearly a score more cities.

The New England Council is ready to go along with Northeast and plans to send someone to the Washington hearings to support the merger proposals. The state of Rhode Island on the other hand is opposing the mergers through its assistant state administrator of aeronautics, Robert H. Howard (Rhode Island merely wants to assure the continuance of at least the present frequency of flights between Providence and New York and Boston—J.H.C.)

Howard maintains the mergers might hurt New England more than help it. His argument is that not many people fly between New England and the southern cities that would be connected by the new ccesspool and put the finishing touches on their 6 room ranch style home. He fell off the roof while working but went right back to finishing the house.

"Work is good for you" he says with a trace of Irish brogue. Both he and his wife, Anne, the former Anne C. McCaffrey, came from Ireland. They have been married 14 years. Their new home will be ideal for their children James 12, John 10, Thomas 8, Kevin 5, and Mureen 2½.

The drivers found their buses in good condition upon their return to duty. In a few days time, the schedules, traffic, questions of their passengers, and their driving muscles all settled down to familiar routine.

No man likes to be away from his work, but after checking the activities of the men while home and finding they've had a taste of washing dishes, gardening, painting, home "clean-up" and time with their families, we pack up our gear and head for home with an old adage ringing in our ears, "there's some good in every bad."

SPOTLIGHT ON THE NEWTONS

By RALPH and TUNNI COOLIDGE

Have you ever thought of what you would do with 7 weeks vacation suddenly dumped onto your lap? After the extended "vacation" endured by the employees of the Middlesex St. Railway Company, the management, and we the public, many folks wondered how the drivers fared and what they did.

Now that we may again throw on our coats at the last moment, breathlessly run to the end of the street and swing aboard the big red bus, let's delve into the private life of the driver, and how he spent his "vacation." Want to come along?

We are riding in a bus along Washington St. in Newton. Jim Finnerty in the driver's seat, gives us directions and we catch the next bus at Central. We arrive at the car barn at midnight in order to catch the drivers as they check in.

We meet the "voice." If you've ever called to ask directions or question a schedule, the person who answered was probably the "Receiver," John Cullen, of 9 Henshaw St., West Newton. John is wearing a blue jacket which makes his eyes seem very blue. Although his hair is gray, his tall slim figure lends him an air of youth.

The duties of the receiver are varied. John gives out tokens and school tickets, tabs time sheets, accident reports and is "on duty" for emergencies.

He has the same hesitant attitude we are to meet in interviewing other employees and you realize they think we are reporters checking on the recent strike. W explain our mission.

"It was monotonous at home," he tells us; "after you've been 40 years on a job as I have, you feel like a fish out of water away from it." His wife, Francis, did find his helpful about the house, however, and we note John has some tan as evidence of working in his garden.

Frank Devereaux parks his bus in the garage and enters the office. He took some friendly ribbing about his "vacation" from his passengers on his return to duty and was kept busy answering their questions. "It took me a few days to get my muscles back in trim, but the biggest headache was the usual one, the traffic," he tells us.

Frank did some painting about his home at 21 Forest St., Watertown, when off duty. He also played basketball with his son James, 20, now a student at Bryant Stratton and former manager of the basketball team at St. Patrick's High in Watertown. Another driver, Bill Perry, of Curtis St., Waltham, tells us he studied his dentistry lessons while home. He is a student at the Boston Dental School. Bill has been married 12 years and found he had a chance to get re-acquainted with his family which included his wife Mary, a son Ronald, 9, and daughter, Patricia, 11.

Bill has been with the company 10 years. Upon return to duty he found the general attitude of his passengers was, "glad to see you back."

It's getting late but we wait for one more driver to arrive. The headlights of a bus shine into the yard. In a few moments the big frame of James J. Finney can be seen walking through the garage.

Jim now lives at 46 Elson Rd., Waltham, but will soon be moving into his new home in Lincoln. He made good use of his time off. He and his wife dug their ccesspool and put the finishing touches on their 6 room ranch style home. He fell off the roof while working but went right back to finishing the house.

"Work is good for you" he says with a trace of Irish brogue. Both he and his wife, Anne, the former Anne C. McCaffrey, came from Ireland. They have been married 14 years. Their new home will be ideal for their children James 12, John 10, Thomas 8, Kevin 5, and Mureen 2½.

Leaves For Banking Convention In Texas

Ulmon S. Jones of 37 Ware road, Newton, will be one of fourteen delegates to the fifteenth annual National Convention of the American Institute of Banking, which will be held in Houston, Texas, June 2-7. The delegates will leave by special train from South Station at 12 noon, May 29.

Jones is Vice President of the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, and chief consul of the Boston Chapter of A.I.B.

Spring Conference Planned By Newton Council of P.T.A.'s

Realizing the important role a P.T.A. plays in acquainting the parents with the problems of a rapidly expanding school system, the Newton Council has planned a Spring Conference to be held June 10, at the Peirce School, 170 Temple street West Newton.

At 2:15 there will be a brief welcome by Horace U. Ransom, Jr., the president of the Newton Council, Mr. Harold B. Gores, superintendent of the Newton Schools, and Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, executive-secretary of the Newton Council or P.T.A.'s.

All principals of the 23 schools will participate in the discussion groups which will follow as well as all outgoing and newly elected officers of the 23 local P.T.A.'s.

In general, the topics to be discussed are: Purposes and Aims of the P.T.A., Methods of Cooperation and Co-ordination of School, Home, Parents, Teachers, and Children, Duties of Each Officer, Parliamentary Procedure, and Public Relations.

The leader of the Principals and Assistant Principals will be Prof. William C. Greene, the Presidents and Vice-Presidents, Mr. Horace U. Ransom, Treasurers, Mr. Haskell Freedman, and Secretaries, Mrs. Laurence J. Oncley. Following the discussion groups, all members will meet in the Auditorium to hear the results of the discussions to be followed by a question and answer period.

The Council is extremely for tunate in being able to present as the guest speaker Dr. Donald D. Durrell, professor of education at Boston University. Dr. Durrell will visit the various groups during the afternoon and will be guest speaker of the evening. Dinner will be served at the school.

There will be displays to show the many activities of the Council, and graphic illustrations of its accomplishments. Exhibits of publications which have been joint efforts of parents and teachers, and school papers which have been published by pupils under teacher guidance will be shown.

Sacred Heart Church is Scene of McCarthy-Mansfield Nuptials

The Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre on May 17 was the scene of the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCarthy of 16 Manemet road, Newton Centre and Mr. Philip Joyce Mansfield of 24 Fenn road, Newton Centre, son of Mr. John L. Mansfield and the late Bertha Joyce Mansfield.

The Rev. George F. Sullivan officiated at the double ring ceremony. The father of the bride gave his daughter in marriage.

Mr. Robert E. Pearson of Newton Centre, cousin of the groom, was Best Man. Ushers were: Mr. John E. Smith, Jr. of Pawtucket, R. I.; Mr. Donald E. Terrio of Norwood; Mr. William H. Low of Islington; and Mr. William F. Crimmins of Spencer, Mass.

The bride is a graduate of Regis College, class of 1951. The groom graduated from Boston College in 1951, after serving two years in the U. S. Navy, during World War II.

Mr. Hohannesian Enters Painting In Art Festival

Garabed Der Hohannesian of 18 Russell street, was one of the first Newton artists to enter the Boston Art Festival competition. The Festival will be held on the Public Garden on June 12 through 15.

Mr. Der Hohannesian has submitted an oil painting entitled, "Flowering Lily Stems."

All amateur artists of northern New England have been invited to participate in the Festival. All entries will be judged by a jury of nationally known art critics. Cash prizes will be awarded for the most outstanding entries of painting and sculpture.

This Art Festival, the first ever held in Boston, will be one of the greatest outdoor art exhibits ever held in the United States.

The purpose of the Festival is to dramatize Boston's dynamic leadership in the Arts.

The City of Boston and civic and cultural leaders of the Greater Boston area are sponsors of this event. Nelson W. Aldrich is the General Chairman.

Miss Bove Bride Of Mr. A. D'Amico

Miss Mildred Bove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bove of 310 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, became the bride of Mr. Anthony D'Amico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicolo D'Amico of 92 Putnam street, Watertown, May 11 at the Church of Our Lady, Help of Christians, Newton. The bride was given in marriage by her father, The Rev. Francis X. Bransfield officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white nylon lace and tulle, which was fashioned with a Peter Pan stand-up collar and scalloped apron. Her headpiece was a fingertip veil caught to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis with an orchid center.

Mrs. Ann Gallo was the sister's Matron of Honor. She was gowned in orchid lace over nylon tulle and wore a headpiece of orchid plume. A cascade of flowers with rainbow streamers made up her bouquet.

Best Man was Earl Derick and Frank D'Amico, brother of the bridegroom was usher with Arthur Arakelian. Organist was Miss Florence Herlihy.

Assisting at the wedding reception which was held at the Hennell Club in Newton, were the mothers of the wedding couple. Mrs. Bove chose for her daughter's wedding, a coral dinner gown with aqua beading at neckline, with aqua accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose dusty rose with blue accessories. They both wore corsages of white orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School, class of 1947. Her groom graduated in 1946 from Watertown High School and is a Navy veteran. After a wedding trip to New York City, the couple will make their home at 82 Norwood avenue, Newtonville.

Paul Shinnick, brother of the groom, was Best Man. Philip and Edward York served as ushers.

The mothers of the couple were gowned in aqua and wore corsages of sweetpeas. An aqua hat was worn by Mrs. McDonald and a pink hat was the choice of Mrs. Shinnick.

The wedding couple went to New York on their wedding trip and are making their home at Jackson street, Waltham.

Miss Rose Watson Becomes Bride Of Mr. Towne At Double Ring Ceremony

At a double ring ceremony at the First Unitarian Society in Newton, May 17, Miss Rose Lenore Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Watson of 108 Hunnewell avenue, Newton, was married to Mr. Robert R. Towne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Towne, Sr. of 851 Watertown street, West Newton. The Rev. John Ogden Fisher performed the rites before a setting of gladiolas, carnations, ferns and palms, which decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a powder blue, nylon ballerina length gown. Her headpiece was a shoulder length veil and she carried a spray of blue flowers with an orchid center.

Mrs. Christian G. Roth of Hertford, Penn., was chosen as Matron of Honor. Her gown was of light yellow, a nylon ballerina length gown. She carried roses with ferns. Flower Girl was Miss Patricia Roth, who wore light pink for her gown and carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Mrs. Watson wore for her daughter's wedding, a pink street-length dress, a picture hat of pink and orchid corsage. A blue street-length dress with an orchid corsage was the choice of the bridegroom's mother.

Best Man was Mr. Leverett Brimblecom of Newton Centre. Ushers were Mr. William Ladd, S. Hinghen, Mr. Willard Woodruff of Newton, Mr. John Leamonth of Brookline and Mr. Alan Johnson of Newton.

A reception was held for the wedding couple at the Hampden Court Hotel in Brookline. When the bride and groom return from their wedding trip, they will reside at 142 Marlborough street, Boston.

First Unitarian Society in Newton Forms Council

Formation of a Parish Council, comprising heads of church organizations and committees, was voted by the board of trustees of the First Unitarian Society in Newton at its first meeting following the annual parish meeting. A building plans committee, building fund committee, organ fund committee and by-laws committee were also named, in addition to established committees.

Joseph C. Skinner, reelected by the parish to the board of trustees for another three-year term expiring in 1955, was also re-named chairman of the trustees for the ensuing year.

The trustees voted to set up a Parish Council to work under the direction of the minister, Rev. John Ogden Fisher, in correlating the activities of the parish. Membership in the council will include all chairmen of the regular committees, as submitted to the trustees by L. Fabian Bachrach, Jr., chairman of the committee on committees, and the heads of the Alliance, Laymen's League, Couples' Club and Jaycees League.

Henry Whitmore, Jr. is chairman of the building plans committee, which includes Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach, Sr., John F. Carroll, Mrs. Leonard A. Monzart, A. Bela Sziklas, Robert A. Whidden and Edward W. Whorf.

The building fund committee comprises Edward W. Whorf and Willard B. Weissblatt, co-treasurers; L. Fabian Bachrach, Sr., Robert H. Cobb, Dr. Lowell V. Coulter, Harold J. Davidson, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Maynard Hutchison, Warren G. Hill, Mrs. Dana Johnston, Rev. Ernest W. Kuebler, Robert H. Loomis, Henry W. Merrill, Daniel Needham, Frank L. Richardson, Joseph C. Skinner, John F. Taplin, Thomas A. West, Dr. Hans Waine and Edward Y. Walker.

Mrs. Woods Coty has been named chairman of the organ fund committee. Organ repairs totaling $1600 have been authorized to be completed this summer. Serving on this special committee will be Thomas A. West, chairman, music committee; Mrs. Louis Fabian Bachrach, Sr., Mrs. John O. Fisher, Miss Dorothy Kellogg, and Miss Lillie-Owen Smith.

Rev. Ernest W. Kuebler is the chairman of the by-laws committee, of which Dr. David N. Hume and Willard B. Weissblatt are members.

According to a report of progress by Joseph C. Skinner, chairman of the board of trustees, to be published in the June calendar, the building fund of the West Newton Unitarian Church is off to a good start. "With pledges in from about ten percent of the members and several from the community at large, the total subscribed thus far is slightly over the $8,700 mark. Many others have indicated to various members of the committee that they intend to subscribe, but the treasurers are reporting only the pledges or contributions actually in hand," Mr. Skinner says.

"The members of the building fund committee are equipped with pledge slips and will be calling on church members in due course. Time is of the essence, as the building plans committee expects to make its final report to the trustees by the middle of June. The trustees are hoping that the fund will go 'over the top' so that no permanent mortgage will be necessary. The success of the project depends to a great extent, therefore, on funds actually collected in the calendar year 1952. The borrowing capacity of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, up to the limit set by the special parish meeting, will be reserved by and large to finance such pledges as are spread over a two or three-year period," Mr. Skinner explained.

Mrs. Edward Green Heads Newell Club

Mrs. Edward A. Green of Waban was elected president of the Newell Club at the annual meeting and luncheon held at the Wellesley Country Club May 22. Other officers are: Vice President, Mrs. Durl F. Jones; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Henry R. Condon; Treasurer, Mrs. Chester F. Smith; Program Chairman, Miss Barbara Estabrook and Mrs. Henry C. Jones, Jr.; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. George W. Wyman; Chairman of Ways and Means, Mrs. Leonard H. Abbot; Nominating Committee Chairman, Mrs. Nelson R. Scott.

Mrs. Paul T. Weeks, who continues as Recording Secretary for another year, read a comprehensive report of the Club's activities and accomplishments during the past year, stressing the continued interest and financial help given to the New England Home for Crippled Children.

Two and a half million pounds of wearable clothing have been set as the national goal. Last year in the Tenth National Children's Clothing Crusade, nearly three million pupils collected a total 1,636,993 pounds of clothing, approximately four million garments.

"We cannot stress too much the desperate need for clothing that exists among children in this country and overseas," Superintendent Gores said. "I am sure the citizens of Newton will want to lend a helping hand. Bundle Day provides a practical and effective means of clothing collection, and at the same time, teaches youth in our schools to share with the less fortunate. Participation in the National Children's Clothing Crusade will help foster a sense of brotherhood and lay a foundation for international good-will."

Clothing collected by the Federation is used to aid needy children and families in Korea, in war-depleted countries of Europe and the Middle East, and in disadvantaged rural areas of the United States.

Newtonville Wife Wins Award From School for Home-Making

MRS. BETTY PRATT HEINTZELMAN of Newtonville, winner of the Diamond "B" emblem for excellence as a wife and mother, being awarded on its 75th Anniversary celebration this Sunday, by the Mary A. Burnham School of Northampton, is shown with her daughters Christine, 5, and Wendy, 4.

Presentation to Be Made Sun.

Mrs. Malcolm Heintzelman Tends To Flower and Herb Garden As Well

The 28-year-old wife of a high school English teacher, mother of two girls, who bakes her own bread and cooks in the styles of five nations, tends a garden bright with flowers and grows her own kitchen herbs, and has just repainted the whole inside of her nine-room house, was announced today as winner of the Diamond "B" emblem for home-making, awarded on its 75th anniversary by the Mary A. Burnham School for girls here.

She is Mrs. Malcolm Heintzelman, the former Elizabeth Pratt of 359 Cabot street, Newtonville, Mass. She was chosen, Mrs. Mabel Hood Emerson, principal of the school, pointed out, not as absolutely best in her field, but as typical of the good wives and mothers Burnham seeks to prepare for life.

"In honoring Betty," said Mrs. Emerson, "we honor all our girls, and all women, who keep the hearth alight for their husbands and children, and thus help insure steady, sturdy America."

Betty is a medium blonde, tall and willowy, with hazel flecked eyes. She presides over the household in a weathered house in Cabot street with calm ease, but admits a list of tasks which is formidable, including making all clothes except coats for Christine, who was five years old last Christmas, and Wendy who will be four on June 15.

Beginning last Fall, she painted all the rooms, the living room in aqua, the halls in pale grey, the bedrooms in light pink, and the kitchen pale blue.

Much of her time is spent in the kitchen, for she bakes bread twice a week, always with at least one pan of rolls and a loaf or two for neighbors. Her friends praise her pizza pies, and she likes to prepare dishes in Mexican and Chinese style, as well as standard Yankee, often with savory French sauces. She spent her early childhood with a grandmother in France, can speak French fluently, and learned secrets of that country's famous cookery then.

To help her cook, she has devoted a section of the garden to herbs, including, this season, sweet marjoram, French and English thyme, sage, dill, fennel, parsley, three kinds of mint, tarragon, basil, rue, chives—"Of course, chives!" she says, listing the plants—rosemary, and geraniums of four sorts, their different leaves imparting individual flavors to food.

One of her pet recipes is potatoe, shredded with a coarse grater, then sauted crisp by long cooking in a heavy pan over a low heat, and served with sour cream.

Junior College Now Accepting Applications for Fall Courses

Featured as Soloist

At the Strawberry Festival meeting of the Jewish Vocational Aid Society held Tuesday afternoon, at Temple Sinai, Brookline, with Mrs. Dorothy Diamond as hostess, Cynthia Brown of Waban was featured as piano soloist. Her programme included works of Scarlatti, Chopin, Debussy and Rhene-Baton.

A graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, Miss Brown is now studying there for the Master of Music degree. She has delighted audiences many times as soloist at Gardner Museum, before various clubs, and with the Boston Pops Orchestra.

Newton Junior College is now ready to accept applications for its new program of evening courses for adults. The classes are open to all men and women who wish to study at the college level, according to the Director, James D. Laurits.

"We have red tape down to a minimum," he stated, "so that the only admission requirement is a desire to learn. We wish to see whether the college can better serve its community by meeting adult educational needs. Any course can be offered if about fifteen persons are found who are interested in that particular study or problem. Groups of friends, club members, business groups, unions, associations, etc. should use their community College for whatever training or study they require. The registration fee is low because the College is a non-profit institution using existing facilities."

To offer courses for the benefit and challenge of all members of the community.

To give specialized training needed by persons who desire to win promotions in business, industry, or the professions.

To cooperate with industrial and business organizations, civic and social groups to provide any special training needed by employees, employers, members, sponsors, etc.

To assist professional people to keep abreast of current developments in their particular fields.

To provide evening courses to the degree of Associate in Arts or Associate in Science. The Associate degree is recognized nationally as the symbol of two years of successful college work.

Persons who successfully complete at least four semester hours of work in the college will be given a Certificate of College Studies which will testify to their accomplishment.

The College will open the Adult program in September, with the courses listed below; others will be added according to the demand:

Accounting: First Year; Human Relations in Business and Industry; Investments, Taxes, and Social Security; Management of the Small Office; and Publicity: Beginning Course. Great Modern Novels; Conversational Spanish: Beginning Class; The Great Philosophies of Mankind; and Workshop for Parents: Your Child and Creative Art.

The Biology of Man; Science, Philosophy, and Ethics; and Modern Textiles and Fabrics: the consumer Viewpoint.

Introduction to General Psychology; The Foreign Policy of the United States; and Child Psychology: Beginning Course.

Courses carry regular college credit. A person, if he so desires, can apply these credits toward the degree of Associate in Arts or Associate in Science. The Associate degree is recognized nationally as the symbol of two years of successful college work.

Persons who successfully complete at least four semester hours of work in the college will be given a Certificate of College Studies which will testify to their accomplishment.

The basic pattern for evening courses is one two-hour meeting each week. Two classes, instead of one, will be scheduled during the last week of each semester. One full year's course of twenty-four meetings is worth four semester hours. Other arrangements of time and credits can be made to meet the needs for principal industries in the United States.

Memorial Day

This Memorial Day, when there is unrest and warfare in the world and there exist evil forces who seek to enslave us, we pause to rededicate ourselves to the American tradition: "The Price of Freedom is Eternal Vigilance." In the name of those who fought so valiantly . . . and who battle today to preserve our priceless heritage, let us all again make our solemn vow to carry forth the hope of Peace and happiness with every weapon we possess!
